House Promised for Coolidge

Proved Prosperity Asserted to Have Ended Chances of Democratic Rule

PAUL SMITH'S (N. Y.) Aug. 25. (AP) The Republicans will elect in November a working majority of at least twenty-five in the national House of Representatives, President Coolidge was told today by Representative Wood, Republican, Indiana, chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee.

The present working majority is thirty-five, but Mr. Wood, who came to White Pine Camp from Washington to report on political conditions, declared it could be expected that some seats might be lost in an off year after the heavy sweep of the Presidential election, which carried many Republicans into office from normally Democratic or doubtful districts.

For the most part, however, he added, the Republicans will not lose many seats in either the West or the East. The report was said to have been along the lines of other information in the possession of Mr. Coolidge and he was said to be pleased at the prospects.

NEEDED BY FARMERS

Prosperity is the issue, Mr. Wood said, asking "why change to Democrats, who, in 1914, under the Underwood tariff, brought about soup kitchens in our cities?"

The Democrats have attempted to make the tariff the issue, he added, but the farmers are for protection and to both the farmer and the laboring man, a high tariff is vital. Ninety-six per cent of all materials the farmers use on the farms, he continued, are on the free list, while the raw products of the farms are protected.

Expressing the opinion that there will be no piecemeal revision of the tariff in advance of a general revision, Mr. Wood said there will be no general revision until after the next Presidential election and, if then, it will be a revision upward.

The cry of "corruption" in States where there have been large expenditures in primary contests, Mr. Wood said, will have little general effect in this country. After all, he emphasized, without specifically mentioning any race question, there has been less violation of the law in elections in all the Northern and Western States in the past twenty years than in a single southern State in a single year.

Mr. Wood expressed the opinion that the farm-relief question is working toward a compromise on legislation that will satisfy all the farmers while he believes the prohibition issues will not change the Congressional completion of a single Southern or Western State.

DRY SENTIMENT

The sentiment for prohibition is just as strong as ever, he added,

BANDITS ROB TWO BANKS IN ONE RAID

Enter Town in Autos, Herd Customers Into Vaults and Escape With $10,000

COVINGTON (Okla.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Covington's two banks were held up and robbed simultaneously late today by a band of five or six robbers who drove into town and escaped in two automobiles. The amount of the plunder was estimated by officials at between $9500 and $10,000. The Sheriff of Garfield county and posses of citizens were guarding the roads in all directions tonight in the hope of apprehending the bandits.

In each bank the officials and patrons were forced at the points of guns into the rear of the buildings where they were guarded while the money was being sacked.

In the American State Bank it was reported that there were twenty-four witnesses to the robbery. As soon as a customer entered the front door he was ordered to the rear of the building. Before the bandits left all of their victims were ordered into the vault and the door closed.

In the Covington National Bank, where the loss was believed to be around $5000, the patrons and officials were handled in the same manner.

FAIRBANKS FOR SOVIET FILM PLAN

Star Returns from Russia Advocate of Government as Picture Producer

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, who arrived from Europe today, declared himself an advocate of government ownership of motion-picture films in this country. The remarkable results of government direction of the motion-picture industry in Russia, Mr. Fairbanks said, led him to advocate the plan for the United States.

Since pictures are coming to be regarded as instruments of propaganda, he added, they may well be run under the government, providing the sense of artistry is not sacrificed.

Fairbanks and Mary Pickford arrived among a galaxy of other celebrities aboard the liner Majestic.

"We were shocked to learn of Rudolph Valentino's death," said Fairbanks. "It has saddened our return. We will attend his funeral Monday."

Miss Pickford, commenting on her friend's death at the height of his career, said: "It is better to go before one is through with his public. I could not lose my public—to me that would be living death. Some of us—sooner or later we find it out—live too long."

"I must admit," said Fairbanks, "that I was just a little scared in Russia. They were kind to the last word, but I got an idea from some looks that some of the people put me in the capitalistic class, and Russia's no place to be in if you are in the capitalistic class."

Also returning aboard the Majestic were Constance Talmadge, screen star; Rex Ingram, motion-picture producer, and Morris Gest, theatrical producer, who is to enter the cinema field.

BIG TREES AGAIN IN PERIL

Fire Threatening Sequoia Grove After Breaking Out of Control Following Lull

FRESNO, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—After having been believed safely under control for the past few days, the fire which originated near Badger, Tulare county, two weeks ago, last night crossed the control lines along Black Oak trail and today was sweeping up several ridges toward the Muir Grove of giant redwoods in Sequoia National Park. Col. John R. White, superintendent of the park, personally was directing a force of 150 men which was fighting the fire. Col. White was hopeful of controlling the blaze before it reaches the Muir Grove. Backfiring and construction of new firebreaks are the methods in use.

Sixty men were sent from Courtney mill to the scene of the new outbreak and a number of men who had been working on the fire when it was at its height in the vicinity were returned to duty in the emergency.

The new blaze is a recurrence of the Badger fire, which started on the 12th inst, and which has burned over approximately 110 square miles of forest and brush lands, about 10 per cent of which was in the Sequoia National Forest and Sequoia Park areas.

Chief Ranger Topping said today the situation in the forest is favorable on other fronts, with high humidity and low temperatures and favorable winds playing an impotant part in holding the fire under control.

FIRES IN THREE FORESTS SWEEPING ON

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Hundreds of men today were fighting a ring of widespread fires, most of them out of control, in three national forests in the State, while the United States Forest Service was announcing here that 412,500 acres had been burned over thus far this season, entailing an unusually heavy property loss.

In the Plumas two fires were burning out of control on either side of Buck's ranch, one in the heavy timber near Tollgate and the Edmanton mine, and the other in the brush on Buck's Meadow. A third fire on the east side of Little Last Chance Creek in this forest had burned over 10,000 acres at the last report.

In the Klamath five incendiary fires were reported along McKenny Creek in the Yreka district. These fires had combined into one great blaze, which was burning out of control. In the Tahoe a fire near Granite Creek was sweeping through the brush and timber and there was another great fire in the Texas Hill region northeast of Alta.

The Forest Service here reported 1162 fires this season, thus far, seventy of which were caused by the carlessness of campers, hunters and other forest visitors.

ARMY ACE RESCUES HIMSELF

Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis Crawls to Roadside After Crashing in Pennsylvania Mountains

BELLEFONTE (Pa.) Aug. 25. (AP)—After a harrowing experience in the rough country on the eastern slope of the Alleghenies, Lieut. Cyrus K. Bettis, Army flying ace, is in the Center County Hospital here tonight slowly recovering from serious but not critical injuries received when he hit a mountain side.

Missing for more than forty-three hours and with painful wounds, the stout-hearted army airman virtually rescued himself. His left leg was broken below the knee and both jaws were fractured, but, despite these injuries, he crawled and hopped through the thick forest of Seven Sister mountains until he came to a roadside today and waited for help to come along.

Several times in the heavily wooded country where he was hidden from sight, he saw airplanes overhead searching but they could not see him and he could not attract their attenion.

"I knew if I did not crawl out of there. I never would be found alive," he whispered in the hospital.

Lieut. Bettis was found by two young men workers on the State highway.

Bettis, accompanied by two other airplanes, was on his way from Philadelphia to Selfridge, Mich., on Monday afternoon when all three ran into a thick fog. The other two pilots, Lieuts. John J. Williams and Luther S. Smith, got through the fog safely and finally landed in Michigan.

Bettis was unconscious for an hour and a half after he fell, as near as he could determine from the wrist and pocket watches that he carried. He had no food and quenched his thirst with what little rain he could catch in the palms of his hands last night.

In the hospital tonight, physicians said he will recover if no complications set in.

Harvard Joins With Nation in Eliot Services

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Aug. 25. (AP) Harvard and the nation joined today in solemn services for Dr. Charles W. Eliot, whose 92 years were crowded with service to the intellectual life of both. Appleton Chapel in the Harvard yard was filled with dignitaries of academic and public life while Rev. Dr. George A. Gordon of Boston and Rev. Dr. Francis G. Peabody of Cambridge conducted the services.

All nations, creeds and colors and men of all stations were in the gathering. Predominating were the fellows and members of the board of overseers of the university, faculty members emeritus who were coworkers under the forty-year presidency of Dr. Eliot, and scores of younger professors, now leaders in their fields, but many of whom were his students in college.

HINDU SEER TELLS AIM

New York Greets Cult Leader

Krishnamurti Arrives With Goal of Revolutionizing Nation Spiritually

Theosophist Leader's Protege Will Speak in Chicago and Come on Here

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—A small, swarthy skinned man walked down the gangplank of the steamship Majestic today, confident that his visit in this country will bring about a radical change in the religious life of the nation.

He is Jiddu Krishnamurti, Hindu Theosophist, hailed by his followers as the world medium for the "voice of the Godhead." Although he professes to have heard the voice of the "universal God," the visitor's dress and manners are no different from those of any young Hindu dressed in Occidental garb.

His grey suit, stripped shirt, blue tie and tan shoes are strictly twentieth century in style. He speaks with an Oxford accent. His arrival was a quiet event. He was met at the steamship only by reporters, a press agent, and the head of the American Theosophical Society.

DISCLAIMS MESSIASHIP

Krishnamurti has been called the "new Messiah," but he made it clear today that he makes no pretension to that title. He declined to discuss with reporters any spiritual message he is bringing to this country. Instead he referred them to a small pamphlet which was distributed aboard the steamship. After a lecture in Chicago before members of the Star in the East, of which he is head, he probably will go into retreat on his ranch near Ojai, Cal.

Mrs. Annie Besant, 80-year-old International president of the Theosophical Society, who accompanied Krishnamurti on his voyage, will tell persons in thirty-four cities of the "coming of the new world teacher."

"We do not claim him Messiahship," Mrs. Besant said. "He is the teacher of the world. Since 1909 we have known that he has been selected as the vehicle of the voice of Godhead. I believe that through him we are at the beginning of a new civilization such as has occurred five times in the history of the Aryan race."

Krishnamurti said of himself:

"I am different from other men. I never touch alcohol or meat. I play golf and tennis and I swim. I have studied all the great writers."

The pamphlets distributed by the press agent on behalf of the Theosophist stated that in 1910, when he was a boy, he published a book "At the Feet of the Master," in which he "had written the teachings of his teacher, received during sleep."

DISCUSSES JAZZ

While Krishnamurti would not discuss any spiritual message he is bringing to this country, he did discuss jazz and other features of the modern world. America, he said, is part of a "jazz-mad world."

"This civilization is based on materialism," he asserted. "It is based on an excitement that is not real happiness. As long as one dwells on a spiritual plane he can forget materialism."

Shown a story published in today's New York Herald Tribune stating that efforts had been made to bar him from this country on the ground of moral turpitude, Krishnamurti said:

"It is all untrue. I deny every bit of it. All this was cleared up in the Madras court more than a year ago. This is the work of mischievous mad people."

He explained that he preferred to wear occidental rather than native costume because he "might be dubbed insane," Mrs. Besant remained by his side through the interview.

As to the results he hopes his presence in this country will accomplish, Krishnamurti said: "There should be a new civilization come with my coming."

He will go to Los Angeles before retiring to his California ranch, staying there probably until next November, he said.

On the way across, the theosophist leader dined frequently with Miss Rosalind Williams of Ojai, a member of the Star in East.

"I have enjoyed a great deal of his company," said Miss Williams, who is a blonde. "To know him is to fall in love with him at first sight. His spiritual qualities are marvelous."

Second French Plane Seeking Record Lands

PARIS, Aug. 25. (AP)—One of the airplanes which started yesterday from the Le Bourget Airdrome, near Paris, in an attempt to make new world nonstop records, has been forced to land near Linz, Austria. The plane was piloted by the aviators, Pollen and Van Gaudenberg, and was headed for Bander Abbas, Persia.

The plane piloted by Lieut. Charles and Capt. Wetzer was reported still in the air. It was bound for Karachi, India.

AGED DEAN OF ARTISTS SUCCUMBS

Thomas Moran, Renowned For Canvases, Passes at 90 Years of Age

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Thomas Moran, N. A., generally recognized as the dean of American artists, died at his home here tonight at 90 years of age, after an illness of several months. His daughter, Ruth B. Moran, was at his bedside.

Among many famous canvases from Moran's brush were two that hang in the National Capitol. They were done at the request of Congress. They are the "Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone," and the "Chasm of the Colorado."

Moran was made a member of the National Academy in 1884. Although his home was at East Hampton, L. I., he had spent his winters in Santa Barbara for many years and several years ago took up his permanent residence.

He was born at Bolton, Lancashire, Eng., January 12, 1837, and came to the United States in 1844. After attending the public schools at Philadelphia, he was apprenticed to wood engraving but in a short time his natural ability with the brush urged him to work that not long after made him famous. His familiarity with the Yellowstone country came from an initial trip with the United States Geological Survey in 1871 and after a second trip two years later, Congress became so interested in two of his canvases that both were purchased.

His daughter is the only survivor.

TWO SLAIN IN MEXICAN OUTBREAK

Congressman and Companion Assassinated from Ambush; Guard Chamber

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25. (AP)—Dispatches from Colima say that Federal Congressman Pineda and a companion were assassinated, presumably by political enemies who killed them from ambush and escaped undetected.

Here in the capital, a pistol battle between rival Congressmen was prevented only by the intervention of Federal soldiers who were guarding the Chamber of Deputies.

The newspapers say the belligerent Congressmen were of the same group which recently had a pistol fight on Madero avenue, in the heart of the business section of Mexico City. The rivalry among these Federal Congressmen is so bitter that trouble is expected whenever they meet away from the guards.

AMERICANS IN MEXICO RELEASED

Brothers Detained After Father Vanishes Freed as He Turns Up in Puebla

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25. (AP)—The Howard brothers, Albert and John, who were arrested and put in jail after the disappearance of their father, John F. Howard, have been released. The police have located the father at Puebla, where he went after the death of his second wife a day or two ago.

The police are authority for the statement that their investigation revealed that the brothers had nothing to do with their father's disappearance from Mexico City.

The American Vice-Consul went to police headquarters to make inquiries about the arrest of the Howards, but took no official action in the matter.

John F. Howard again disappeared tonight, according to police headquarters. Police report that he left his Puebla hotel and abandoned the automobile in which he traveled to Mexico City and that his whereabouts is unknown.

GULF COAST RAVAGED

Hurricane Nears New Orleans

Trains Halted on Mississippi Bank as Water Roughens; Communication Out

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Aug. 25. (AP) The local Weather Bureau reported at 9 o'clock tonight that the center line of the tropical hurricane which for the past two days has been raging up through the Gulf of Mexico is in the neighborhood of New Orleans.

The barometer had reached 29.44 at that time and still was falling while the wind had attained a velocity of forty miles an hour with occasional gusts of greater violence.

The fire alarm signal system was put out of commission by the storm and several fires were reported in different sections of the city.

Three passenger trains of the Southern Pacific Railroad were detained at Avondale when railway officials decided wind velocity was too great and the river too rough to attempt to send them across the ferries.

PREPARE FOR STORM

New Orleans and points along the East Lousiana and Mississippi coast battened hatches and double-reefed for the storm.

Hundreds of persons in outlying districts along Lake Pontchartrain and the Gulf Coast sought refuge in New Orleans and sheltered places, while boats throughout the morning and early afternoon journeyed to fishing camps and villages along the coast bearing warnings of the approaching storm. Radio broadcasting stations also were enlisted in the effort to spread news of the coming hurricane.

The patrol wagons of the New Orleans police department were placed at the disposal of persons in outlying districts along Lake Pontchartrain and they quickly took advantage of the offer. Camps along the lake front were deserted as the tide continued to rise, sweeping into the lake in waves from the gulf.

BAROMETER FALLS

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the barometer at Morgan City had fallen to 29.40 and the wind had reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour. Shortly after that time wires to Morgan City were reported down and communications with that point impossible.

Weather Bureau officials expressed the belief that the storm probably would strike the coast in the neighborhood of Morgan City and Burwood.

At Burwood the wind had reached a velocity of fifty miles an hour at 2:30 p.m. and still was rising. The tide also was rising both there and at Morgan City, as well as points along the Mississippi coast, and the barometer continued to drop.

Continuous rains fell along the Mississippi and East Louisiana coasts.

The first fatality attributed to the storm occurred late tonight when a workman at a Ship Island stepped on a charged electric wire which had been blown down. No other casualties have been reported.

The disaster committee of the New Orleans chapter of the American Red Cross was called together and adopted a plan of action to be followed, should the necessity arise.

TEXAS COAST PEOPLE FLEE BEFORE HURRICANE

PORT ARTHUR (Tex.) Aug. 25. (AP) Thousands of coast residents fled inland today in fear of the storm reported approaching from the Gulf.

Practically the entire populations of the villages of High Island and Caplen moved to places further inland to remain until the storm has struck or passed. Hundreds are here tonight from Sabine Pass, nearly all veterans of previous coast storms.

Few of those who came to Port Arthur feared damage to their homes, although several families arrived with household belongings on heavily loaded trucks. Others had taken the precaution, they said, of moving belongings left at home to second floors.

ANGELENOS WILL TESTIFY

Kittrelle Calls Three in San Diego Vice Inquiry to Tell of Deals With Officials

BY ALBERT NATHAN
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 25.—Three Los Angeles witnesses and a number of persons from two northern cities will be called before the grand jury here by Special Assistant Attorney-General Kittrelle, in charge of the grand jury investigation into the affairs and actions of a group of city and county officials.

The Los Angeles witnesses will be connected with the city and county government of San Diego county.

No person outside of San Diego county is under investigation, according to both Mr. Kittrelle and Mrs. Firman, but witnesses will be called to testify here from a number of California cities and from points east. The witnesses to be called from the outside cities, according to information gathered here, probably will be notified to appear early next week.

While more than twenty agents of the Firman Detective Agency were continuing to comb the city here for evidence, Mr. Kittrelle returned to this city from Los Angeles last night. He stated early this morning that he rushed to Los Angeles to obtain an auditor to make a special audit of certain city and county books.

In a public statement issued to newspaper men Mr. Kittrelle declared that he will open an office in the Spreckels Building at once and there install an office force of his own. He also declared that he called upon Superior Judge Marsh this

AMERICAN GUNBOATS TO WATCH OVER NICARAGUA

State Department Asks Dispatch of Navy Ships to Protect Lives of Foreigners in Revolt

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—The Navy was called on today by the State Department to protect American interests in Nicaragua, where another revolution has developed. As a result orders were issued for the dispatch of two American warships to the Nicaraguan ports of Bluefields and Corinto. Selection of the vessels for duty there was left to Rear-Admiral Latimer, in command of the special service squadron in Central American waters.

Decision to send warships to Bluefields and Corinto was reached after the State Department had received additional reports from American diplomatic representatives in Nicaragua as to conditions there. The department did not disclose the substance of these reports, but there are indications that the need for additional protection for American lives and property at both ports and at Managua, the capital, has been emphasized.

Information reaching the department has convinced officials that the late Nicaraguan outbreak is likely to continue for some time. On the other hand, the Nicaraguan legation several days ago declared that the revolutionary movement has been suppressed.

Coincident with the decision of the American government to send warships to Nicaraguan ports, the Minister from that country received a dispatch from President Chamorro charging that the Mexican government is violating international obligations and actively aiding the revolutionists.

The Minister was told that on Monday the Mexican steamer Concon attempted to land arms and men at Corinto. Several members of the landing party were captured, the dispatch added, and they were said to have declared the steamer was in the service of the Mexican government which had furnished forty revolutionists aboard with 1000 rifles, five machine guns, two field pieces and some revolvers.

Admiral Latimer advised the Navy Department late today that he had assigned the gunboat Tulsa to duty at Corinto, which is on the Pacific Ocean. Word also was received that the gunboat Galveston is proceeding through the Panama Canal to Cristobal, this indicating the vessel is bound for Bluefields on the east coast.

Officials here were somewhat at a loss to account for the newspaper advices from Managua telling of an attack by American aviators on a filibustering ship flying the Mexican flag.

The only explanation available here was that they might be private American fliers in the employ of the Nicaraguan government. Although the Navy has ordered warships to Nicaraguan waters to protect American interests, gun-running by Mexicans would not in itself warrant an attack by Navy forces on such vessels.

AMERICAN FLYERS FAIL TO HALT SMUGGLERS

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Aug. 25. (AP) An unsuccessful airplane attack by American flyers was made today on a gun-running vessel flying the Mexican flag.

Arms and men were landed by the vessel eighty miles northwest of Corinto, Nicaragua, chief seaport on the Pacific Ocean.

The government has sent 800 troops to capture the smugglers and the arms.

Maj. Calvin Brooks Carter, chief of the constabulary forces, has been commissioned a colonel in the government army and his three American assistants have been given the rank of major. The government reports a rebel force defeated in a clash at Pino near the Honduras frontier.

PUBLIC DISPLAY OF BODY ENDED

now the wish of Valentino's business associates and friends to have the funeral as simple as possible. According to Mr. Ullman's present plans, when the body is taken to the actor's chapel of St. Malachi's, where Father E. F. Leonard will celebrate a requiem mass at 11 o'clock, a few automobiles and close friends and former associates of the film actor will follow his hearse.

An extra guard of ten detectives was detailed late tonight to prevent possible disturbances between Fascisti and the anti-Fascisti who had visited the parlors several times with protests against allowing the black shirts to remain on guard. Two detectives were assigned to accompany the changing Fascisti guards in their journeys between the Campbell Building and Fascisti headquarters in Forty-fifth street.

The danger of a clash between Fascisti and anti-Fascisti became imminent after the right of the Fascisti to post guards at the head and foot of Valentino's casket was challenged by Pietro Allegra, secretary of the anti-Fascisti Alliance of North America. Allegra sent a telegram of protest to Mr. Ullman and in the telegram asserted that Valentino had opposed the "anti-democratic policies of Mussolini" and had been "outrageously" treated on his last visit to his native land. The telegram was sent from the headquarters of the anti-Fascisti Alliance of North America.

"I'll pay no attention to that," declared Mr. Ullman. "Here's the way it was: I considered the offer of the Fascisti to guard the bier as a gesture from Mussolini. It was almost the official recognition of the Italian government. The anti-Fascisti if they exist at all exist in America. There are not any of them in Italy. And I'm not going to pay any attention to what an American organization does.

"As far as Rudy being treated outrageously in Italy is concerned, that is not true.

"Why, he and Gen. Nobile, the North Pole flyer, were as thick as could be and Nobile is a sort of right hand man to Mussolini.

"There were some demonstrations against Rudy's films in Italy but they were all by a bunch of hoodlums."

DENIAL RECEIVED

Subsequently an Associated Press cable from Rome stated that Mussolini not only had not instructed the local Fascisti to guard the bier of Valentino but he had not given orders for the wreath to be laid on the casket.

A crowd estimated at nearly 10,000 was waiting in line when the funeral parlor doors were thrown open this morning. The police guard, however, augmented to 112 patrolmen, twenty mounted policemen, and a dozen officers were able to handle the parade in orderly fashion.

In the line were men and women, boys and girls and even babies. Chinese, Japanese, Hindus, negroes and practically all European nationalities were represented.

"Step lively, please," came the oft repeated command as girls plying lipstick and powder puff hurried past the film star's casket.

Valentino's first wife, Jean Acker, her mother, Mrs. Margaret Acker, and cousin, Edith Acker, viewed the body a little after 2 o'clock in the afternoon. When Miss Acker and her relatives entered the room the line was halted.

BREAKS INTO TEARS

She circled the coffin and gazed intently at the pale face of her former husband. As she was departing from the room she broke into tears and was taken to a room upstairs to regain her composure.

She was asked whether she and Valentino had intended re-marrying.

"I cannot say whether we would have married again. I did not think it would end like this," she replied.

Asked if she had any preference regarding the place of burial of Valentino, she said:

"I think Rudy would prefer to lie near his father and mother, but he was so young he never thought of death."

She said she will attend the funeral services Monday.

The room where Valentino lay was nearly filled this afternoon with floral tributes. Charles Chaplin sent a wreath with this card:

"To Rudy, whom I loved as an artist and a friend."

Other wreaths bore the cards of June Mathis, scenario writer, who was credited by Valentino with giving him his start when she selected him for a part in "The Four Horsemen;" Irving Berlin and his wife, the former Ellin Mackay, Morris Gest, Norma Talmadge and Joseph M. Schenck and scores of others prominent on stage and screen.

ROME MARKING TIME REGARDING VALENTINO

ROME, Aug. 25. (AP)—No funeral wreath or any other kind of official honor for Rudolph Valentino has been authorized in behalf of the Italian government or Premier Mussolini.

The government, the Associated Press has been officially informed, knows nothing of a "black shirt" guard of honor, said to have been posted at the bier of the dead screen actor, but explains that Fascist organizations abroad have broad powers to act in such matters without need of authorization from Rome.

Officials are unwilling to discuss what honors would be shown the dead actor here until it is learned definitely whether the body will be brought to Italy for burial. It is probable, however, that Valentino's funeral would not be given more than semiofficial recognition.

RETURN TICKET TO BE HONORED FOR BODY

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—If the body of Rudolph Valentino is returned to California from New York for burial it will be taken on a railroad ticket purchased by Valentino when he went east several weeks ago, officials of the Rock Island Railroad here said tonight.

They explained that Valentino bought a round-trip ticket from California to New York and that his is in possession of the return transportation. They said they have received orders to honor this transportation for the body if it is returned to Hollywood.

Pola Negri is on her way east in the hope of returning the body to Hollywood, and Rock Island officials said they had instructions to make her trip as comfortable as possible and to transfer the car in which she is traveling to the New York Central lines on her arrival here Saturday morning, thus avoiding discomfort or delay in changing trains.

BROTHER STARTS ON TRIP TO AMERICA

PARIS, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Alberto Guglielmi, brother of Rudolph Valentino, left here today to sail for America aboard the steamship Homeric. He said he had cabled friends in charge of the late film actor's funeral to postpone the services until his arrival.

Requiem masses may be said prior to his arrival, he declared, but it would violate their family traditions to have the funeral with no relatives present.

"I can't understand Rudolph's sudden death," his brother exclaimed on the point of tears; "he always kept himself in perfect condition by daily exercise. He was 31 years of age when he died, and yet I never knew him to have a sick day all that time."

Alberto was at his home in Turin, Italy, when he learned of Rudolph's serious illness, and he immediately started to arrange passage for the United States. He was on his way to Paris at the time of the screen star's death. The brother said where the body will be interred will not be decided until he has conferred with Rudolph's American friends.

"If Rudolph's many American friends insist that his body lie in the country which brought out his great qualities, then it shall be as they wish," Alberto stated, adding that otherwise he will bring the body back to Italy.

Original Fallon Will Upheld by Court Decision

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (AP)—A court decision accepting the original will of Mrs. Carmel Fallon, which left her $1,000,000 estate in trust to her son, Frederick A. Fallon, and throwing out a later will leaving the bulk of the estate to her daughter Mrs. Annie Malone, was confirmed here today when Superior Judge Deasy denied the contestants a motion for a new trial.

After the denial of the motion, the attorney for Mrs. Malone announced that the case will be appealed to higher courts.

Mrs. Fallon was a member of a family of California pioneers.

SCREEN COLONY PLANS SERVICE

Memorial Rites as Tribute to Valentino Will be Conducted in "Set"

BURBANK, Aug. 25. (AP) — A memorial service, typical of the screen where he won his fame, will be conducted on Thursday for Rudolph Valentino in a model of an Italian village church built as a part of a motion-picture set at Emerald Bay, on the coast south of Los Angeles.

Grief Bows Film Actress

POLA NEGRI ON SAD MISSION

Reputed Fiancee of Screen Lover Leaves for New York to Attend Funeral Services

Pola Negri yesterday began her transcontinental journey to the bier of Rudolph Valentino. The Polish actress, reported fiancee of the screen's great lover whose body now lies in state in New York, arose from her bed of grief in her bungalow at the Ambassador yesterday just in time to make final arrangements for her departure to attend the funeral services Monday.

Confined to her bed almost continuously since the word of Valentino's death stunned Hollywood, the actress was too weak to walk unassisted to her waiting automobile.

SHAKEN BY SOBS

Leaning heavily on her physician, Dr. Louis Felger, and Charles Eyton, Lasky official, she slowly and with evident effort traversed the short distance to her car at 11:15 a.m. yesterday.

Miss Negri's face was pale and her body was shaken by sobs as she was assisted to the machine. She was dressed all in black, and a black veil was attached to her hat. This was drawn up, leaving her face unveiled.

Mr. Eyton and his wife, Kathlyn Williams, accompanied the actress on her journey to the station. Two compartments had been obtained for the Golden State Limited by Southern Pacific officials at the last minute. Tentative plans previously had been made for her departure on another road, and, due to the fact that these had been changed, together with her early arrival at the station, there were no curious crowds awaiting her.

FLORAL GIFTS

Miss Negri immediately was assisted to her compartment, and the door locked. The other compartment was heaped with floral gifts from friends.

Miss Negri's train left at noon. Accompanying her on the journey are her secretary, Florence Hein, and a trained nurse, Adelaide Valecia.

"I do not wish to advertise my grief," she said.

Before her departure the actress sent a cablegram to Alberto Guglielmo, Valentino's brother. She expressed the hope of meeting him on her arrival in New York, and declared that she and everyone in Hollywood desire that the actor's body be buried here.

SHEIK DECLARED LOVELORN

Rudy's "Screen Mother" in Word-Picture Describes Valentino as Victim of Passion He Portrayed

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—A word picture of Rudolph Valentino as a boy who wept at his misfortunes in love at the moment his artistic career reached its apex was sketched today for the Associated Press by Rosa Rosanova, known as "Rudy's screen mother," and called "Madre Mia" by him offstage. Her eyes filling with tears and her voice heavy with emotion, Mme. Rosanova, a grandmother at 45 years of age, told how Valentino came to her for "heart-to-heart" talks and confessed that life had cheated him of the thing he craved even more than an artistic success.

"He wanted a wife to make him a home of the quiet, simple sort the Italians love," she said. "Instead his wives desired only to make him a great star. Their aims clashed, and Rudy's heart was sad. I asked him shortly before his last divorce if he was happy.

"'Mother,' he replied, 'how shall I answer you? I am happy, but my heart is heavy with regret. I am a success, but beyond there is something that I dare not speak of.'

"I knew there was something he wished to say, but I waited and when he did not tell me more I knew that he would not speak out because he did not wish to harm others."

Mme. Rosanova met the "perfect lover" five years ago when she began rehearsing with him her role as his mother in "Blood and Sand."

"He was just a boy. He had many enemies. They used to speak of him as 'that dishwasher,' but that was simply jealousy. They envied him his noble heart. Now they say that he has not left much money. Well, he gave all his money to friends who were in need. It was generosity and not reckless spending that caused his money to disappear. There are thousands of players in this country today who owe him debts of gratitude. He gave money to all who came to him in need and he never even jotted down their names.

"He was as passionate a soul as his pictures revealed him. But he was honest and sincere and there was no treachery in his love. As a boy he was petted by his parents, and grew up what is called a 'spoiled child,' but he was not vainglorious and not 'upstage.' He laughed and sang when he was gay, but after his last divorce he wandered about his big twenty-room house in Hollywood so lonesome as to be in misery.

"He would invite me over to his house, rush into the kitchen and cook spaghetti with a big apron tied around him. Then we would eat and I would listen to his woes. His cup of success was embittered by the longing for a nice, sweet home with pretty children romping about. You see, I really knew him, for I was the only one he ever called mother, and he told me things he never mentioned to others."

While Valentino was in the hospital, Mme. Rosanava was denied admittance.

Dr. Eliot Given Less Attention Than Valentino

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Valentino is receiving more newspaper space than Dr. Eliot, Financial returns from their works also offer a basis of comparison of popular approval. In eighteen years sales of Dr. Eliot's five-foot shelf of books have totaled $20,827,188. Presumably much more than that has been paid at box offices by Valentino fans. In ten years he earned $2,500,000 representing salary and part of the profits of producers. Some 125,000,000 people viewed one picture alone.

SHORTRIDGE AT BOYHOOD TOWN

Senator Addresses 1000 In San Jose

Tells of When He Was City's Lamplighter

Rests His Case on Support of Administration

SAN JOSE, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—In this city where as a boy he lighted the street lamps and carried a newspaper route, United States Senator Shortridge was greeted tonight by a great outpouring of men and women who thronged the auditorium of the San Jose High School. Among those who joined in the enthusiastic welcome to the Senator were many who acclaimed him as a fellow-schoolmate and townsman of long ago, scores personally congratulating him on having made the span of achievement "from lamp lighter to Senator."

Senator Shortridge digressed from the issues of the campaign to divert his audience with reminiscences of the days of his youth when he, and his brother, Charles, represented the "street lighting department" of San Jose, then lighted by gas.

RECORD PRAISED

Dr. A. G. Barnett, City Councilman, presented Senator Shortridge to the gathering at the auditorium, which numbered close to 1000. Dr. Bennett paid a tribute to Senator Shortridge upon his record of accomplishment as a Senator and declared that San Jose dwells with pride upon the fact that he started his distinguished career in this city. Senator Shortridge spoke in part as follows:

"I have traversed a greater part of our wonderful State in this primary campaign and the result for me has been an increased admiration, if that were possible, for our great commonwealth. It has been my privilege to serve the interests of all of California these last six years in the United States Senate.

"If the Republican men and women of California shall next Tuesday decide again to instrust me with their banner and the people at large shall again approve, I will continue to devote my every effort to advancing and safeguarding California's welfare in the councils of the nation.

STOOD WITH PRESIDENT

"The only opposition that has been advanced against me is based upon the fact that I have stood with the President and the Republican party in carrying out the expressed pledges and principles of the party. Those who oppose me are those who have opposed Calvin Coolidge and the party in carrying out those pledges, which were indorsed by people of California and of the nation when they elected our great leader by unprecedented majorities."

Senator Shortridge spoke earlier in the evening on the California Farm Bureau's program over Radio KQW. He was the guest of honor at a luncheon meeting at noon at the Exchange Club at Watsonville, where he was presented to a gathering of more than 200 by Attorney Robert Hudson at the Appleton Hotel.

PARTY PICKS GOODING FOR IDAHO RACE

Junior Member of Upper House Renominated at Republican Convention

WEISER (Idaho) Aug. 25. (AP)—Frank R. Gooding, junior member of the upper house of Congress, and Burton L. French and Addison T. Smith, members of the lower house, were renominated today by the Republican State convention here as the party candidates for the general elections in November. Gooding's nomination, while not unanimous, proved an overwhelming victory, his two opponents mustering less than forty votes, while he received 131.

Lieut.-Gov. Baldridge, Parma, was chosen at the party's candidate for Governor, defeating W. J. Hall, 145 to 19. O. E. Hailey, St. Marys, was nominated for Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Justice Lee, Jackfoot, and Justice Taylor, Band Point, were renominated, their terms expiring at the end of the year.

The party's platform unanimously adopted, placed the party on record as "unalterably opposed to participation in the World Court." It commended the work of the Idaho delegation in both houses of Congress and Gov. Moore's administration. Planks calling for Federal agricultural relief legislation, and enabling legislation to permit construction of the Fall River Meadows irrigation reservoir were also included.

At McCall, the Democrats adopted a platform containing but 185 words, the shortest ever written by a political party in Idaho. Its adoption was marked by a bitter fight which ended when a direct State primary law plank was ordered inserted. National affairs are covered in a plank demanding agricultural relief legislation. The cabinet form of State government is attacked.

John F. Nugent, Boise, was named the party's candidate for United States Senator, L. L. Burtenshaw, Council, and Ben C. Ross, Pocatello, were the nominees for the lower house of Congress.

There are fifty doubtful Republican districts Mr. Wood said, and twenty-five doubtful Democratic. Mentioning some, he said the Republicans might lose four House seats in Pennsylvania, where normally Democratic districts are now held by Republicans and in the same way one or two in both New Jersey and Ohio.

In the Northwest, on the other hand, he predicted the insurgent Republicans will make no gains while the regular Republicans may pick up a seat or two in Minnesota. Not a Republican seat in Iowa is in danger, he declared.

The west coast, Mr. Wood said, is "safe" while he declared the Republicans may gain a seat or two in Brooklyn, N. Y., as well as hold both its Kansas and Indiana delegations and gain the second districts in both those States.

morning and has settled the matter of funds with which to carry on the investigation. He declared that all the money necessary would be forthcoming from the county funds.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE

"In regard to the investigation I cannot make a statement at this time," declared Mr. Kittrelle. "Everything is going along all right and with my office operating I can get down to business. I do not believe any witnesses will be called before the grand jury before next Monday. We still have much work to do and are getting along with as much speed as possible. While in Los Angeles I engaged an auditor, but cannot at this time make any announcement about the work which he will be asked to do. Judge Marsh and I had a conference this morning and I also talked with members of the grand jury."

In the meantime the forces and friends of Dist.-Atty. Kempley, who was declared by Atty.-Gen. Webb, upon Mr. Kittrelle's appointment, to be "disqualified" to carry on the investigation here, struck back for the first time today. In a large advertisement which appeared in all of the local newspapers and which was signed, "Friends Asking a Square Deal for Kempley," a charge was made that the entire affair is political and that a well-known millionaire gambler of Tia Juana is offering to bet $5000 to $4000 that Kempley will be defeated at the election the 31st inst.

TEXT OF ADVERTISEMENT

The advertisement, which carried no names, was admitted by the Kempley forces as their work, and reads:

"To the public:

"For several days we have been entertained with rumors concerning the presumed fact that all vice and crime on the Pacific Coast have been centered in San Diego.

"According to sensational front-page accounts—in the Los Angeles papers—there exists in San Diego a gigantic, organized and sinister ring, dealing in rum-running, gambling, narcotic-smuggling, gang killings, commercial vice and graft of every character.

"Incidentally, it has been made to appear in certain quarters that Dist.-Atty. Kempley is charged with something, whereas, as a matter of fact, he has not been charged with anything, as is made clear by Atty.-Gen. Webb's statement.

"But, remember, these rumors and asserted stories, which, if true, are a scathing indictment of all our city, county and Federal officers—were published—just one week before election.

"That this eleventh-hour sensation was expected was apparent on every hand.

ABSOLVES JURORS

"For two months the press agents, henchmen and paid workers of Dist.-Atty. Kempley's opponent were saying that, one week before election 'we are' going to break something big on Kempley.'

"A number of prominent business men heard it.

"Certain politicians knowingly winked and smiled.

"The members of the present San Diego grand jury are unquestionably sincere and conscientious citizens of the very highest personal character and integrity.

"But it is unfortunate to say the least, that all of the details regarding this investigation which has been continued for many months have been hidden from the bulk of the grand jury until a special Los Angeles attorney arrived in San Diego three days ago.

"Do you, as citizens of San Diego, believe in eleventh-hour political attacks?

"And a well-known millionaire gambler of Tia Juana—offered to bet $5000 to $4000 that Dist.-Atty. Kempley will be defeated because, 'we have got him in the hole.'

"Do you believe in [illegible] politics?

"Do you believe that [illegible] are being broadcast [illegible] country from Los Angeles [illegible] the fair name of San Diego?

"Do you believe in civic pride or do you believe in civic shame with all the costs against the interests of a great city?

In explaining the [illegible] persons in the Kempley [illegible] the Tia Juana race [illegible] Frank Beyer, well-known [illegible] character, and the charge [illegible] that he has assisted the [illegible] tion with funds.

Yesterday from a [illegible] cal hospital where he has been [illegible] fined for several days, Beyer [illegible] the charges hurled by the Kempley supporters and denied [illegible] money to defeat the Republican. Beyer declared that he discussed the election in a [illegible] Tia Juana and said that "[illegible] ace in the hole that Kempley [illegible] be defeated."

HINT COUNTER-SUIT

From members of the grand jury Mr. Kittrelle and Mrs. [illegible] came hot denials that any money had been offered or used to assist in paying for the investigation.

Late this afternoon it was announced that Mr. Kittrelle and Mr. Fitzman will meet tomorrow with full special committee of the grand jury and go over in detail the evidence now in possession. It also was declared by Mr. Fitzman that the probable date for Los Angeles witnesses to appear to interview witnesses in San Diego.

Lord, Director of the ...The hearings of the House Appropriations Committee on the sup- ply measures for next year, he said, would begin in Washington about November 5.

BUILDING PROGRAM

While no provision has yet been included in the budget estimates for next year to carry out the $165,000,- 000 public buildings program, Mr. Madden indicated that some amount would be provided with the maximum for any one year limited to $25,000,- 000.

Mr. Madden made it clear that he was not prepared to give any opinion as to whether the interest from funds- ed war-time foreign debts should be used for tax reduction, retirement of the public debt or any other special purpose.

In addition to studying appropria- tion questions, President Coolidge to- day heard additional reports on the business condition of the country from Louis K. Liggett of Boston, head of a chain drug store system.

Another summer White House guest was Representative Wood, Republican, Indiana, chairman of the Re- publican Congressional Campaign Committee, who came prepared to re- port on the progress of the fall elec- tion campaign.

Mr. Coolidge tomorrow will go to Plattsburgh to inspect the citizens' military training camp.

SHEFFIELD TO RETAIN POST

Kellogg Expresses Confidence in Ambassador to Mexico After Conference at Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—Mexican affairs were discussed today by Secretary Kellogg and Ambassador Sheffield at a prolonged conference but the only official statement resulting from it was an affirmation by the Secretary that Mr. Sheffield will continue at his post.

Contradicting published reports that Mr. Sheffield will resign, the Secretary's statement said the Am- bassador will return to Mexico City upon expiration of his leave of ab- sence. It expressed "absolute con- fidence" in him and declared the de- partment "does not desire him to re- sign."

FAIRLY SATISFIED

Mr. Kellogg declined to discuss the other phases of the conference today but there were indications that it was concerned mainly with the situ- ation in the southern republic which prompted the Secretary a year ago to issue a statement declaring Mexico was on trial before the world. That announcement set forth that Mexico will receive the support of the Wash- ington government only so long as it protects American lives and American rights and complies with the inter- national engagements and obligations.

The State Department apparently is comparatively satisfied on the whole with the progress of negotiations still under way over Mexican land and petroleum laws, concerning which their country made representations insisting that they should not react harmfully to American interests. The other developments of recent years, however, still await settlement be- tween the two countries, among them various claims and other questions such as the restoration of American properties taken in violation of the agrarian laws and for which no com- pensation has been received.

TO VISIT COOLIDGE

Progress toward settlement of these cases has not been all that the Wash- ington administration has desired.

Mr. Sheffield will leave Washington in the next day or so for White Pine Camp, where he will give President Coolidge the reports he has given Mr. Kellogg.

Relations with France, especially the war debt situation, will be dis- cussed tomorrow by Secretary Kellogg with another Ambassador, Myron Her- rick, home on leave from Paris.

CHINA'S USE OF REVENUE PROTESTED

America Wishes Debts to Yankee Firms Paid Ere New Loan is Obtained

PEKING, Aug. 25. (AP)—The United States Legation today lodged with the Foreign Office an emphatic protest against the proposed use by the Chi- nese government of the customs rev- enue surplus, soon to become avail- able, as security for a new domestic loan to the detriment of American creditors.

The protest names twenty-one American concerns whose Chinese ac- counts are in arrears and reminds the government of its obligation toward them. The legation asserts that the proposed action means further fail- ure to observe good faith in its trans- actions with Americans.

The customs surplus referred to be- comes available in 1927 through the extinguishment of the ninth year do- mestic loan.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25. (AP)— Agita- tors, attempting to intimidate the workers at the Japanese-owned Dong Shing cotton mill here, fired a vol- ley of shots near the plant today, killing a Chinese watchman and wounding one worker and a girl pe- destrian. The assailants escaped.

TEMBLOR RECORDED BY SEISMOGRAPH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—A se- vere earthquake, lasting three and a half hours, was registered on George- town University's seismograph early today. The location of the shocks was placed by Director Tondorf at 6400 miles from Washington, possibly in Turkestan.

GLOOM SHROUDS MEXICAN TRADE

Business Men Resigned as Peace Hope Fades

Soenz Tells Calles He Was Misquoted in Speech

Government Takes Firmer Stand on Clergy

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25. (AP)—The business men of Mexico with undis- guised gloom are settling down with whatever philosophy and resignation they should be either repealed or an indefinite continuance of the stalemate in the religious situation.

There is still hope that somehow a solution may be found, but so far as tangible facts are concerned, noth- ing has occurred of late to substan- tiate that hope. If anything, the gov- ernment and episcopate both seem to be adopting a somewhat stiffer atti- tude.

Foreign Minister Saenz conferred today with President Calles and it is understood he repeated to the President his denial of the remarks attributed to him in a recent inter- view at San Antonio. He assured the President that his position is for the enforcement of the Constitution and laws.

The Foreign Minister has been quoted as saying that when laws or constitutional provisions are against the best interests of the country the ysbould be either repealed or amended.

His quoted remarks assumed added importance from the government viewpoint because the episcopate yes- terday issued a statement expressing satisfaction over the attitude attrib- uted to Senor Saenz at San Antonio. Today the Foreign Minister, who has just returned to the capital, de- clared that his words had been mis- interpreted.

"While law is law in Mexico, the government will enforce it," he said. "Until amended by legal means the law must be observed as a whole by everybody."

The episcopate continues to study plans for a campaign for amendment of the Constitution by Congress, but the newspapers declare that the gov- ernment has decided to take a firmer attitude and does not intend to allow any Catholic priest who has spoken in opposition to the government and the laws during the present reli- gious controversy to resume his church services, even when the church authorities resume.

SAENZ DIFFERS WITH SHEFFIELD

Ambassador's Statement on Revolt Studied

Controversy May Arise In Diplomatic Circles

Mexican Minister Asserts Revolution Impossible

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 25. (Exclusive) An evident difference of opinion on the possibilities of the eventual re- sult of the abortive Estrada revolt movement is seen in a comparison of statements published here quoting the interview of United States Am- bassador Sheffield in New York Sun- day and the opinion expressed by For- eign Secretary Saenz when inter- viewed upon his return from a five weeks' visit in California.

The Ambassador's statement as re- produced here says Estrada would not have launched his movement unless support for it existed south of the Rio Grande. It has aroused consid- erable interest in diplomatic circles and among American residents by comparison with Saenz's statement that the movement had no impor- tance. The belief has been kindled that a controversy may arise over the vastly different opinions of Sheffield and Saenz.

SUPPORT AWAITING HIM

Sheffield is quoted in New York dispatches as having said that "Es- trada's fiasco in California suppressed before it had taken life, is of greater import than is generally believed. It is folly to believe Estrada planned to enter Mexico and lead a revolt with the pitiful little army that was halted in California. He must have had some support awaiting him in Mex- ico."

Still further significance is at- tached to Sheffield's statement, that "that support is still there. Whether it will pick up the fight and carry on without Estrada is not known," and special interest is shown in the Ambassador's quoted remark that "de- velopments in the next few weeks should be interesting."

NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY

Contrasting with Sheffield's re- marks are the replies made by Saenz when questioned on the importance attached in the United States to Es- trada's movement. Saenz said that according to his observations no one north of the Rio Grande had taken the insurgent's attempt seriously, adding that the only regretful fea- ture of Estrada's failure was the fact he and his companions did not cross the border, as Lower California au- thorities were aware of the plot and ready to meet the invaders.

He added that Estrada had made no attempt to conceal his flagrant violation of neutrality laws, conceiv- ing all his plans in broad daylight. Saenz said he did not know yet whether Mexico intended to ask for the extradition of Estrada and other exiled politicians, adding that extra- dition treaties exist between both countries and that Mexico would act only in accordance with these pacts.

ESTRADA'S SECRETARY JAILED BY AGENTS

The United States Department of Justice yesterday arrested Jose S. Healy, red-haired Irish-Mexican news- paperman and secretary to Gen. Estrada, and after arraignment be- fore United States Commissioner Head he was lodged in the Los An- geles County Jail on Federal charge of aiding his employer in the recent punitive expedition that ended swift- ly and quietly at San Diego.

Healy was taken into custody at his South Figueroa street residence in the presence of his wife and three small children on complaint prepared by Asst. U. S. Atty. Ne- ville that ac- cused him of conspiring with Gen. Estrada and two unnamed others against Mexico.

JOSE S. HEALY.

An overt act in the accusa- tion asserted that he negoti- ated for the pur- chase of four monoplanes from the Ryan Air Line in San Diego, and also assisted in negotiations for trucks and other materials of war that have been seized during the past week and con- fiscated by the United States.

UNABLE TO MAKE BOND

"I will not be able to make bond," Healy informed Commissioner Head when asked if he could provide se- curity of $10,000 for his release.

Healy has been secretary to Gen. Estrada since February, it was re- vealed by Federal officials, and also has acted as Southern California cor- respondent for a Mexican newspaper. He is of Irish percentage but is a citi- zen of Mexico.

The four airplanes, it was revealed with Healy's arrest, were to have been purchased for $19,431.34 and were to have been delivered upon the eve of a raid upon Tia Juana that was the first move of Gen. Estrada to seize Lower California. The West Coast of Mexico then was to be bombed from the peninsula of Baja California and a drive declared upon Mexico City with Mazatlan being utilized as a base of operations.

REBEL NAVY MISSING

United States Coast Guard officials yesterday reported the return of the Tamoroah, sent to the Gulf of Cali- fornia to seek a mythical rebel gun- boat that was reported to have been sent into the gulf waters in readi- ness for the air onslaught upon the unprotected West Coast. Though a diligent search was conducted all along the Pacific Coast line of the peninsula no trace of the rebel "navy" was found.

Farm Products Amply Protected by Tariff, Fordney Declares

SAGINAW (Mich.) Aug. 25. (AP)— Criticisms of the workings of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law rela- tive to asserted high-duty rates on articles chiefly used by farmers are wholly unjustified, former Congress- man Joseph W. Fordney declared in an interview published here today.

"There never has been a law placed on our statute books that gives such full measures to protect our farmers as are provided for in the present law and every article produced upon the farm has been adequately pro- tected by this law," Mr. Fordney said.

RODEO BRANDED AS VICIOUS EVIL

Talk Features Day at Annual Humane Gathering

Los Angeles Woman Tells of Accomplishments Here

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 25. (AP)—The commercialized rodeo, or round-up, was branded as "one of the most vicious influences in America upon the morals of childhood," in an address today at the annual convention of the American Humane Association by Mrs. Jennie R. Nichols, Tacoma, Wash., chairman of the Humane Education Committee of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Declaring that a general line of operation in national and State branches of the parent-teachers' organization has been directed against rodeos, she added "in this powerful co-operation other humane agencies may take courage and look with renewed hope to the hour when the heel of public opinion shall be set upon the head of this serpent."

WELFARE OF ANIMALS

The convention turned today to consider the welfare of animals, the first two days having been devoted to problems of caring for and protecting children. The program for Thursday provides for further discussion of rodeos.

Mrs. Nichols gave a review of humane work of the congress of parents and teachers, emphasizing the importance of instilling humane ideas in children.

Mrs. Frances H. Weldon of Los Angeles told of the work of the animal shelters at Los Angeles and San Francisco. In Los Angeles, she said, the work is done by a municipal department under the direction of a humane commission whose members serve without salary. The department is a revenue producer clearing about $50,000 annually on dog licenses.

SOURCE OF REVENUE

"If city administrations could be shown that this work, when thoroughly done, by strictly enforcing the payment of licenses, can be made a revenue producer, more animal shelters could be established," she said.

Mrs. Weldon declared that the stray cat problem is still an open question. "Many think," she said, "that it is not advisable to license the cat for various reasons; yet, there are more stray cats than dogs, and their suffering from neglect and starvation is very great."

Capt. Pelletier Doisy Ends 2750-Mile Flight Made in Less Than 39 Hours

PARIS, Aug. 25. (AP)—Capt. George Pelletier Doisy, French aviator of Paris Tokio fame, completed one of the most remarkable flights in the annals of French aviation when he landed at Lebourget at 11:15 o'clock tonight after covering 2750 miles, including five landings to refuel, in 38 3-4 hours, actual flying time.

Capt. Pelletier took off from Villa Coublay at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He landed at Rome, Italy, shortly after noon, then went to Tunis, French North Africa, arriving there at 7:30 p.m.

He then started on a night flight across half of the African continent to Casa Bianca. He reached the Moroccan town at 8:30 a.m. His next Goal was Madrid, Spain, which he made at 2 o'clock this afternoon. HONOR PAID TO SHIP RADIO MAN

Associated Press Praises Wireless Expert

Newspaper Publishers Give Him Gold Watch

Flash of Bulletin on Boat Sinking Rewarded

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Tribute to a brain that works as fast as the busy radio that it directs was paid by the Associated Press today to Stedman Fiske Todd, Oakland (Cal.) wireless operator on the Dollar Liner President Wilson, who on February 19, last, gave to the world the first news of one of the most stirring epics of the seven seas, through the medium of the news association that honored him.

Gathered in the dining salon of the big liner, newly arrived from the Orient, a distinguished company of newspaper executives and workers, Dollar Line officials and others, broke bread with Todd at a beautifully appointed luncheon, and gave him a salvo of hearty applause as Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Tribune, director of the Associated Press, and fellow-townsman of the quick-thinking radio man, presented him a gold watch bearing the engraved legend:

"Presented by the Associated Press to Stedman Fiske Todd, rescue of crew Daishin Maru, III, upon enrollment as honorary member of staff, February 19, 1926."

EMPLOYED AS REPORTER

The presentation by Mr. Knowland, as the legend stated, made Todd a reporter of the Associated Press, in his roving commission as a radio operator, his tenure in such service already distinguished by the work he has done in notifying the world of the plight of the Daishin Maru, sturdy but hapless little Japanese cargo carrier.

"This is to show that the Associated Press recognizes and rewards merit," Mr. Knowland said. "It is a tribute well deserved, to a hero and a man."

Paul Cowles, superintendent of the western division of the Associated Press, was called upon, and said in part:

"Todd rose to an emergency in splendid fashion. He sent in an item of dramatic interest to readers throughout the entire world. That item sent in by Todd had added appeal and significance because news concerning disasters at sea always finds such appeal to news readers."

LOOKS FOR THRILLS

Among those present were Ellery Stone, a high official of the Federal Telegraph Company, which handled the land relay of the message from Todd; Leo Levy, managing editor of the Oakland Tribune; Karl Anderson, managing editor of the San Francisco Chronicle; J. A. Callahan, general manager of the San Francisco Examiner; J. Harold Dollar and R. Stanley Dollar, vice-presidents of the Dollar Steamship Company; Capt. Henry Nelson, master of the Wilson; Col. E. V. Smith, U.S.A.; Arthur Clark, managing editor of the San Jose Mercury Herald, and Emil Gough, managing editor of the San Francisco Call.

Todd, a graduate of the University of California and an expert electrical engineer, follows the radio and the sea for their kindred thrills. The Daishin incident was a mixture of both.

Ha Llegado un Famoso Teósofo a los Estados Unidos

NUEVA YORK, Agosto 25.—Un hombrecillo de piel morena bajó hoy por la escala del vapor Majestic, lleno de confianza en que su visita a este país va a determinar un cambio radical en la vida religiosa de nuestra nación.

Trátase de Jiddu Krishnamurti, teósofo hindú, de quien sus fieles dicen que es el portavoz de la divinidad. No obstante que sostiene haber escuchado la voz del Dios universal, ni el traje ni las maneras de nuestro visitante difieren de los de cualquier otro joven hindú que se vista a la moda de occidente.

Su terno aplomado, su camisa rayada, su corbata azul y su calzado amarillo se ciñen estrictamente al estilo de vestir del siglo veinte. Habla con el acento de Oxford, y ha llegado aquí sin meter ruido. Al vapor fueron a esperarlo tan sólo algunos reporteros, un agente de la prensa y el presidente de la Sociedad Teosófica Norteamericana.

Hase dado a Krishnamurti el nombre de "el nuevo Mesías;" pero hoy dijo claramente que él no se ha arrogado tal título. Se rehusó a discutir con los chicos de la prensa sobre cualquier mensaje espiritual que pueda traer a este país, y los remitió al contenido de un folletito que fue repartido a bordo del paquebote. Tras una conferencia que dará en Chicago ante los miembros de la "Estrella de Oriente," se dirigirá tal vez a su finca, cerca de Ojai, California.

La señora Annie Besant, presidenta internacional de la Sociedad Teosófica, que hizo compañía en su viaje a Krishnamurti, hablará al público de treinta y cuatro ciudades de "la llegada del nuevo maestro del mundo."

"No pretendemos que sea el Mesías," manifestó la señora Besant; "pero es el maestro del mundo. Desde 1909 nos dimos cuenta de que había sido elegido para vehículo de la voz de la Divinidad. Yo creo que, debido a su intervención, estamos entrando en un período de nueva civilización, cosa que ha ocurrido cinco veces en la historia de la raza aria."

He aquí lo que Krishnamurti dice de sí mismo: "Soy diferente de otros hombres. Nunca toco ni alcohol ni carne. Juego golf y tennis, y nado. He estudiado a todos los grandes escritores."

Los folletos distribuídos en nombre del teósofo por el agente de prensa, dicen que, en 1910, cuando era aún niño, publicó un libro titulado, "A los pies del Maestro," en el que consignó las enseñanzas de su maestro, recibidas por el discípulo durante el sueño.

Si bien Krishnamurti no quiso hablar de los mensajes espirituales que pueda traerle a este país, entróse, sin embargo, por el terreno del "jazz" y de otras extravagancias del mundo moderno. Dijo que Norteamérica era una tierra "enloquecida por el jazz."

"Esta civilización," agregó, "está sentada sobre el materialismo. Tiene por base un alboroto que no es la verdadera felicidad. Hallándose uno en un plano espiritual, está en aptitud de olvidar el materialismo."

Pola Negri Lleva una Triste Misión a Nueva York

Pola Negri emprendió ayer viaje a través del continente, para ir a hacer compañía al féretro de Valentino. La actriz polaca, que, como se sabe, era la prometida del gran amante de la pantalla, cuyo cuerpo se halla en capilla ardiente en Nueva York, se levantó de su lecho, en el chalet del Hotel Ambassador, que ha estado ocupando, sin disponer de más tiempo que el estrictamente preciso para tomar el tren que ha de llevarla al Este, para concurrir a las exequias de Rodolfo, que se celebrarán el lunes en Nueva York.

Encamada, casi sin interrupción, desde que la noticia de la muerte de Valentino dejó aturdido a Hollywood, sentíase la actriz demasiado débil para andar hasta su automóvil sin ayuda.

Bien apoyada en los brazos de su médico, el doctor Louis Feiger, y de Charles Eyton, de la directiva de Lasky, dio ayer lentamente y con esfuerzo evidente los pocos pasos que distaba su coche de la puerta de su alojamiento. Esto ocurrió a las 11:15 a.m. Iba la señorita Negri pálida, y sacudían su cuerpo los sollozos al dirigirse a su auto. Vestía de riguroso luto, y llevaba, aunque levantado, un velo en el sombrero.

La acompañaron a la estación el señor y la señora Eyton. Tenía separados dos compartimentos en el rápido "Golden State." Fenetró inmediatamente en uno de ellos, y cerró la puerta. En el otro se apilaron las flores que le habían mandado sus amigos. Partió su tren a medio día. Van con ella su secretaria, Florence Hein, y una enfermera profesional, Adelaida Valencia.

Tanto al salir para la estación, como a su llegada a ésta, se rehusó la señorita Negri a que la retrataseen. "No quiero hacer anuncio de mi dolor," dijo.

DEPORTES

Tennis

Ha entrado en escena el gran Jean Borotra, apodado "el vasco saltante," debido a sus acrobáticas zapateadas durante sus partidos de tennis. Borotra va a salir a plaza en circunstancias de gran emoción, pues él y sus compañeros de equipo, La Coste, Cochet y Brugnon, se harán con el equipo japonés de la copa Davis en los matches finales de zona, para disputarse el famoso trofeo.

—¿Por qué caerá, papá?—preguntó el niño, que no dejaba escapar un modismo sin hacer que se lo explicasen ("Why shall it fall, papa?" asked the child, who did not let an idiom slip by without having it explained to him).

—Quiero decir que ya la cogere ("I mean that I shall catch it by and by").

Otra vez aspiró el aire con fuerza y se lanzó al fondo (He again drew in the air with force and darted to the bottom). Al cabo de unos momentos salió a la superficie con una trucha en la mano, que arrojó a la orilla (a few moments later, he came to the surface with a trout in his hand, which he flung up to the bank). Chucho dio un grito de susto y alegría al ver a sus pies al animalito brincando y retorciéndose con furia (Chucho screamed from fright and joy on seeing at his feet the little beast jumping and squirming furiously).

FARMERS DISCUSS FIRE PREVENTION

HANFORD, Aug. 25.—At the district regional conference of the California Farm Bureau Federation, held in this city yesterday afternoon with representative farmers present from all counties of the San Joaquin Valley, forest-fire control was the principal subject discussed and strong resolutions were passed condemning the wanton destruction of forests of the Sierras by the eastern part of the big valley as reducing the conservation of water, of grazing areas and the timber supply to the direct and serious injury of the valley people.

The State federation at its next annual meeting is asked to appoint a committee to report on ways and means to secure unity of action by Federal, State and county authorities in the work and the adoption of a practical system of the fire abatement and control.

RAIL FIGHT TO BE ARBITRATED

Unions and Roads Will Try Out Watson-Parker Plan

Eastern Wage Rise Plea to be Decided by Board

Representatives of Public on Mediation Body

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—The way was paved today for the first arbitration of a railroad wage dispute under the recently enacted Watson-Parker bill.

Representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed, with representatives of railroads east of Chicago and north of the Ohio River, an agreement to submit to arbitration the brotherhood's demand for a wage increase of $1 a day for conductors, brakemen and switchmen. Arbitration was agreed upon after the Federal Board of Mediation had failed in its efforts to effect a settlement.

W. G. Lee, president of the brotherhood, said that "future arbitration by trainmen will depend largely on the degree of justice we receive by the agreement to arbitrate." The brotherhood, he asserted, will "go the very limit" to give the Watson-Parker bill a tryout.

The board of arbitration will consist of six members, two representing the labor union, two the railroads and two the public. A date for the arbitration hearings will be fixed later. They will be held in New York.

The trainmen's brotherhood announced that D. L. Cease of Cleveland, O., editor of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and E. F. Curtis of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, general secretary of the Order of Railway Conductors, will be its representatives on the arbitration board. The railroads will announce their members later.

Similar wage-increase demands have been made of railroads in other sections of the country. Representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen did not say whether they also will agree to arbitrate with the railroads.

FILM STRIFE ARBITRATION SANCTIONED

Department of Justice in Accord With Boards Set Up by Industry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—The motion-picture industry's method of settling disputes between distributors and exhibitors arising under film-leasing contracts has the approval of the Department of Justice. This was disclosed today when the department reported on an eighteen-month investigation of the operations of the film boards of trade, instituted on the basis of complaints from motion-picture theater owners to determine whether there had been violation of the antitrust laws.

There are thirty-two film boards of trade located in principal cities to enforce the awards of as many boards of arbitration. The latter, made up of three representatives of the distributors and three representatives of theater owners, function under a clause in film contracts requiring reference of any dispute under the contract to the board of arbitration before either party resorts to a court of law.

"That this plan, as conceived and executed," said the Department of Justice, "provides a fair, just and economic method of dealing with disputes is evidenced by the fact that during the past two years 10,327 awards have been made by these boards and of these only thirty-seven have required reference to a seventh arbitrator to reach a decision.

"Certain practices which had been adopted by local boards were objected to by the Department of Justice, and at its instance the film boards of trade have amplified rules and regulations relating to arbitration so as clearly to prohibit members of local film boards from pursuing such objectional practices."

Durkin Given Prison Stay to Perfect Appeal

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Martin J. Durkin need not begin serving the thirty-five year prison sentence given him for the murder of Federal Agent Edwin Shanahan until September 27.

A new stay was granted him in criminal court today when he asked for more time to prepare an appeal to the Supreme Court.

Durkin, who was not in court, is in the County Jail here, rather than at the penitentiary at Joliet, because of a previous stay which expires Friday.

It is also reported that the necessary construction material is already on the ground and the work will be pushed to the limit. From the present rate of progress, it is expected that this branch will be ready for inauguration early next year.

NEW CHIEF FOR CANTON NAMED

Vice and Bootleg Clean-up in Ohio Town Begins

Grand Jury Starts Inquiry In Mellett Killing

Plot to Murder Friend of Slain Editor Told

CANTON (O.) Aug. 25. (AP)—While Stark county's grand jury deliberated today behind a curtain of unprecedented secrecy on the Mellett case, Canton's Mayor appointed a new Police Chief and thereby prepared the way for a contemplated clean-up of vice and bootleg rings.

The fifteen grand jurors began hearing witnesses in the six-weeks-old mystery of the murder of the publisher-crusader, Don R. Mellett, while bailiffs of the court guarded their chamber door and barred possible intruders. It is expected the jury will deliberate more than a week.

SERGEANT PROMOTED

John (Jiggs) Wise was promoted from sergeant to Chief of Police. His appointment at present is temporary, being designated for thirty days beginning today.

Several changes in the organization of the police department are expected within a few days. Wise directly succeeds Safety Director Earl W. Hexamer, who has been acting Chief since S. A. Lengel was suspended on July 24, last, when Mayor Swarts considered the police investigation into the Mellett murder case had failed. Lengel was dismissed Monday at the conclusion of the thirty days.

CHIEF DEPOSED

During the murder inquiry, when investigators were inclined not to rely on the Canton police, they nevertheless intrusted Wise with various missions, including, two weeks ago, a trip of investigation to Nanty Glo, Pa., home of Patrick Eugene McDermott, wanted as "key man" in the inquiry. Last week it developed that Wise once had been the object of an asserted assassination plot. He was a friend of Mellett, the slain publisher, and is known to have been an arch-foe of Lengel, the deposed Chief.

Mrs. Florence E. Mellett, widow of the slain publisher, announced today that if she wins the $100,000 civil damage suit she filed in Federal court today against the accused conspirators against her husband's life she will give the entire sum to the support of fatherless children. In her suit she names Louis Maser, Canton; Ben Rudner, Massilon, and Patrick Eugene McDermott, as conspirators.

FASCISTS TO CENTRALIZE STATE RULE

Every Community Will be Placed Under Supervision of Rome Authorities

ROME, Aug. 25. (AP)—Every city, town and village in Italy will be governed by a representative appointed by the National Fascist government under the terms of a new decree which will be adopted on the 30th inst., by the Council of Ministers, according to well-informed political circles.

The new system, which was drawn up by Luigi Federzoni, National Secretary of the Fascist party, amounts to an extention of the Podesta system already used in communes of less than 5000 population. It will be put into effect within a year.

The type of municipal administration in large cities has not been decided, but it is probable that there will be a governorship such as exists in Rome, a high commission such as in Naples and Milan or a Podesta in the smaller towns.

One of the first consequences of the new system will be the revocation of the right of administrative suffrage granted to women by a recent law, since elections of all sorts will be abolished.

The innovation, in addition to complying with the Fascist principle of the centralization of political power in the hands of the national State, is expected to achieve notable economies. These particularly will include the elimination of the 2,000,000 lire expenses in the formation and maintaining of electoral lists and the management of elections.

The decision will make permanent Premier Mussolini's recent temporary suspension of the communal, municipal and provincial elections. This latter order was issued because the Podesta system has proved successful in eliminating dissension in communes and in effecting economies.

Two Killed as Santa Fe Work Train Derails

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Two persons are dead and nine are in a hospital at Gallup, seriously injured, as the result of a wreck of a Santa Fe work train west of Thoreau early today. The dead are: J. D. Tucker, Gallup, conductor, and Mrs. W. Hansen, wife of a bridge foreman.

The victims, aside from the conductor, were asleep in the rear car of the train, which, in backing struck a hand car. The rear car was derailed and six of the thirteen other cars piled up on it. All but nine of the 100 sleeping workmen escaped with minor injuries.

SHOULD HUSBANDS DO HOUSE WORK?

How Mrs. Dyer Solved the Problem.

Mrs. Mildred Dyer was lucky. She had a good-natured husband who helped her with much of her housework. Because she was in ill health for five years, it was often necessary for him to do this. But it bothered Mrs. Dyer. She felt that he had to work hard enough anyway. The time he spent in doing her work was needed for his own. She determined to find the road to better health.

She writes: "I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is simply wonderful. My health is better than it has ever been. I am getting stronger and gaining in weight."

The Dyers live at Redlands, Calif., Route A, Box 133.

How often does your husband have to do your housework? No matter how willing he is, no woman feels comfortable about it. Perhaps you, too, will find better health through the faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MONKS COP TO SQUARE SERIES

Missions Make Two Runs in Ninth to Win Tussle

BY ROBERT RAY

In a contest that was as hot as the atmosphere in which it was played, Wild Willyum Leard's Mission Monks did the ninth inning rallying yesterday, putting over two runs in the final frame to edge out a 7-to-5 victory over Hollywood. The Mission victory squared the series at one-all.

On Tuesday Hollywood won out in the ninth, but yesterday the Monks stole the Stars' thunder by cracking out three hits for two runs to break a 5-to-5 tie.

Twice the Stars came from behind to overcome Mission leads, and for a while it looked as if they might make Wild Willyum Leard even wilder. In the first two frames the Monks ran up four runs off Phil Mulcahy, but the Stars leveled on Jimmy Christian in the third and fourth to knot the count. Three runs scored in the fourth, and Buzz Eckert came to Christian's rescue and finished up on the mound for the Monks.

BOONE IS NEMESIS

It was Ike Boone, however, who proved the Nemesis of the Stars, the loop's leading clouter twice hitting safely to start Monk rallies in the latter frames. In the seventh Boone doubled to left and scored on Jones's single to give the visitors a 5-to-4 margin, but Hollywood overcame that lead in the eighth. Then again in the ninth Boone opened the round with a single to left, took second on Jones's sacrifice, and scored with the winning marker on McDowell's double to right-

Packed House Sees Show at Olympic Auditorium

Languid Joe Stecher successfully defended his world's wrestling title last night, going two hours to a draw with John Pesek, the Nebraska Tigerman, in the main event at the Olympic Auditorium. There wasn't a fall throughout the match and thrills were singularly lacking. The house was packed.

Whether it was because of the heat or the shadow of his coming titular match with Ed Lewis, Stecher was a different man last night. He was languid and lackadaisical about his job, seeming content to keep the Tiger from throwing him, without performing any serious attack of his own.

Stecher clamped on his famous body scissors once or twice and Pesek's alleged invincible wrist-lock found its way to the champion here and there. But neither produced a fall. It was a slow match.

Richard Schikat, the German champion, had it all his own way in his match with Joe Sigmond, throwing Joe in 19 min. 9 secs. with a crotch hold and half Nelson. Schikat was scheduled to wrestle Don Andres Chatanos, but the Don probably couldn't get away from the restaurant, so Sigmond substituted.

Schikat had Sigmond in trouble early in the match, draping him over the ropes with a series of cruel head locks and finally putting him on the floor.

CARDINALS REGAIN LEAD

Trim Boston in Eleven Frames as Brooklyn Wins From Pirates in Hot Contest

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 25. (AP)—It's off again, on again, in the three-cornered fight for National League leadership. The Cardinals, who yesterday got knocked from their first place perch by splitting a double-header with Boston, today trimmed the Braves 4 to 3 in a thrilling eleven-inning battle and regained the coveted position. Hafey, batting for Southworth, singled in the eleventh frame with the bases loaded and won the game. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati both lost today. The score:

THIS Borotra person, called "the Bounding Basque" because of his acrobatic antics during the course of his tennis matches, and because he comes from those distinct linguistic people who dwell in the French Pyrenees, is, in my opinion, one of the four most interesting of all men tennis players to watch in action. Bill Tilden nearly always gives the gallery a treat of some sort, Brian Norton amuses, and Manuel Alonso thrills with his speed of foot, but Jean Borotra is such a fine combination of gymnastics, splendid sportsmanship, and laughing good humor, that he captivates your interest at once and before the match is half over you are for him heart and soul.

Borotra should be much in the limelight today, as he and his team mates, La Coste, Cochet, and Brugnon, battle the Japanese Davis Cup team in the interzone final matches for the famous trophy. Fans will turn out to see Borotra, not only because the Lightning Latin himself is so agreeable a person to watch, but because the Basque is champion of Wimbledon and perhaps will be the singles champion of the United States in the near future.

MOSER IS MEDALIST IN SOUTH

Wilshire Youth Leads Golf Field in Spreckel's Cup Affair at Coronado

Repeating his flying start of 1925, Allen Moser, sensational Wilshire Country Club junior golfer, shot a 147 to win medal honors in the annual Spreckels Cup tournament at the Coronado Country Club yesterday. Moser won the expensive Spreckels Cup last year and his fast start yesterday makes him a red-hot favorite to repeat.

Moser held a two-stroke lead on the field, David Martin, Southern California junior champion, of the Rio Hondo Country Club, was in second with 149. Tom Owens, cf Coronado, was third with 151. Fay Coleman, Frank Delcot, Cliff Riddle, Ed Meyberg and W. W. Beckwith, all went into the Spreckels Cup flight

Qualifying scores and pairings follow:

VERNON PLANS REMATCH

Wadhams Plans to Use Mushy Callahan and Baby Joe Gans in Return Bout on September 21

BY BRAVEN DYER

Baby Joe Gans, victor over Mushy Callahan in Tuesday night's great fight at the Vernon arena, will get a chance to do it all over again next month if plans of Matchmaker Hayden (Wad) Wadhams materialize. Wadhams wants to rematch the two scrappers for September 21 and within the next two or three days hopes to announce that the return bout is clinched.

Whereas Tuesday night's fight was contracted for more or less easily the rematch will not be brought about without considerable dickering. Callahan got in the neighborhood of $10,000 for his work. Gans received practically nothing, having taken the bout as a stepping stone to greater successes—the negro battler bet confident that he could thump Mushy. His purse was estimated at $473.

Now Gans is in a position to do a bit of dictating. He is the big card. However, he can't go too far in his demands for he realizes that most of the boys in this section don't care to meet him, being highly solicitous of their own welfare. Not so with Callahan. Mushy wants the return bout and wants it badly. He believes that he won Tuesday night's scrap. However, inasmuch as the official verdict showed him the loser it seems unlikely that Mushy can demand and get another $10,000 for his efforts against Gans. The colored boy deserves to be more handsomely taken care of next time and undoubtedly will be. All Wadhams has to do is satisfy Gans as it seems as if the match will

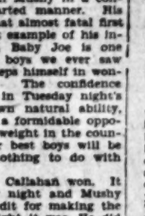
GRAPPLERS HERE FOR BIG BOUTS

Mike Romano Meets Lewis in Vernon Main Event on Tuesday

Wrestlers will drop into Los Angeles today like leaves falling in the autumn, as John De Palma's mat talent arrives to get ready for his show at the Vernon arena next Tuesday night.



Mike Romano, Italian grappler, who meets Ed (Strangler) Lewis in the feature bout, is due here at noon from New York. Wayne (Big) Munn, former Nebraska University football star, will be here this afternoon from Salt Lake City, and Howard Cantonwine, sensational Iowa heavyweight, who is to meet Munn in one of the bouts, will get here early in the afternoon from Portland.

Joe (Toots) Mondt, who will be the opponent of Wild Bill Demetral, Greek champion, in another bout, arrived last night. Demetral has been in Los Angeles since he defeated Steve Savage at Vernon three weeks ago.

The Lewis-Romano contest is attracting a lot of attention. Lewis is training hard at Garden Grove, where he has established training quarters, and expects to be in great shape to wipe out the two-hour draw verdict that was given in his match with Romano in Chicago last spring. Romano is carrying much support from the Italian colony in Los Angeles and Southern California, and hundreds of his countrymen will be at the ringside when he tangles with the champion.

VERNON PLANS RETURN FIGHT

be made, for Mushy is itching for a chance to reverse the decision.

Incidentally Gigg jumps right into the front ranks of our best lightweights by his spectacular showing against Callahan. Lots of folks thought Baby Joe would be badly beaten and there were plenty who expected Callahan to win by a knockout. Gans proved conclusively that he is the game ace they make 'em, swapping punches with Mushy in a convincing, stout-hearted manner. His comeback from that almost fatal first round was a great example of his intestinal fortitude. Baby Joe is one of the best-built boys we ever saw and apparently keeps himself in wonderful condition. The confidence which he gained in Tuesday night's fight, plus his own natural ability, should make him a formidable opponent for any lightweight in the country. Plenty of our best boys will be wise in having nothing to do with him.

We still believe Callahan won. It was a hot, stuffy night and Mushy deserved more credit for making the engagement the fight it was. He did virtually all the leading. Gans, already popular, will gain more admirers if he will take the lead himself now and then.

The bonus Tuesday night was the best since the second Callahan-Jimmy Goodrich scrap back in May. The place was packed and the bout drew approximately $18,000. It looks like another full house a week from Tuesday when Joe Glick meets Jimmy McLarnin.

Indians Beat Sacs, 8-6, in Martin Battle

SEATTLE, Aug. 25. (AP)—Martin met Martin, Martin defeated Martin and Martin lost to Martin in today's baseball game between Seattle and Sacramento which the Indians won, 8 to 6.

S. Martin was on the mound for Seattle and E. Martin for the Solons. The Indian hurler permitted eleven hits, struck out one batsman, and walked four. Seattle pounded E. Martin for seventeen hits, while he failed to fan a man and walked one.

Schwab, Indian first baseman, was credited with fifteen put-outs. The Braves scored their eight runs before Sacramento got started. Score:

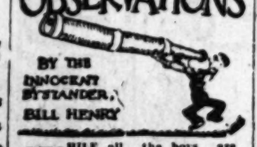
French Runner Hangs Up New Distance Mark

PARIS, Aug. 25. (AP)—George Baraton, the French middle-distance champion, today ran the 1500 meters at the Colombes Stadium in 3m. 50 2-5s. This is 2 1-5 seconds better than the world's record hung up by Nurmi at Helsingfors in 1924, 3m. 52 3-5s.

It is not likely that this record will be ratified, because no official of the French federation was present, but three reliable clockers timed the French champion. In addition Baraton is under suspension by the French Athletic Federation.

OBSERVATIONS



WHILE all the boys are worrying about star performers for the various boxing clubs, why don't some of them get together with the Boxing Commission and suggest a real lightweight tournament among the California scrappers? How would you like to see Tommy O'Brien, Mushy Callahan, Baby Joe Gans, Ace Hudkins, Young Harry Wills and, perhaps, Joe Benjamin meeting in a series of elimination bouts with the ultimate winner promised a shot at the title now so carefully guarded by Sammy Mandell. The local clubs could fight to packed houses every night if they would match up some of the boys mentioned above instead of trying to kid the populace into thinking a bout between a star and a set-up is going to be exciting.

Polo seems to be in for a very definite revival in the East. They have a splendid Army team, quite a batch of English stars are over for the summer, the great Argentine outfit is here, and needless to say, we have a pretty good batch of American teams. The only thing missing is Midwick. Incidentally, we spotted the statement somewhere or other that some of the Argentine players want to make the trip to California next year. If they do, it would be a great opportunity to put on a splendid tournament and would draw enormous crowds as the public is rapidly being educated to enjoy good polo, largely due to the efforts of Midwick.

Stanford may have lost a lot of good men from the football squad last year, but there isn't a college on the Coast that will pick up the number of ex-freshman demons that the Cards will. Stanford will miss Nevers at full, Mitchell at quarter and Armour at guar din particular, but they have material couing up that ought to have Pop Warner scratching his head and wondering what in the heck to do with it. Quite a flock of real stars adorned the bench last year in order to save a year of competition, two or three exceptional men from a couple of years ago were out of college, and in addition there is the whole freshman team from last fall.

Don Robesky of Bakersfield played on the scrubs last year, but Warner says he'll be an all-American guard. Post is another big Hagman who will be eligible. For the backfield there is Hank Millage, who played a couple of years ago, and Hoffman, the giant weight thrower. Both have three years of football ahead of them. Then from last year's squad they have Artman, Tandy Harder and a flock of other giants who are bigger and probably better except in the matter of experience than any of the varsity men.

The stars of yesteryear are certainly passing out of the picture in the tennis world. No "first ten" listing for the past decade has been complete without the names of Nat Niles, Watson Washburn and Wallace Johnson. But none of them will make the grade this year. Present indications are that Tilden, Richards, Johnston, Williams, Norton, Chandler, Chapin, Hunter, Holman and several others will all be listed ahead of these stars of former seasons, who have so long withstood the attack of the younger generation.

Phil Mulcahy pitched good ball for the Stars after the first two innings, but he retired to let Hulvey single for him in the last of the ninth. Hulvey went in to hurl the ninth against the Monks and was charged with the defeat.

The Monks started out auspiciously in the first inning by rapping Mulcahy for four hits and three runs after Ph. had fanned Swanson and Finn. With two away Gillespie started Mulcahy's troubles by clicking a single to right. Mulcahy's attempt to pick Gillespie off first resulted in a wild heave and Bob ambled to second. Boone walked. Bobby Jones punched a single to right that scored Gillespie. Then came Jimmy McDowell with a double to left and Boone scored. Slade singled infield to Gooch and Jones counted. McDowell was out at the plate on an attempted double-steal with Slade, Cook to Kerr to Cook.

In the second inning the Missions once more got to Mulcahy for a run, and once more they waited until after two were out before causing Phil trouble. Walters and Christian were both thrown out by Mulcahy, but Evar Swanson rapped one down the right-field line for two bases. Mickey Finn poked a long single to right center and the Lombard Limited steamed across the plate from second on schedule time.

START SCORING

Hollywood started scoring in the third when, after two were out again, Johnny Frederick and Chuck Gooch bunched doubles for one run. The Stars carried over their run-making into the fourth inning, when three more markers were collected.

Lee Sheehan, who drove out four hits in five times at bat, opened the round with a double to left and took third on Coumbe's infield out. Kerr walked. Lee hit to Christian and Sheehan was trapped between third and home, Christian to Jones to Walters, but Kerr made third and Lee took second before the out was made. Lee Cook, who got three for two and accounted for four of the Hollywood runs, singled to left and both Kerr and Lee scored. Mulcahy double to right center and Cook, by dint of fast stepping, scored from first to knot the count. After Mulcahy's hit Eckert relieved Christian and retired Frederick on a loft to Gillespie for the third out.

The Monks took the lead again in the seventh, when Boone doubled to left and scroed on Jones's single to right. Jones took second on the throw to the plate, but died there when McDowell and Slade went out.

TIE SCORE AGAIN

Hollywood once more tied the score in the eighth by putting over another run. With two away, Cook walked and went to second when Hulvey, batting for Mulcahy, singled infield to Slade, who made a great stop. Johnny Frederick then clouted a single to right and Cook scored with the tying markar. Gillespie took Gooch's line drive for the final out.

After the Monks had put over their two runs in their half of the ninth, Eckert retired the Stars in rapid order to end the contest. Another one today, with Bert Cole and either Singleton or O'Neill as the probable hurlers. Score:

READY FOR LEGION BATTLE

Tommy O'Brien, Paul Demsky All Set for Tangle in Hollywood Arena Tomorrow Night

Tommy O'Brien and Paul Demsky are all ready for their big fight at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tomorrow night. Demsky, who claims to hold the Australian lightweight championship, has at least proven to local fans that he is a fighter of some ability in his local starts, and capable of giving O'Brien a good tussle.

The latter is the favorite because he has a knockout wallop and Demsky is going to get hit on the chin at least once before the fight is over. Demsky is a good shortender because he is a master boxer and knows the fight game. He has had three starts in Los Angeles, winning two, and getting a draw. Paul is now acclimated and will look better against Tommy O'Brien than he has against any boy

...AR SIGNS AUGUST 30.—AP.

The fighters will knock off training this afternoon. Demsky is satisfied he can beat O'Brien. He doesn't claim he will stop Tommy, but he will beat him. He saw O'Brien and Tod Morgan fight and that was enough to convince him he is a better fighter than the Harp.

Georgie Gordon, in the semi-windup, is a lightweight who some say has the wallop of a young Dempsey. In one fight that he has had here he showed enough class to make smart fight men realize that from now on the lightweights around here have a new fighter to contend with.

DRUSIE AND SON POPULAR

Harry Drusie and his son Lyman are two of the most popular reinsmen in the Massachusetts State circuit. They frequently oppose each other on the track.

DE HATE MAY GO EAST

Coming Welterweight Expected to Look Good in Fight With Silver at Olympic Wednesday

Paul De Hate, the 140-pound scrapper, who meets Jack Silver at the Olympic Auditorium next Wednesday night, will be boxing in New York within the next few months, according to word today from Manager "Dutch" Meyers.

De Hate's first opponents in New York are likely to be Harry Ebbets and Andy DeVoise, according to Meyers. But before De Hate can conduct his campaign in the East he will have to fulfill a Hollywood contract.

Many smart boxing men agree with Meyers in the belief that De Hate will be a big card after his match against Silver. "He's going to knock him out," declares Meyers. ". . . wouldn't be a bit surprised to see him win." chorus Capt. Seth Strullinger, Willie Rooney, Emmett Ledwith, Eddie Sears, Jerry McCarthy and Barney Dempsey.

"Long John" Silver pulled a Bud Taylor when he failed to arrive in Los Angeles yesterday, but he left San Francisco last night on the Lark.

Silver not only will start his boxing this afternoon but Manager Charley Hutchinson had him scheduled to do road work this morning.

Silver is bound and determined to put himself over solidly with the local fans in the De Hate match.

He knocked out "Mushy" Callahan and beat him decisively through its use. He knocked down Johnny O'Donnell with it. And he plastered Frankie Parren all about the ring with it in his last local bout.

WESTERN OPEN TO START

Country's Leading Golfers Tee Off Today in Big Links Tournament at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Aug. 25. (AP)—Approximately 250 golfers tee off at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning in threesomes to compete in the first thirty-six holes of the qualifying round of the western open golf championship over the Highland Golf and Country Club here.

Eighteen holes Thursday and eighteen Friday will determine the sixty-four qualifiers to enter the final 36 holes Saturday for the championship.

The largest field ever entered in the event includes the class of American professionals and most of the country's best amateurs, only the redoubtable Bobby Jones and Bill Mehlhorn of Chicago being among the missing.

Macdonald Smith, present champion, started out today with another large crowd watching him reel off birdies.

Chick Evans, of Chicago, only amateur to have won the western open, and Walter Hagen, king of professionals, Al Watrous, runner-up in the British open, Joe Turnesa, second to Bobby Jones in the American open, Gene Sarazen, Geo. Diegel, and Jock Hutchison, all professionals, had large galleries watching their practice rounds today.

Girl Golfer Wins Clever Links Match

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Surviving a field day of uniformly brilliant golf with the second best woman's card ever scored on the course, Miss Marion Turpie of Audubon, New Orleans, 17-year-old Southern Association champion, moved into the third-round pairings of the women's western championship play at Olympia Fields today by eliminating Mrs. Melvin Jones, a former title-holder, on her home course, 4 up and 3 to play.

By clipping one off of par on each nine for 40-41-81, she ran off the best match-play score of the tournament.

Miss Hull, a South Bend (Ind.) school-teacher, today defeated Mrs. Jay S. Casseri of Aurora, former Illinois public-links champion.

A third newcomer in the tournament, Miss Elsie Hilding of Highland, Grand Rapids, Mich., went around in 84, one over par, to upset the veteran, Miss Dorothy Klotz of Indian Hills, Chicago, 7 and 6.

Although some 90 of the 150 entries were Chicagoans, not one hometowner will figure in tomorrow's third round.

The pairings:

Miss Dorothy Page, Maple Bluff, Madison, Wis., (96) vs. Miss Elsie Hilding, Grand Rapids (87).
Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City (93) vs. Miss Margaret Waddles, Hutchinson, Kas. (97).
Mrs. Perry Fish, Duluth, Ill. (94) vs. Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit (95).

BERNICE LOGAN AND RADIUM DILLON WIN

STOCKTON (Cal.) Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—S. H. Cowell's bay mare, Bernice Logan, driven by W. H. Tryon, shared honors with Fred Gulick's chestnut horse, Radium Dillon, in the harness features of the second day of the San Joaquin County Fair race meeting here this afternoon. Bernice Logan won the Ad Club stake for 2:20 pacers from a fast field of nine, taking the first two heats and finishing second in the third. The Logan mare was timed in 2:04 3-4 for the second heat, exceptionally good time for this class. It was within a second of the track pacing record. Radium Dillon was well towards the rear in the first heat but back to win the next two laps. He was the favorite in his race, the 2:16 trot.

ATTCO VICTORIOUS IN GRAND CIRCUIT PACE

Referee Jimmy Gardner awarded the fight to the champion and the decision was perfectly right. The champion scaled 116 pounds and Atherton 113 1-2 pounds.

Emil Paluso, the Salt Lake City flyweight, won the referee's decision over Ernie Peters of Chicago after ten rounds of interesting milling. Peters put up a great fight and won many friends by his showing. In the early rounds he respected Emil's right hand but in the last half of the mill he tossed science to the winds and traded punches with the Salt Lake battler.

Taylor. Zbyszko threw the Montana boy in 12 min. 50 secs. The short order match was nothing but a series of head locks with Taylor on the receiving end most of the time.

COLIMA KNOCKS OUT ADAMS IN BEACH GO

Bert Clima scored a technical knockout over Carl Adams in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round main event at the Wilmington Bowl last night. The referee stopped the battle toward the end of the seventh frame when Adams was reeling around helplessly before the Whittier flash. Kid Kopecka slugged his way to a decision in six rounds over Young Bello. Jimmy Black won over Johnny Lozono in six rounds of the special event. Billy Mntoya got the nod over Dick Green and Drexel O'Connor beat Ed Heager.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX PURCHASE BARNABEE

CLIFF RAMIES STOPS CRILLEY IN RING BOUT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (AP)—Cliff Ramies, Los Angeles light-heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Jack Crilley, San Francisco, in the fifth of a scheduled ten-round main event bout at National Hall here tonight. Crilley was outclassed throughout the five frames by the Los Angeles boy.

CAPTAIN SCRAGGS

OR THE GREEN PEA PIRATES

by Peter B. Kyne

OUR STORY:

Three Musketeers of the Sea there are; each as strange a character as the other; each subject to the same impulses and emotions; each as stubborn, cranky, impulsive, tricky and loyal as the others—meet them:

CAPT. PIONEER P. SCRAGGS, rat-faced, purple-nosed and furtive; whose chief delight is to put over a trick on the other two which will result in financial advantage to himself.

ADELBERT F. GIBNEY, a large, lumbering, capable and socially incoherent person of somewhat adventurous experience and who is cursed with too much brains, imagination and thirst. He holds a license as chief mate of steam, any ocean or tonnage.

BARTHOLOMEW McGUFFEY is a good seaman gone wrong. His chief virtue (next to that of Gibney) his mentality is on a par with the other two.

The USS. once shipmates on the little freighter Maggie, owned by Scraggs, are now widely separated. Scraggs has just completed a deal with one Don Manuel Lopez to use the Maggie in running a cargo of arms and ammunition to Mexican revolutionists. He hasn't seen Gibney or McGuffey for more than a year.

But as the Maggie is proceeding down the South Coast, the agent of the revolutionary army hoards her, and proves to be none other than Mr. Gibney, late commander in the Colombian Navy.

Mr. Gibney whistled shrilly through his teeth.

"That's the ticket for soup," he said admiringly. "I tell you, Scraggs, this soldier of fortune business may be all right, but it don't amount to much compared to being a sailor of fortune, eh, Scraggsy? Just as soon as I heard there was a revolution in Mexico I quit my job in the Colombian navy and come north for the pickin's. . . . No, I ain't been in their rotten little arm. . . . D'ye think I want to go around killin' people? . . . There ain't no pleasure gettin' killed in the mere shank of a bright and prosperous life. . . . a dead hero don't gather no moss, Scraggsy. Reads all right in books, but it don't appeal none to me.

"I'm for peace every time, so right away as soon as I heard of the trouble, says I to myself: 'Things has been pretty quiet in Mexico, and they're due to shift things around pretty much. What them peons need is a man with an imagination to help 'em out, and if they've got the money, Adelbert F. Gibney can supply the brains.'

"So I comes north to Los Angeles, shows the insurrecto junta my medal and my honorable discharges from every ship I'd ever been in, includin' the gunboat Bogota, and I talked big and swelled around and told 'em to run in some arms and get busy.

"I framed it all up for this filibuster trip you're on, Scraggsy, only I never did hear that they'd pick on you. I told that coffee-colored rat of a Lopez man to hunt up Scab Johnny and he'd set him right, but if anybody had told me you had the nerve to run the Maggie in on this deal, Scraggsy, I'd a-called him a liar.

"Scraggs, you're mucho-bueno—that is, you're all right. I'm so used to talkin' Spanish that I forget myself. Still, there's one end of this little deal that I ain't exactly explained to all hands. If I'd a-known they was charterin' the Maggie I'd have blocked the game."

"Why?" demanded Captain Scraggs instantly on the defensive.

"Not that I'm holdin' any grudge agin you, Scraggsy," said Mr. Gibney affably, "but I wouldn't a-had you no more now than I would when we was runnin' in the green-pea trade. It's because you ain't got no imagination, and the Maggie ain't big enough for my purpose. Havin' the Maggie sort of puts a crimp in my plans."

"Rot," snapped Captain Scraggs. "I've had the Maggie overhauled and shipped a new wheel, and she's a mighty smart little boat. I'll tell you. I'll land them arms in Descanso Bay all right."

"I know you will," said Mr. Gibney sadly. "That's just what hurts. You see, Scraggsy, I never intended 'em for Descanso Bay in the first place. There's a nice healthy little revolution fomentin' down in the United States of Colombia, with Adelbert F. Gibney playin' both ends to the middle. And there's a dog-hole down on the Gold Coast where I intended to land this cargo, but now that Scab Johnny's gone to work and sent me a bay scow instead of a seagoing steamer, I'm in the nine-hole instead o' dog-hole. I can never get as far as the Gold Coast with the Maggie. She can't carry coal enough to last her."

"But I thought these guns and things was for the Mexicans," quavered Captain Scraggs. "Scab Johnny and Lopez told me they was."

Mr. Gibney groaned and hid his face in his hands. "Scraggsy," he said sadly, "it's a cinch you ain't used the past four years to stimulate that imagination of yours. Of course they was purchased for the Mexicans, but what was to prevent me from lettin' the Mexicans pay for them, help out on the charter of the boat, and then have me divert the cargo to the United States of Colombia, where I can sell 'em at a clear profit, the cost bein' nothin' to speak of? Now you got to come buttin' in with the Maggie, and what happens? Why, I got to be honest, of course. I got to make good on my bluff, and what's in it for me? Nothin' but glory. Can you hock a chunk of glory for ham and eggs, Phineas Scraggs? Not on your life. If it hadn't been for you buttin' in with your blasted, rotten hulk of a fresh-water skiff, I'd—"

Mr. Gibney paused ominously and savagely bit the end of his cigar. As for Capt. Scraggs, every drop of blood in his body was boiling in defense of the ship he loved.

"You're a pirate," he shrilled.

"And you're just as big a hornet as you ever was," replied Mr. Gibney. "Always bussin' around where you ain't wanted. But still, what's the use of bawlin' over spilt milk? We'll drop into San Diego for a couple of hours and take on coal, and about sunset we'll pull out and make the run down to Descanso Bay in the dark. We might as well forget the past and put this thing through as per program."

"Only I saw visions of a schooner all my own, Scraggsy, and—well what's the use? What's the use? Scraggsy, you're a natural - born mar-plot. Always buttin' in, buttin' in, buttin' in, fit for nothin' but the green-pea trade. However, I guess I can turn into my old berth and get some sleep. Put the old girl under a slow bell and save your coal. We'll have to fool away four or five hours in San Diego anyhow and there ain't no sense in crowdin' the old hulk."

"Oih," said Capt. Scraggs, "was that really your lay—to steal the cargo, double-cross the insurrecto junta, and sell out to a furrin' country?"

"Of course it was," said Mr. Gibney pettishly. "They all do such things in the banana republics. Why should I be an exception? There's half a dozen different gangs fightin' each other and the government in Mexico, and if I don't deliver these arms, just see all the lives I'll be savin'.

"And after I got the cargo into Colombia and sold it, I could have peached on the rebels there, and got a reward for it, and saved a lot more lives, and come away rich and respected."

"By the Lord Harry," said Capt. Scraggs, "but you've got an imagination, Gib. I'll swear to that. Gib, I take off my hat to you. You're all tight and shipshape and no loose ends bobbin' around you. Don't tell me th' scheme's got t' fall through, Gib. Great snakes, don't tell me that. Ain't there some way o' gettin' around it? There must be.

"Why, Gib, my dear boy, I never heard of such a grand lay in my life. It's a absolute winner. Don't give up, Gib. Oil up your imagination and find a way out. Let's get together, Gib, and make a little money. Dang it all, Gib, I been lonesome ever since I seen you last."

"Well," replied Mr. Gibney. "I'll turn in and try to scheme a way out, but I don't hold out no hope. Not a ray of it. I'm afraid, Scraggsy, we've got to be honest."

Saying which, Mr. Gibney hopped up into his berth, stretched his huge legs, and fell asleep with his clothes on. Capt. Scraggs looked him over with the closest approach to affection that had ever lightened his cold gray eye, and sighing heavily, presently went on deck. As he passed up the companion-way, the first mate heard him murmur:

RETREAT FOR INSPIRATION AND STRENGTH

The Song of the Pines --- and the Still Small Voice

...t your little boy in the picture?

...y have so many of our great men ...from the woods, farms and open ...y?

...t foundation for real noteworthy ...ishment in life will your boy ...?

...t foundation to be laid among ...e or less artificial surroundings ...with men's hands, mortared with ...l sophistication, and ornamented ...ning device and conceit?

...n it be?

...ll the still small voice reach him ...in the roaring city or in the moun-..., where the stillness is broken ...y the song of the wind in the pines, the lapping of the lake, and the singing of the birds?

Where will he get the better conception of spiritual values and learn to trust supreme, infinite Intelligence above his own?

Is it not out where even the leaves and flowers turn naturally toward the light?

Is it not the clear understanding of fundamental rightness that makes our great men great?

And did they not draw much of their spiritual strength from the years they had spent alone with nature and its divine Source?

The woods, the water and the country are the natural joy of a boy's life. He will be stronger and healthier mentally and bodily if he spends as much time as possible close to nature.

Lake Arrowhead Woods has a great work to perform.

As time goes on the world will look for and expect great things from Southern California.

It is logical that it should.

Great movements, great leadership, great light must come out of Southern California.

The goal of man since time began must be achieved right here—in this paradise at the end of the way, toward which men's eyes have long been turned.

Lake Arrowhead will be a retreat for inspiration and strength for those who must play a part in the era which we are now entering.

Its five thousand acres of forest and lake will be something of a model and example in itself.

Its trees and scenery are protected and conserved.

In its model village a high standard of beauty, service and harmony will be developed.

In its residence areas ideals of architecture, of natural home surroundings and of recreative living are being and will be carried out.

To have a home in Lake Arrowhead Woods is going to mean something to the owner besides the strength, recreation and pleasure derived from it. He will be a part of a constructive activity known throughout the nation.

Those who do not have homes may have any service they wish—from the finest hotel service to simple cottages and camps.

There is an opportunity for everyone to get into the woods—four hours' drive from the metropolis—with no special preparation necessary—except that one should be prepared to tramp in the woods.

When you get out in these woods and relax you will learn to love them. Then you will come—again and again.

...f tournament September 17, 18, 19. The Lake Arrowhead course is in a beautiful little valley surrounded by wooded ridges. RAILS PLAN FOR FRUIT HANDLING

Seek Prompt Unloading and Release of Perishables

Appoint Joint Receivers and Terminal Committees

Large Refrigerator Supply is Held Available

More than 300 joint receivers and railroad terminal committees, with a personnel of more than 5000, have been established in the United States to actively engage in obtaining the prompt unloading and release of refrigerator cars carrying California fruits and vegetables, according to a statement made yesterday by G. A. Leithner, district manager of the car service division of the American Railway Association, San Francisco.

Mr. Leithner has established committees at seven of the principal unloading stations of perishables in the California territory of the Pacific Coast transportation advisory board, to speed up refrigerator car turnaround within the State during the next ninety days. These terminal committees have been established at Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Fresno, Sacramento, Stockton and San Jose.

"The railroads today," Mr. Leithner said, "control approximately 136,000 refrigerator cars, a sufficient number to adequately protect all perishables offered for transportation, provided receivers concentrate their efforts in the matter of quickly unloading cars at final destinations throughout the entire country.

"Private car-line companies and railroads operating in the territory of the Pacific Coast transportation advisory board control 56,000 refrigerators, and to this number it has been arranged to add in the neighborhood of from 20,000 to 25,000 cars of foreign lines to meet the situation this year."

Reports at the American Railway Association offices show that the new grape car plan, which demands that a grape shipper file a special grape bond and give notice of car requirements ten days in advance of shipping date, is working smoothly in all territories of the State.

Market Cleared of Cottonseed Oil Carryover

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Record-breaking consumption of cottonseed oil products during the crop year just ended, not only lifted the weight of the year's enormous current supply of oil, says the National Bank of Commerce in New York, but also cleared the market of a heavy carry-over from the previous season.

Only moderate supplies have been carried forward into the new year, sufficient, however, to supply requirements until the next crop of seed, which again promises to be large, comes to the market in quantity.

SUGAR PRICE CU

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (AP)—The price of refined sugar to wholesalers at the refineries declined by twenty cents a hundred pounds today, making the new cane base $5.70 and the new beet base $5.60.

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

LONDON, Aug. 25. (By Wireless)—The markets were steady here today, the chief feature being the moderate increase in the business transacted in certain speculative markets, like oils, and kaffirs.

Rails and industrials were neglected pending coal developments. Cases of intimidation increase in the mine strike areas, but it is believed these must react against the miners and ultimately hasten the return to work.

French francs were rather better, but sterling was weak at 4.85½. Calico printers' accounts show a reduction in net profits from £300,000 to £216,000.

THEATER LIENS OUT

Bond Issue of $1,850,000 Being Sold by Straus Company

S. W. Straus & Co., have purchased a first mortgage 6 1-4 per cent serial coupon bond issue of $1,853,000, of which $1,050,000 is being offered. These bonds are secured by the Frances-Orpheum Theater and office building, Sioux City, Iowa.

The bonds, which mature in three to fifteen years, are priced to yield from 6 to 6.30 per cent, according to maturities, and constitute a direct closed first mortgage on land, building and equipment. They are the direct obligation of the Frances Building Company.

NEW FINANCING ANNOUNCED

Bankers Offer $30,000,000 Westinghouse Electric, Chilean and Utility Bonds

Activity in the bond market will assume large proportions today with three flotations, aggregating $44,750,000, scheduled for sale in this territory. This financing consists of an issue of $30,000,000 Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company twenty-year 5 per cent debenture bonds, an issue of $10,000,000 Republic of Chile six-months 8 per cent treasury gold notes, and an issue of $4,750,000 Public Service Company of Oklahoma first mortgage 5 per cent bonds.

The debentures of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, due September 1, 1946, will be offered by a banking syndicate headed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co., at 99 and accrued interest to yield approximately 5.10 per cent. It is understood that the proceeds of the issue will be used to redeem the outstanding 7 per cent liens due November 1, 1926.

A banking group headed by Blair & Co., Inc., and Chase Securities Corporation and including Brown Brothers & Co., The Equitable Trust Company of New York, E. H. Rollins and Sons, Graham, Parsons & Co., Illinois Merchants Trust Company, Continental and Commercial Company and First Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, will market the Chilean securities at 99 7-8 to yield about 5 1-4 per cent. The notes are dated August 25, 1926 and due February 25, 1927.

The notes will be a direct obligation of the Republic of Chile, which pledges its good faith and credit for the punctual payment of principal and interest. It is understood that the liens are issued to provide funds for the construction of certain public works in accordance with the law of January 11, 1922.

Chile is engaged largely in mining, agriculture and stock raising. Mining products include nitrate of soda, copper, iron ore, coal and other raw materials. In addition, it has extensive timber areas. Chilean credit has ranked high, the first external loan having been placed in London nearly 100 years ago and it is understood that from the first days of the republic the interest and sinking-fund payments on its external loans have been met promptly.

Halsey, Stuart & Co., A. B. Leach & Co., and Hill Joiner & Co., will offer the series "C" bonds of the Public Service Company of Oklahoma. The bonds mature September 1, 1961 and are priced at 98 to yield about 5.10 per cent. The proceeds of the issue will be used primarily for refunding the entire outstanding bonded debt of the company consisting of 6 per cent bonds, thus effecting a substantial saving in interest charges.

The bonds are secured by a first mortgage on the properties of the company which serve Tulsa and twenty-eight other communities in Oklahoma with electricity.

WARNER BROS. MARKET HIT

Picture Stock Is Sensation on New York Stock Exchange; Vitaphone Earnings Chief Reason

BY EARLE E. CROWE

In Warner Bros. Pictures, the New York stock market has another sensation supplied from the Pacific Coast, or more particularly, from Hollywood. Warner Bros. "A" stock is perhaps the most popular of the so-called specialty group, having performed the remarkable feat of rising from 15, the price at which the stock was sold to the public in February, to a high yesterday of 50. Only a few weeks ago the stock was selling at 18.

Buying of the stock is traced directly to the reports of high earnings, mainly from the Vitaphone Corporation, controlled by Warner Bros. Pictures, which manufactures a device to synchronize sound with motion pictures. The device is now in use in different theaters, and is reported highly successful. Contracts with the Western Electric Company, with certain of the Metropolitan Opera House stars, and with theater owners, are considered as important sources of revenue for Warner Bros.

PICTURES PROFITABLE

Earnings from productions are also running at a high rate, according to the information drifting into the stock market. The 1925-26 schedule called for twenty-six pictures, or more than two a month. Such pictures as "Lady Windemere's Fan," "The Sea Beast" and others are understood to have been large money makers, and "Don Juan," the latest, is forecast as another box office hit.

From Los Angeles has come a substantial proportion of the buying orders in Warner Bros. "A." The motion-picture colony numbers in its population some of the largest speculators in the city, and many of them are understood to have taken on large lines of Warner Bros. between 20 and 25, and pyramided on the way up. Within the last few days the tips on the stock have mentioned prices considerably higher than current levels.

The small capitalization of the company is the important influence in stimulating the wide swings. The assumption is that a pool, or the controlling interests, has picked up the majority of the floating supply, and is running the market its own way, probably to the discomfort of short traders. Operations on the short side were encouraged shortly after the issuance of the new class "A" shares, when the company failed to pay the March quarterly dividend of 37½ cents. Capitalization consists of $1,999,800 of class "A," par value $10, and 350,020 of no par value common outstanding.

DIVIDEND EXPECTED

Because of the convertible feature of the class "A," allowing conversion into common, share for share, at any time, this stock has lost all significance as a preferred issue. The regular rate is $1.50 annually, but the speculators undoubtedly reason that it is better to buy the dividend paying issue and convert when the directors are in a position to initiate dividends on the common. That this time is not far away is indicated by the market action of the latter stock. The common sold up yesterday on the New York Curb to 49, only 1 point behind the preferred.

Earnings apparently justify early dividend action on the common. For the year ended March 31, 1925, earnings on the preferred were the equivalent to $4.87 and to $2.74 on the common. Since that time, however, the development of the Vitaphone and the successes of new pictures have completely revised the earnings situation, with the result that estimates above $12 a share are now made for the preferred for this year.

Declaration of common dividends is restricted by the provision that capital and surplus must first equal $20 a share for each share of class "A" stock outstanding. Since the amount of "A" outstanding is not large, and it is likely that conversion will further reduce this amount, the probabilities are that this stipulation will be satisfied before many months have passed. The directors, however, will undoubtedly convince themselves first of the permanence of the Vitaphone earnings.

COMMERCE ASSISTANCE ADVOCATED

Banker Urges Handling of Excess Exchange Bills by Western Banks

There is sufficient incoming and outgoing foreign business on the Pacific Coast to warrant the western banks buying and selling exchange among themselves, rather than looking to New York for this outlet, as is the case at present, in the opinion of Carl W. Bull, assistant manager of the foreign and domestic departments of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, who has just returned, from a month's trip through Oregon, Washington, and the lower part of British Columbia.

During his trip, Mr. Bull called on banks and bankers in the Pacific Northwest and found that they were not using Los Angeles as an outlet for their exchange.

"In the past," Mr. Bull said, "many of the banks of the Coast have been looking to New York as the principal outlet for their excess foreign bills arising from exports. At the same time, New York has been selling exchange back to other western banks because of the demand for foreign bills created by that financing of imports. It is evident that New York made one and sometimes two profits by buying the exchange and selling it back, often to a bank a few blocks from the point where the exchange originated.

"Los Angeles has built a harbor through which merchandise is moving to all parts of the world to a value in excess of $100,000,000 annually to foreign ports only. By handling these exchanges among themselves, clients of the western banks would benefit through the elimination of one New York profit, and at the same time keep the funds in the West."

(AP)—Governors of the New York Stock Exchange today granted the petition of a majority of the members to close the exchange on Saturday, September 4, for a three-day recess over Labor Day. The New York curb market also will observe the holiday. The New York Cotton Exchange previously had taken similar action.

WOOL TRADE IMPROVES

BOSTON, Aug. 25. (AP)—The tone of the wool market is more cheerful. Activity is broadening and sizable quantities have moved this week. The principal factor in the recent development has been the larger demand for Australian fine wools of the 60s and finer. Territory and Texas wools are selling. All grades of territory are getting demand. Ohio fleeces have inquiry for the finer grades, but little is reported sold. The purchasing is being done by a few worsted mills. Prices are steady on

Beverly Group Purchases Two Outlying Banks

Acquisition of the West Hollywood and Beverly National banks, each with approximately $1,000,000 in deposits, by a group headed by Richard L. Hargreaves, president of the Liberty National Bank of Beverly Hills, was announced yesterday. Mr. Hargreaves will be actively identified with each bank as vice-president.

Emerson C. Eachel, retired capitalist, but for twenty-five years actively identified with the Underwood typewriter interests is to be president of the Beverly National and Walter G. McCarty will be chairman of the advisory board which will function as an executive committee. George B. Mauser, capitalist and large property owner, will be president of the West Hollywood National, with Fred LaBlond, vice president and F. C. Hardy, who established the bank in 1920, chairman of the board of directors.

STROMBERG'S NET PROFITS DECLINE

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Net profit of Stromberg Carburetor for the half year was $336,206, equal to $4.20 a share, against $385,369, or $4.81 a share in the first half of 1925. Company officials anticipate good business in the second half of the year owing to continued large operations in the automobile manufacturing industry and good demand for the company's products from motor-car users.

EARNINGS JUMP

(AP)—Larger earnings are reported by the Missouri Pacific for July than the same month last year, net operating income rising to $6,605,840 from $1,465,606 and gross revenues to $11,115,984 from $10,935,242. BANKER PARLEY AIMS OUTLINED

General Survey of Program Given in Call

President Says Meeting Here Most Important

New York City Delegation of Fifty-six Coming

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Legislation affecting banking, methods of protecting banks against bandits and many other subjects of general public importance will fill the sessions of the American Bankers' Association convention to be held in Los Angeles October 4 to 7, it is announced by Oscar Wells, president of the organization, in a call to members made public here today. Mr. Wells says:

"No greater array of subjects of paramount interest and importance to the individual banker has ever been presented at any convention of the American Bankers' Association than will crowd the sessions this October at Los Angeles. Effective methods have been developed for quelling bank banditry through co-operative efforts by banks along lines suited to their circumstances and these will be fully discussed.

"The rapid extension of special banking functions, such as those having to do with savings, fiduciary services and investments by classes of banks formerly not engaged in these activities, has created a need for more complete interchange of experience related to these subjects and this will be fully provided through the various technical discussions at the convention.

LEGISLATION AT TOP

"The present is fraught with much interest among bankers in the subject of legislation and particularly Federal legislation dealing with the extension of the charters of the twelve Federal reserve banks, the control of branch banking, the equalizing of rights between national banks and State-chartered institutions and the widening of the provisions for lending money on real estate under the laws governing the conduct of national banks. Bankers attending the annual conventions of the association are afforded splendid opportunities for knowing how other bankers regard these things. A question of prime importance to every banker is the growing movement for more equitable State taxation for banks and the discussions at the convention will suggest means for this end in your State.

"In the broader view of general business, there is the problem of installment selling, the underlying conditions fo business which have been subject to so much uncertainty and questioning during the year and other equally important subjects which will add to the profits of attending this meeting."

REPORT ON COTTON PROSPECTS GLOOMY

SURVEY MADE BY TEXAS FIRM PESSIMISTIC AS TO CROP OUTLOOK

AUSTIN (Tex.) Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Reliable reports and personal investigation covering every part of the cotton-producing area of the South form the basis for a very pessimistic statement of crop prospects made by M. H. Thomas & Co., of Dallas, veteran cotton factors. F. D. Thomas, junior member of the firm, in an analysis of the cotton-crop situation, said:

"Regardless of climatic conditions from now on it will be almost impossible to eliminate insects, and a large crop is impossible. With an early frost date, a normal crop even would be impossible. For years science has fought the worm and the weevil, and the other pests. We have expected, and at times it has been believed, that the entomologist has been successful. But the insects are with us again, working disaster to the crop. We may see the spectacle of a cotton crop next year utterly destroyed.

"Reports of bankers, cotton merchants, cottonseed-oil men, and some field agents, show as a whole that deterioration since the 1st inst. has been enormous."

COTTON REPORT PLAN FAILS

Frequency of Bi-Monthly Estimate on Crop No Longer in Favor With Former Advocates of Change

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—The rise of 45 a bale in cotton prices Monday following publication of the government's fortnightly crop estimate and the consequent trade disturbance in cloth markets again raise the question of the advisability of reports at such frequent intervals.

Business men favored the change from a monthly to a bimonthly basis two years ago in the hope of fluctuations in condition estimates would be narrower and prices could be stabilized with greater ease. Complaints were numerous among buyers as well as sellers after the sharp advance this week, resulting in the withdrawal of prices by many agents in the unfinished-cloth markets.

Although it was generally believed the stiffening in prices, which caused not a little surprise in Worth street, would stimulate business after Labor Day, there was a feeling of uncertainty that buyers might be inclined to await the next government report to learn whether important changes in the situation had developed before placing orders.

Business showed signs of expansion soon after the government crop estimate had been announced and unless the market for raw cotton is again disturbed by unexpected developments, such as storms in the crop belt, a more optimistic view of the textile situation will be taken early next month.

Cotton cloths of several kinds have been moved more readily in the last several weeks, although in the trade it is said to be not unusual to find increased activity in July followed by dullness late in August. Manufacturers as well as jobbers, who usually delay placing orders until after Labor Day, are expected to come into the market by the middle of next month.

Cotton goods merchants, therefore, look forward with some apprehension to the next fortnightly report on crop conditions to be published early next month. They say these estimates have proved a hindrance rather than a benefit to regular merchandising. With so short a time between reports, they believe, the buyer is constantly tempted to wait for publication of the next report if the one just issued does not suit his views, and consequently "we have waiting spells and active spells in place of steady trading."

Because of the recent price instability and the widespread desire of those engaged in the textile industry to obtain as much business as possible this season, increasingly keen competition is anticipated. Says one cotton-goods house:

"There will undoubtedly be keen competition this fall because everyone will want to run his mill in full if he can do so at a profit, and to that end selling agents can be counted on for all possible activity. We believe that the demand will be sufficient, however, and the surplus stocks at the mills too small to let this competition run to the cut-throat kind.

"As we have no idea what the final outcome of the present cotton crop will be, we venture no opinion upon prices beyond the expression that 16 cents to 17 cents is far from an excessive price for cotton, based on cost to produce, and that the current prices for cotton goods are relatively even more conservative."

Belgian Railway Stock Issue is on Market Here

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Subscriptions for the 10,000,000,000-franc issue of 6 per cent preferred stock of the Belgian National Railways Company, which is being offered in the principal European markets this week as the first step in the stabilization of the Belgian franc, are being received in New York by L. F. Rothschild & Co., and the New York agency of the Banque Belge Pour L'Etranger.

Holders of Belgium government treasury bonds, maturing December 1, are being given the option of exchanging their bonds for these shares, or for new bonds. Payment of principal and interest on the new stock is guaranteed at the rate of 175 francs per pound sterling.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Opening of call and time money was brought about another change in today's stock market. OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

A session of Signal Hill and Los Cerritos oil operators is to be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the City Council chambers at Long Beach to complete the financing of the plans inaugurated several weeks ago for the construction of a waste removal system in the Long Beach oil fields. It is understood that approximately $100,000 is required to carry out the contemplated program and that only a small portion of this sum has been raised so far.

The question of waste disposal in the Long Beach fields arose when the existing system was declared inadequate and its franchise canceled several months ago. At that time the operators held a series of meetings, and formed the Oil Operators, Inc., a nonprofit corporation, authorized to sell memberships totaling $200,000. Under the original financing scheme it was planned to assess each derrick in the fields affected $100, this plan being figured to raise approximately $60,000, from the total of 600 derricks. Subsequent developments indicate that considerably more than $60,000 will be required, and the Friday afternoon meeting will be held to settle the question.

Officers of Oil Producers, Inc. are J. C. Barnett, Pan-American Petroleum Company, President; J. B. Henderson, Henderson Petroleum Corporation, first vice-president, W. C. Lynch, general Petroleum Corporation, vice-president, F. C. Bryant, California Petroleum Corporation, vice-president, A. R. Yates, Dabney Oil Syndicate, Inc. treasurer, and Harry T. Hennessey, Associated Oil Company, secretary.

In announcing the Friday meeting yesterday Mr. Hennessey asserted that a full attendance of all interested operators is imperative, because of the necessity of complying immediately with the city ordinances requiring the abolition of the waste nuisance in Signal Hill and Los Cerritos.

Making Pump Test

The Temescal Petroleum Company is rigging its Landers No. 3 well in Piru district to the pump, and will continue the production which has been conducted by swabbing, it was reported yesterday by J. C. Anderson, president of the Pan-American Petroleum Company. The Temescal company is one of the Doheny companies, organized especially to exploit the Temescal Ranch, aggregating 10,000 acres, owned by Doheny in fee.

Unofficial reports are to the effect that the Landers No. 3 made a production at the rate of 200 barrels a day during the swabbing test. It made several flows by heads, it is said. Reports from Fillmore, Piru and other places in the vicinity of the well placed the production at above 1000 barrels, and asserted that the well blew out once, but these rumors cannot be confirmed.

Landers No. 3 is located about one-half mile east of the original Landers wells, which first established the fact of production on the Temescal Ranch. It is in a new area and affects a considerable acreage not considered proven by the Landers No. 1, and No. 2. Depth of Landers No. 1 is officially reported at 2201 feet.

Starts New Well

The McCaslin Oil Company, which brought in a well making 300 barrels a day on the Patton & Gregg property in the Whittier field about a week ago, is starting a second well on the same property, it is officially reported.

Gets Flow of Gas

Reports of discovery of inflammable gas in the Eureka Oil Company's Duff No. 1 well near Eureka, were made yesterday. The showing is said to have been found at 1956 feet, and a production test is to be made at that depth, it is said. The chemical analysis of the gas has not yet been reported, and until this is available it will not be known whether it is petroleum gas, or merely the marsh gas which is frequently found in California, and which has little value unless it is found in large enough quantities to serve as industrial fuel.

The Eureka Oil Company has a large lease on Humboldt Hill, four miles south of the city of Eureka in Humboldt county.

Near Completion

One well within a week, and another a week later are expected by the Shell Company to go on production in the Ventura Avenue field at Ventura, according to officials of the company.

Edison No. 6 is scheduled for completion somewhere around the first of September. The well is now drilling ahead at about 5800 feet. Taylor No. 13 should be the next completion about September 10. This well is drilling at about 5600 feet. Both are expected to go on production at about 6000 feet.

Rig Well to Pump

The California Petroleum Corporation has placed its Wedum-Aldahl No. 1 well in the Los Cerritos district on the pump, according to field reports. The well is at Cameron and Weston Places.

Another well to go on the beam yesterday was the Wilshire Oil Company's No. A-3 at American avenue and Thirty-seventh street.

Near Completion

The Gallagher No. 1 well in the northwest extension of the Signal Hill field at Linden avenue near Wardlow Road, should go on production today, according to field reports. The well is said to have good penetration of the deep zone, and unless water trouble intervenes, should make a good producer.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Further scattered undesired rains in the Central and Eastern States of the cotton belt, together with the Gulf storm threatening to enter the belt through the New Orleans district, turned the cotton market up today, with better Liverpool cables than had been expected.

Prices advanced between 20 and 25 points from yesterday's closing decline, with October again selling at 17.95 cents, December 17.97 cents, January 18 cents, March 18.20 cents and May 18.32 cents. Further covering of shorts and new trade and local speculative buying absorbed the scattered liquidation and fresh southern selling.

Prices reacted 15 to 20 points from the top, with the decline in the stock market after mid-day, but this pressure was well met and the undertone held good up to the close with the trade interest continuing in the bad weather over most sections the belt from too much rain.

The forecast was for further thunder showers over the eastern half of the belt tonight and tomorrow, with rain and gales for the Louisiana coast.

These unfavorable conditions offset the forecasts for clearing weather tonight and tomorrow in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

The weekly government weather and crop bulletin was spotted and on the whole was considered unfavorable on the weather conditions of the last week as affecting the progress of the crop.

Liverpool futures closed steady at a net advance of 6 to 7 points on the day.

Many good crop reports come from parts of Texas, but they are offset by poor ones from other sections in that State and Oklahoma, both of which combined produce about 45 per cent of the total. Picking the first or bottom crop is making slow progress outside Southern Texas where it is going ahead under favorable conditions.

LEGAL FOR THE INVESTMENT OF TRUST FUNDS, IN THE OPINION OF COUNSEL, UNDER THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

165 Broadway Building

NEW YORK CITY

Benenson Building Corporation

First Mortgage 5.50 Per Cent Sinking Fund Gold Loan

(Closed Mortgage)

Dated August 1st, 1926 Due August 1st, 1951

Interest payable February 1st and August 1st. Principal and semi-annual interest payable at the office of the Trustee, The New York Trust Company, New York. Denominations $1000 and $500. Interest payable without deduction for Federal Income Tax not in excess of two per cent. Refund of certain California, Connecticut, District of Columbia, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan and Pennsylvania taxes, upon timely and proper application, as provided in the Trust Agreement.

Location: The 165 Broadway Building, formerly known as the City Investing Building, the principal property securing this loan, is one of the largest office buildings in the financial section of New York City. Adjoining the 165 Broadway Building at the corner of Church and Liberty Streets is the property known as 9 Church Street, which is also owned by the Benenson Building Corporation.

Property: The 165 Broadway Building is a 32-story modern office building. It occupies a plot of approximately 26,800 square feet facing on three thoroughfares, has entrances on Broadway, Cortlandt and Church Streets, contains a net rentable area of about 470,000 square feet of office and store space, and is served by 22 high-speed elevators.

Security: This loan will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a closed first mortgage on the land and building owned in fee at 165 Broadway, known as the 165 Broadway Building, and the adjoining land and building owned in fee at 9 Church Street. The total ground area of the two properties is approximately 30,240 square feet, with over 493 feet of street frontage on Broadway, Cortlandt, Church and Liberty Streets. Land and buildings have been independently appraised as having a value of $16,080,007.

This loan represents less than 59.1 per cent of the appraised value.

Earnings: The 165 Broadway Building is 100 per cent rented and for the last seven years has averaged more than 98 per cent rented. The earnings of the mortgaged properties, as furnished by certified public accountants, after adjustment for increased rents from present leases, for the year ended April 30th, 1926, are as follows:

Gross earnings	$1,775,029.84
Operating expenses, maintenance, insurance and taxes (not including Federal Taxes)	699,081.39
Balance	$1,075,948.45
Maximum annual interest charges on this loan	$ 521,427.50

Due to the renewal of expiring leases at higher rates and the reduction of expenses, it is estimated the net earnings for the current fiscal year will be in excess of $1,157,000.

The operation of a semi-annual sinking fund beginning February 1st, 1927, through purchase in the open market or through retirement by lot, is calculated to reduce this loan to $5,400,000 at maturity, or less than the present appraised value of the land alone.

This loan is offered when, as, and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel, Messrs. Chapman, Cutler and Parker, and Messrs. Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett, for the Bankers, and Messrs. Coleman, Stern and Ellenwood, for the Corporation.

BOND QUOTATIONS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Heavy buying of a few foreign issues featured today's irregular bond market. The demand centered largely in Italian government 7s of 1951, which advanced fractionally on a turnover of nearly $750,000 (par value.) Polish 8s of 1940 continued their advance and the 6s touched a new high record for the year at 70. German governments and municipals were firm on the removal of the "peg" from that country's currency, but the German General Electric 6 1-2s fell back 2 points. Mexican government issues were strong despite the deadlock in the negotiations for a settlement of the church controversy.

Although the averages showed little change on the day, an easier tone was apparent for many of the high-grade industrial issues, due to a further stiffening of money rates. With call money at 5 per cent for the first time in a fortnight and time money quoted at 4 3-4 to 5, as against 4 1-2 to 5 yesterday, bond traders saw little incentive for a broad buying movement in bonds. Heaviness of Westinghouse Electric 7s of 1931, which sagged to a new 1926 low at 104 3-4, was due to reports that the issue would be refunded through the sale of a new 5 per cent issue, the bonds having sold above the "call" price.

Publication of additional favorable July earnings reports and the establishment of record freight-car loadings for the twelfth consecutive week had a stabilizing influence on the railroad group. However, Chesapeake and Ohio convertible 5s dropped over 3 points, presumably in sympathy with the recent decline in that stock, and a slightly smaller loss was recorded by Wheeling and Lake Erie Consolidated 4s. On the other hand, moderate gains were recorded by Atlanta and Danville first 4s and Rio Grande Western Consolidated 4s.

New offerings, totaling nearly $60,000,000 were announced for tomorrow. The largest was a $30,000,000 issue of twenty-year, 5 per cent bonds, of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company at ninety-nine by a syndicate, headed by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and the Chase Securities Corporation. The proceeds of the issue will be used to retire a similar amount of 7 per cent bonds which are to be called for redemption November 1, next, thus reducing the company's fixed charges.

The quotations represent sales or bonds (in thousands of dollars,) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

Grain Futures Shade Up After Weak Opening

CHICAGO, Aug. 25. (Illustrated)—The grain markets were weakest during the morning and strongest toward the last hour with the finish well toward the best prices, as early sellers on the decline were best buyers at the last. While there was an absorption of offerings on the breaks and a moderate selling pressure on the bulges, it represented operations by professionals and the day's range at the extreme was not heavy. At the close, wheat showed gains of ⅝@⅞ cent, corn ⅛@⅜ cent, while oats were ⅛ cent lower. May oats were steady, unchanged to ⅛ cent lower. Rye was up ⅛@⅜ cent. Liverpool closed slightly higher after a lower start.

News of wheat was mixed and traders were not disposed to extend their interests to any great extent. There was an increase of 8,000,000 bushels in Bradstreet's visible supply for the week against a decrease of 2,600,000 bushels last year, with a total supply of 135,000,000 bushels against 84,-000,000 bushels last year. The movement of winter wheat is liberal for this season and of spring wheat is barely getting under way. This makes an unsettled feeling in the trade owing to the uncertainty as to the disposition to sell on the part of farmers on both sides of the international line.

Foreign crop and statistical news is moderately bullish and foreign buyers more disposed to take hold, while the milling trade was in the market to a fair extent with premiums generally well maintained. Russia sold two cargoes of wheat to France, which appears to be Russia's best customer, as it is understood that French bankers extend more financial assistance to Russian exporters. September wheat closed at 1.35⅝@1.36, December, 1.39⅝@1.39⅝, and May at 1.44⅞@1.44⅝.

Heavy selling of corn by houses with extensive western connections, depressed values nearly 1 cent from the previous day's close, all of which was recovered later by a movement on the part of shorts to take profits and by purchases by a few local operators who are bullish. The buying of September and selling of December by elevator and country interests widened the spread to 5¾ cents, the greatest so far. The movement from the country continues light. September corn closed at 78¼@78⅝; December, 84@84⅛; May, 90⅝@90¾.

Oats trade was small with commission houses leading the buying on weak spots, and cash interests changing from September to December. The cash situation is moderately bearish. September closed at 39⅝@39⅝; December, 43⅝; May, 44⅝.

There was buying of rye that looked like export business and selling by the Northwest and by local industries. The close on September was 96⅛ and December 1.02⅛.

Pressure was put on January lard by a few local operators and it closed 5 cents lower. There was weakness in other deliveries for a time, but it rallied and closed th same as previous day. There was liquidation by holders of September lard and buying by cash handlers who sold the deferred futures.

Latvia's industrial and agricultural exhibition this year was considered a failure in every way.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. (AP)—Prices of curb securities yielded to liquidating pressure today, the downward movement which was influenced in a measure by higher call money and time money rates and the heavier tone of securities on the stock exchange, affecting nearly all of the leading issues.

One or two specialties stood out in resistance to the receding movement, Warner Brothers' Pictures crossing 43 for a new high and closing for a net gain of about 11 points. This was a gain of more than 20 points from the low of the year.

Mixed movements marked the industrial list, strength developing in Continental Baking "A," which closed 2 1-4 points net higher, while the "B" shares gained nearly a point in anticipation of their transfer to the "Big Board" tomorrow. The new stocks of the General Motors and Dupont companies continued to move in sympathy with the old issues on the stock exchange, considerable arbitrage being reported in each case. Centrifugal Pipe was heavy, presumably on selling influenced by increased foreign competition. Coal shares were heavy on caabled reports that many British miners had returned to work in definance of their union officials.

Oil shares continued sluggish on reports of another increase in crude-oil production last week. Net declines on a rule, were limited to fractions.

The closing price is omitted when same as the last sale, and both low and close when same as the high.

STOCKS HIT BY FRESH SETBACK

STEEL OFF

Persistent liquidation of United States Steel common which sold down to 146 3-4, as against the record high of 159 5-8 established only eight days ago, was attributed in some quarters to selling for the account of a large New York estate, but this report also lacked verification. At the closing price of 47 1-2, Steel was off 2 points on the day. An attempt to rally the market in the late trading by bidding up General Motors also fell flat, the stock closing fractionally lower at 206½, as compared with an early high of 208 1-2, and yesterday's high of 214 3-4. Sharp recessions also were recorded by such recent favorites as Allied Chemical, American Smelting, Commercial Solvents B, Sloss Sheffield Steel and Woolworth. Cuba Company broke over 3 points to a new 1926 low at 23.

Standing out against a background of declining prices was the sensational gain of 13 points in Warner Brothers' Pictures A, which touched a new high record at 50, as against a low of 12 earlier in the year, on buying influenced by the success of the Vitaphone, a new form of talking motion picture. United States common also moved counter to the general trend, closing over 3 points higher at 62 7-8.

RAILS FIRMER

Rail shares offered strong resistance to pressure, with a late spurt of over 3 points in Delaware and Hudson on the announcement of a new plan for segregating that company's coal properties, as the individual feature. Steady accumulation also was noted in the Northwestern issues.

Commodity prices pointed upward. Active wheat futures advanced a fraction of a cent a bushel on buying influenced by reports of a prospective European shortage of the comcodity. Cotton advanced moderately on reports of adverse weather. Raw sugar was unchanged but coffee futures yielded slightly.

Call money renewed at 4 1-2 per cent and then advanced to 5, the first change since the 10th inst. Banks called about $20,000,000 in loans during the day. Time money rates also stiffened, being quoted at 4 3-4 to 5 per cent instead of 4 1-2 to 5. Prime commercial paper ruled firm at 4 1-4 to 4 1-2 per cent.

Foreign exchanges were irregular. Demand sterling showed a further recession of 1-8 of a cent to $4.85, but French francs held relatively steady just below 2.85 cents. Widening of the spread between the spot and futures rates on Italian lire was one of the day's features, traders reporting that Italian banks, presumably acting for their government, were buying spot exchange against the sale of futures as a stabilization measure. German marks made further recovery on the removal of the post-war "peg," being quoted around 23.82 1-2 cents. The new Austrian coin, "the pengoe" has not yet made its appearance in the local foreign exchange market.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Approximately 800 head were offered on yesterday's market, about 400 of which were held over from Tuesday, some arriving too late for the market. The biggest portion of the supply was steers and with rather active demand a good clearance was made of all classes at steady to strong prices, some spots showing advances over Tuesday. A few head of baby beeves brought 16.75. No good steers were offered, the best being the better kinds of medium steers at 7.75, four heads averaging around 1050 pounds realizing that price. Other steers, mostly low medium kinds, turned from 7.25@7.50, while a few common kinds sold down to 6.00. A few for feeding purposes also selling from 6.00@6.50.

She stock was comparatively scarce, a few lots of better kinds of cows and heifers turning from 6.00@6.25, with odd head of heifers up to 6.50. Common and medium kinds turned mostly from 4.50@5.75. Cutters easbed largely from 2.50@4.00. Bulls, mostly in odd head, turned from 5.00@5.50.

CALVES—Demand was not overly active for vealers and sales yesterday were called generally steady to weak. A few small lots of vealers turned around 10.00, while good calves in load lots, mostly 220 to 280-pound weights, cleared from 9.00@9.25, while weighty offerings turned from 7.00@7.75.

HOGS—Active demand cleaned up the moderate supply at generally steady to 15c higher prices. Several loads of good and choice 180 to 190-pound butchers topped at 12.50, while the bulk of 160 to 185-pound weights turned from 12.00@12.50. Packing sows were numerous from 11.00@12.50, a few smooth kinds on the butcher order at 12.00.

SHEEP—None. Medium to choice lambs are quoted 12.50@14.00, with common to choice sows from 5.00@7.00.

REPORT FAVORS FERRY SYSTEM

City-Owned Project Indorsed by Commissioner

Cost of Inauguration Fixed at $397,325

Favorable Action Means End of Long Fight

A municipal ferry system between San Pedro and Terminal Island, to cost $397,325, was recommended to the Harbor Commission yesterday by Oscar M. Souden, commissioner after several months' study of the port's traffic needs. It was taken under consideration by the commission.

The recommendations embraced four main features. One, the construction of a suitable slip and boat landing at Fifth street, San Pedro, costing $138,000. Second, a similar slip and landing directly across the main channel on Terminal Island, to cost $75,000.

Third, construction of a double-deck and double-ender passenger and vehicular ferry boat of steel hull, equipped with Diesel electric propulsion, to cost $123,000, and, fourth, the purchase of a small second-hand ferry for night service, to cost $10,000. Engineering and incidental expenses would add $17,275 and overhead $35,550.

At present Garbutt & Walsh operate small passenger ferries between San Pedro and both Terminal and East San Pedro, and a vehicular ferry across the main channel. The city franchise on the latter expires next December and the commission's attorney has found no legal obstacles to a city-owned system, in accordance with incorporation promises made San Pedro sixteen years ago.

The new ferry would operate on a fifteen-minute basis from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., and the smaller ferry would operate hourly throughout the night. Bus lines on Terminal Island would be extended, in case present ferry service between San Pedro and the northern Terminal station is discontinued.

The committee estimated the system would cost $120,000 annually to operate and maintain, and while present revenues are only about $80,000, increased traffic would make up the deficiency. During the last ten years the ferries have received upward of $1,000,000 in gross revenues. It is said, and with the recent development of industries and steamship facilities on the islands, heavier patronage is declared apparent.

Should the Harbor Commission approve the recommendation and establish the improved system, it will mark the successful culmination of a sixteen-year fight by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce to hold the city to its promise, made when the port city was absorbed by Los Angeles.

RETURN OF ALBACORE BRINGS SLIGHT CHEER

A few albacore again are being reported caught in local waters, the first since the opening of the season. Their reappearance, however, fails to cheer the local canning industry, as they are not coming in from in number, but are so late as to cause doubt that a catch will be made sufficient to more than a fraction of normal.

Yellowfins, however, continue to be caught in fair volume and some bluefins, but the season is generally considered unsatisfactory. That the waters are warmer than usual is said to be the reason for the reported catches of sea bass in numbers as far north as Monterey.

The first cargo of American-made toys to reach Los Angeles Harbor this year is said to be aboard the freighter Silver Star, which is due from Philadelphia for the California and Eastern Steamship Company of Los Angeles. The vessel has 1250 tons for discharge here and a Gotham slip is the only other vessel bringing toys to date.

The West Prospect is due Saturday with her last cargo of oriental freight for Struthers & Hunt, new operators of the Shipping Board dock. She will load here and sail under the latter's flag September 1 for Australian ports. Here the flag of the American-Australia-Orient Line, as the new service will be known.

James Irvine of San Francisco, vice-president and director of the Irvine Company, Gaston Plant Line, is expected at San Pedro today, to confer regarding negotiations for the sale of his passenger and freight steamer Chiapas to the Panama Mail Steamship Company. The ship, which is tied up at Berth 95, will be the scene of a business meeting at 2 p.m. with members of the Liberian concern in city officials, shipping men and others.

James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, accompanied by a party of six guests, arrived at Catalina Island and back yesterday on the liner Catalina. He was met at the Wilmington terminal by William Wrigley, jr., and was the latter's guest at Avalon during the day.

Sixty-nine vessels are engaged entirely in the lumber trade into this port from the Pacific Northwest, according to Gladstone Holmes, chief of the harbor branch of the Marine Exchange.

Ten thousand bunches of Central American bananas are due here Saturday on the Furness steamer London Sculptor, en route from Northern European and Mediterranean ports to the Pacific Coast. The vessel also picked up 200 barrels of dried apples, coffee and other products in Central America.

Civic bodies have completed the passing of their committee to meet with a harbor department committee and pushed rental rates on city-owned property to a basis. The Harbor Commission yesterday was advised that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce had appointed Clarence H. Matson; the Municipal League, David Woodhead; Los Angeles Realty Board, O. A. Vickrey. Previously John T. Gaffey had been named by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce, and Paul Eutsch by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

Port Manager Spear and Harbor Engineer Nicholson and two or more harbor commissioners will attend the convention of Pacific Coast port authorities at Portland, Or., September 16 to 18.

Starting a Los Angeles-San Diego gasoline barge service a month ago, the Star and Crescent Transportation Company of San Diego now is operating three barges between the two ports. A barge carrying 2000 to 3500 barrels now goes south every three days.

GOOPS!

A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children

—BY GELETT BURGESS

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

GRABBING THINGS.

A child who snatches, pulls and grabs,
Who jerks and seizes, yanks and nabs
His playmates' toys so impolitely
Is always called a Goop, and rightly.
It's rude and crude—you know it, don't you?
You will be more polite now, won't you?

Quarreled Since Wedding Day

"My stomach and liver trouble made a regular grouch of me. I was sore at everyone, including my wife, and we quarreled every day since the wedding. She is a dear little girl and I know it was my fault. MAYR'S was recommended for my stomach trouble, and since taking it I have felt like a new man. My wife and I now get along beautifully." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—[Advertisement.

ASK INQUEST INTO DEATH OF ADMIRAL

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (AP)—A Coroner's inquest into the death of Rear-Admiral George H. Barber, third ranking medical officer in the United States Navy, who died here Monday, was ordered late today upon the request of naval officers.

Coincidentally, it was revealed that shortly before his death the naval officer bequeathed $75,000 to his nurse, Miss Helen K. Ashley, in a codicil to his will, and that the two had planned to marry.

Rear-Admiral Barber died supposedly from ptomaine poisoning caused by eating tainted fish. A week previous he had been discharged from a hospital following his recovery from a major operation.

In making the request for the inquest, the naval officers pointed out that they suspect no wrongdoing, but that where a naval officer dies without the presence of another naval officer, regulations call for a formal investigation by regularly constituted authorities, so an acceptable certificate of death may be filed and the body sent to relatives.

After the request, an autopsy was performed and the stomach was sent to the City Chemist for analysis. The analysis has not been completed. The date for the inquest has not been set.

PERSHING'S AIDE DIES

"BOULDER DAM CHAMPION"

Water is the magic source of empire in the Southwest. Without an abundance of water this land could not support the millions now finding a livelihood here, nor would it offer a home and happiness to the millions yet to come here.

Through wise forethought the Los Angeles Aqueduct was built, and through the exercise of the same forethought and the same skill and energy, additional water is to be brought here from the Colorado River for the use of the citizens of Los Angeles and the other communities of Southern California.

The pressing need for action by Congress that will enable California and other States of the Southwest to proceed at once to control and develop the Colorado River is realized and heartily approved by every man and woman in this State possessing even a rudimentary knowledge of economic conditions.

There is no opposition in California to the project. If such opposition did or does exist it would be of such relative unimportance as to receive no consideration at the hands of the Congress of the United States.

Mr. Young and scores of billboards herald the gubernatorial candidate as "The Champion of Boulder Dam," and an appeal for support for Mr. Young is made on the basis of his asserted or purported service in behalf of the river project.

Aside from a large number of political speeches, which are meaningless so far as any real test of his sincerity or devotion is concerned, the only actual contact Mr. Young has had with the river problem occurred at Sacramento in 1925 during the session of the State Legislature.

At that session arose the question of ratifying with or without condition the Six-State Colorado River Compact which had been approved, through the intercession of Secretary of Commerce Hoover, by the Legislatures of Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah. The California Legislature in 1923 ratified unconditionally the seven-State pact, which Arizona refused to approve.

Secretary Hoover, who was chiefly responsible for adoption of the original pact, and who desired to provide immediate opportunity for development calculated to protect Imperial Valley from flood, induced the other States to approve a six-State pact without reservations.

The pact was then submitted to the California Legislature. At this point the jealousy of certain politicians in California intervened, Boss Alex McCabe of San Francisco went to Sacramento and organized a fight to force the State Senate to adopt certain conditions introduced by Assemblyman Finney. A group of legislators, dominated by McCabe and aided by Mr. Young, set up a cry that California's interests could only be safeguarded by reserved ratification.

ASKED TO EXPRESS HIS OPINION OF THE FINNEY AMENDMENT, SECRETARY HOOVER WIRED THE LATE W. F. McCLURE, STATE ENGINEER, AS FOLLOWS:

"IF THE OBJECT OF THE RESERVATION IS TO KILL THE COLORADO COMPACT FINALLY IT WOULD BE SUCCESSFUL IF ADOPTED. THE NORTHERN STATES WILL NOT ACCEPT AN AGREEMENT WHICH MEANS THAT THEY WOULD HAVE NO PROTECTION OF THEIR WATER RIGHTS UNTIL PARTIES WHOM THEY DO NOT CONTROL SHALL HAVE PROVIDED TWENTY MILLION ACRE FEET FOR STORAGE. . . . IT MUST BE OBVIOUS, THEREFORE, THAT THEY WOULD NOT ACCEPT ANY SUCH AGREEMENT."

Atty.-Gen. Webb officially informed the Legislature that adoption of the amendment would constitute "a new and different proposal."

State Engineer McClure urged unconditional ratification and warned of the delay that would follow adoption of the Finney amendment.

Mark L. Requa, representing Secretary Hoover, reviewed the work of the compact commission, presented Mr. Hoover's plea for ratification and personally pleaded with the Senate committee to ratify without reservation.

GOV. RICHARDSON OBTAINED THE ASSURANCES OF GOVERNORS OF OTHER STATES THAT THEY REGARDED AS UNNECESSARY AND UNDESIRABLE ANY CONDITIONAL RATIFICATION. IN A SPECIAL MESSAGE TO THE SENATE HE OUTLINED THE ATTITUDE OF THE OTHER STATES AND URGED THE LEGISLATURE OF CALIFORNIA TO FOLLOW THE LEAD OF THE STATES WHO, AT THE BEHEST OF SECRETARY HOOVER, WERE WILLING TO AID CALIFORNIA.

ALL OF THIS ADVICE WENT UNHEEDED UNDER THE LASH OF BOSS McCABE. LEGISLATORS WHO ADMITTED THEIR IGNORANCE OF THE ENTIRE QUESTION ACCEPTED THE ASSURANCE OF McCABE, CONGRESSMAN SWING, C. C. YOUNG AND A FEW OTHER MEMBERS OF THE McCABE CONTINGENT THAT THE RESERVATIONS WERE DESIRABLE—AND THE PACT WAS RATIFIED WITH RESERVATIONS.

DURING THE ENTIRE SESSION OF CONGRESS THIS ACTION OF THE CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE STOOD SQUARELY IN THE PATH OF PROGRESS. THOSE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ACTION OF THE LEGISLATURE ADMITTED PRIVATELY THEIR OWN FOLLY. THEY DID EVERYTHING IN THEIR POWER TO EVADE THE CONSEQUENCES, BUT THE COMMITTEES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AND THE SENATE REFUSED TO ACT. THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE OTHER STATES CONDEMNED THE ACTION OF THE CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE AND MADE UNCONDITIONAL RATIFICATION BY CALIFORNIA ONE OF THE REQUIREMENTS OF THEIR AGREEMENT NOT TO OPPOSE THE SO-CALLED SWING-JOHNSON BILL.

AND, FINALLY, IN THE BODY OF THE SWING-JOHNSON BILL ITSELF AS REPORTED BY THE SENATE COMMITTEE, THIS PROVISION OCCURS:

"NO WORK SHALL BE BEGUN AND NO MONEYS EXPENDED . . . . UNTIL THE STATES OF COLORADO, NEVADA, NEW MEXICO, UTAH AND WYOMING SHALL HAVE APPROVED THE COLORADO RIVER COMPACT . . . . WITHOUT CONDITION SAVE THAT OF SIX-STATE APPROVAL. . . ."

NONE OF THESE FACTS IS RELATED IN CALIFORNIA BY THOSE WHOSE SELFISHNESS PRECIPITATED THIS UNFORTUNATE CONDITION. IT IS UPON HIS SERVICES TO BOSS McCABE, AND UPON NO OTHER BASIS, THAT MR. YOUNG IS ENTITLED TO DESIGNATE HIMSELF "CHAMPION OF BOULDER DAM." THE FACTS SPEAK FOR THEMSELVES AND FAR MORE PERSUASIVELY THAN DOES MR. YOUNG.

CITY TAX RATE CUT ONE CENT

Assessed Valuation Given as $1,574,489,610

Controller's Report Goes to Council Today

The present assessed valuation of Los Angeles property taxable for municipal purposes is $1,574,489,610, increase of $106,946,989 from last year, according to a report which will be filed with the City Council this morning by City Controller Myers.

The report will set forth the Los Angeles city tax rate for this year as $1.53 per $100 property valuation or a decrease of 1 cent per $100 property valuation from the tax rate of $1.54 last year. This rate which will be established by the Council in ordinance before next Tuesday is made up of the usual $1.25 rate for city governmental purposes and 28 cents per $100 property valuation for the purpose of paying interest and sinking fund charges on city bonds. Last year the tax for these bonds was 29 cents per $100 property valuation, and the decrease of 1 cent is due to the increase in the assessed valuation of the city's taxable property.

This assessed valuation of $1,574,489,610 will produce this year for the city government—all departments—$19,671,119, or an increase of $1,330,083 over the income of the city government from taxation last year.

The assessed valuation and tax levy report represents weeks of work by Chief Accountant Abbott of the Controller's office. By filing the report this morning the Council will have ample time to examine it and the tax levy ordinance before the adoption of the ordinance which must occur on or before next Tuesday.

The report divides the city into sixteen taxation districts, and the $1.53 rate will apply to what is termed the "old city" or central part of Los Angeles. The rates in the other fifteen taxation districts vary according to the bonded indebtedness of these districts. The highest rate is that of the Venice district, which will be $1.67 per $100 property valuation, the excess being due to the interest and sinking fund charges which must be paid on bonds authorized by the former city of Venice.

Crash Between Auto and Plane Echoes in Suit

Recalling the collision between an airplane and an automobile at Signal Hill December 1, 1925, during the filming of a motion-picture stunt, John G. Montijo, aviator, yesterday filed suit for $12,500 damages against Samuel Goldwyn, Inc., of California.

Montijo asserted he had been employed by the defendant to pilot the airplane during the stunt, which was part of the sequence in the motion picture, "Potash and Perlmutter." The aviator asserted the automobile was negligently operated and caused the collision.

ANGELENO TONS HOLD REUNION

Are Descendants of Dutch Immigrant

Considerable Tonnage

FORTY Tons foregathered yesterday at Brookside Park, Pasadena, for the fourth annual reunion of the Pacific Coast branch of the Ton family. The absence of about thirty-five Tons who belong to the local branch was a matter of deep regret by the Tons present.

The Ton family is of Dutch origin; the first Tons having shipped to America on a sailing vessel in 1849. They settled in Chicago and have become so numerous there that as many as 400 or 500 attend the annual Chicago Ton reunion. They are incorporated under the laws of Illinois and keep a record of the entire family and activities.

Richard J. Ton of Inglewood, who was elected president of the local branch yesterday for the coming year, said that if the Tons continue migrating to Los Angeles in the future as fast as within the past four years the entire Tonnage will be in the West in no time.

Yesterday's celebration began at 10 o'clock and included everything from a business meeting, baseball game and races of all varieties to the final dumping of the little Tons into the Brookside swimming pool.

JUDGE TURNS TABLES IN TRIAL OF SPANKER

Tables were turned yesterday when Municipal Judge Rosenkranz dismissed a charge of disturbing the peace against Marie Kellar, and found Tony Vega guilty of the charge and fined him $25. For Miss Kellar had pleaded guilty to the charge and Tony had asserted his innocence.

A police officer testified that, hearing a woman scream, he discovered Vega's car parked on North Grand avenue and Vega in it, with Miss Kellar across his knees. He was spanking her vigorously, the officer averred. "Let this be a warning to all red-hot papas," said Judge Rosenkranz.

COAST TRADE WITH BRAZIL STIMULATED

The United States Department of Commerce has appointed W. A. Kremer special trade commissioner to go to Brazil from the Pacific Coast with a view to working up trade, especially between the Pacific Coast and Brazil.

Mr. Kremer will be in Los Angeles on Wednesday and Thursday of this week to interview exporters here. Los Angeles already is doing a considerable business with Argentine, and it is believed there should also be large opportunities for trade with Brazil, especially in canned sardines and similar lines.

HOTTEST AUGUST DAY SINCE 1885

Continued Heat Forecast for Twenty-four Hours

Despite light rains the length of the Pacific Coast from the Oregon boundary to San Diego, temperatures yesterday touched new high marks for the season in many localities, particularly in Southern California.

In Los Angeles, a forty-one year August record was shattered when the mercury reached 102 deg. at 11 a.m.

The precipitation was too light to be recorded in several communities, but was sufficiently heavy in San Francisco to register .04 of an inch.

Early morning showers, noticeable throughout most of the State, failed to stop the mercury on its ascent in Southern California communities. Although it rained in downtown Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, Hollywood, Anaheim, Glendale, Riverside with .07 of an inch and Pasadena, Col. Hersey's government meteorologists recorded the hottest August day in Los Angeles since 1885.

The forecast locally is "continued cloudy weather, with temperatures above normal." According to Col. Hersey, the existing heat wave is likely to continue for the next forty-eight hours.

LITTLE LOSS RECORDED

Rain was unheralded by the Weather Bureau but fell generally as far north as the Siskiyou Mountains and as far south as the Mexican border.

The heaviest precipitation of the day was reported during the afternoon in the upper Sacramento Valley, where .10 of an inch was recorded.

Little damage is believed to have been done throughout the State. Government meteorologists had sufficient warning to tell fruit dryers to cover up their trays of prunes, pears and grapes before the showers fell. Special warnings were sent to regions where there was likelihood of damage.

According to Weather Bureau, a maximum mark of 106 was reached in August of 1885 and a parallel mark mark of 102 deg. was attained in August of 1884.

DESERT WINDS

At 6 a.m. yesterday it was 73 deg.; at 7 a.m., 81; at 9 a.m., 90; 10 a.m., 98; 11 a.m., 102; 12 noon, 97; and throughout the afternoon approximately 90.

The cause, Weather Bureau prognosticators said, is a high-pressure area over the entire Southwest, centering in New Mexico. The prevailing winds were off the desert, where temperatures up to 125 deg. were reported, thus carrying the heat into the Los Angeles area.

ARE YOU A GOOD GUESSER?

The Times Will Present $100 in Cash for Closest Predictions on Gubernatorial Vote

Within the last week The Times has received an increasingly large number of letters indicating that interest in the contest for the Republican nomination for Governor has become intense. Speculation as to the outcome is favorable to Gov. Richardson, but there seems to be a wide divergence of opinion as to the relative standing of the field of candidates.

With no serious end in view, and largely for the purpose of injecting a slight diversion in a campaign that has been somewhat overheated by charges and recrimination, The Times herewith invites its readers to participate in a guessing contest for $100 in cash prizes to determine how closely the actual result of Tuesday's primary may be predicted.

The rules are simple: Every reader of The Times, except its employees, is entitled to one set of guesses, and only one, which must be filled in on the accompanying blank and mailed so as to be postmarked before midnight of the 30th inst. No guesses will be received in any other way. Use the coupon and mail it in.

There are 1,262,480 registered Republicans in California. In primary elections the total vote cast may range from 30 per cent to 60 per cent or even 70 per cent of the registration. It is suggested that each contestant decide for himself or herself what the total vote is likely to be and base the prediction on such estimate.

Registrar of Voters Kerr, for instance, believes that the vote for the Republican gubernatorial candidates will approximate 40 per cent of the total registration.

The Times will award $50 each to the man and woman making the nearest correct set of guesses as shown by the official returns. Replies should be addressed to the election-contest editor of The Times.

SOME LETTERS

Here are two letters commenting on the gubernatorial contest. They are typical examples of the comment of Times readers:

To the Editor of The Times:

The Governorship election is going to be decided right here in Los Angeles county, where we have a third of the total Republican registration. I have been a strong Goodcell supporter, but have about decided to cast my vote for Richardson as I did in 1922. Richardson is a good man, all right, and I would ordinarily have been with him all through the campaign, except for the fact that one of my cousins worked for Judge

For instance, this old married couple who have found each other after a separation of sixty-three years . . .

After she has had two other husbands and three or four children. And he a wife or two . . .

The last time he saw her she was a bride from whom he parted as he left for the Civil War. The news dispatches speak of it as a happy event. I think it is ghastly and horrible.

THE SLAIN DREAM GIRL

In a way, this old woman who turned up is a murderer. She has killed the dream girl who lingered in this old man's heart. Killed the girl of memories who probably had grown radiant and beautiful as the years went by.

Whew! It is like these curious-minded old gentlemen who are eternally going back to the old swimming holes where they played as boys.

I wouldn't—for a thousand dollars—see the old swimming hole where I played as a boy; and I run for my life from any comrades I knew there. The last date I want to remember is this morning at breakfast time.

KNEES EXPOSED

Paris dispatches state the alarming news that skirts are to be yanked up so high that the female knee cap will stare out upon a startled world.

Moralists need not shudder, however. It is not an assault upon the ethical barriers that shield society. There is nothing seductive about the hinge in the middle of the human limb. The average knee has a practical value; but, brethren, it is not beautiful to the eye. In most cases it looks a knot on a dead tree.

A CHARMING CITY

The Santa Barbara earthquake may turn out to have been one of the most beneficial events in the history of California.

It has given opportunity and impetus to a charming plan to build up a new city that will have the flavor and fascination of the old California of blessed memory.

SPOILING CALIFORNIA

We people who came here in the '80s and '90s did our best to spoil California. To look at the houses we built, I think we must have recruited our architects from asylums for the feeble-minded.

How any draftsman could look at a photograph of anything built in Europe and then nail together one of those gosh-awful crimes against the eye passes human belief.

OUTDOOR CAFES

Among other things, the builders of this city have discovered that it is not absolutely necessary to have shops and restaurants so ugly that they may take away your appetite. Also that because you can't eat outdoors in Indiana is no reason why we can't have charming open cafes in California.

EARLY-DAY CUSTOMS

With this architecture inevitably will return at least a little of the charm of the early Spanish life and customs of old California.

No generation that has inhabited these shores knew so well how to live as the old dons of early Cali-

ROTHWELL GLAD TO BE AT HOME

Orchestra Leader Back from Trip to Philadelphia

Tells of Great Reception He Got in Eastern City

Enthusiastic over the reception given him at the Sesquicentennial Exposition, where he conducted the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra for two weeks, and the recognition given California musicians throughout the East, Walter Henry Rothwell, conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra, returned home yesterday.

Among those who gathered at the Santa Fe station to greet the orchestra leader were George Leslie Smith, manager of the Philharmonic Auditorium, and E. Avery McCarthy, chairman of the advisory board, both anxious to hear the details of Rothwell's reception in the East.

"I was really surprised at the greeting I received, both in Philadelphia and New York," the Philharmonic leader declared. "I soon found out that the East has been keeping its eye on California musicians. Actually, they know the name of every man in my orchestra."

The heat and humidity experienced in Philadelphia, Rothwell admitted, took some of his pleasure away, and he expressed himself as glad to be back and ready to plunge into preparations for the next Philharmonic season, which opens October 21, next.

Visiting the music marts of the East, Rothwell found many new musical surprises and novelties that he plans to give his audiences this winter, and in New York engaged Alfred Megerlin, formerly with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, to come to Los Angeles as concert master and assistant conductor of the Philharmonic Orchestra here.

"My trip east has convinced me that our orchestras in California are just as good, if not better, than those along the Atlantic Coast," was the conclusion of the local orchestra leader.

Urging Mayor Cryer to see to it, so far as within your power, that the sale or circulation of such filthy and indecent literature" as resulted in the conviction of four newsboys on Tuesday, be stopped, four members of Angelus Temple yesterday afternoon filed with Mayor Cryer a petition signed by approximately 25,000 men and women. Mayor Cryer said that the laws of the city prohibiting the sale or distribution of obscene and indecent literature will be enforced regardless of whether the person against whom the indecent literature is directed is Aimee Semple McPherson or anyone else.

New Transcontinental Transport Appeals to Heir of Lydia Pinkham and Pastor Visiting Here

Sky touring over Southern California for two days carried so much charm for Miss Lydia Pinkham Gove, grand-daughter of Lydia E. Pinkham and assistant treasurer of the medicine company founded by the grandmother, and Rev. James Luther Adams, pastor of an exclusive eastern church, that the couple departed yesterday by airplane on a 3000-mile hop to their homes in Salem, Mass. The entire trip will be made aboard the same plane that hopped off from here, and with but few stops planned, they expect to reach their destination not later than Saturday morning.

The flight marks one of the first transcontinental commercial flights ever attempted from Los Angeles, and is being conducted by the Pacific Air Transport Company, a California corporation engaged in commercial flying. The trip was arranged by the Foster Travel Service. The plane used is a Travel-Air plane of two-passenger and pilot type, with a cruising speed of 115 miles an hour. It is equipped with a 200-horsepower Wright whirlwind motor and is being given its inaugural flight in the ocean-to-ocean hop.

CASH FOR GOOD ELECTION GUESS

Goodcell when he was in the collector's office here.

I don't see why I should throw my vote away, however, just because Goodcell has a better haircut than the Governor (I wouldn't vote for C. C. Young and K. K. Parrot under any circumstances) and so I am back where I belong and very anxious to see Richardson re-elected.

You should not be fooled, however, by the fact that Young is not a friend of Southern California, as indicated by his actions and his votes in the Legislature, nor should you count too heavily on the fact that he has done very little to distinguish himself during his sixteen or seventeen years in office. These weak and willing fellows who follow the orders of astute politicians, themselves unable to get elected, are the boys who should be watched.

I do not think you have said nearly enough about Young's authorship and sponsorship of the bill (which the people themselves defeated) for demolishing the Republican party in California. A lot of people have moved into California since that attempt was made and defeated and there are a lot of good Republicans who probably will vote for Young without knowing how he really feels toward the Republican party.

I don't go much on predictions, but if mine is worth anything I'd say that Young will carry Northern California and that it will be up to Southern California, as usual, to protect Republican principles by returning a good, whopping Republican majority for Richardson. I'd like to bet that who ever wins won't get over by more than 25,000. I hope Richardson gets the 25,000.

JOS. T. CALVERLY

FACT AND SPINE

[To the Editor The Times:] I have not been a reader of your paper very long, but I have been greatly interested by what you, and the other Los Angeles papers, have had to say about the various candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor. I will concede that most of the good things you say about Gov. Richardson are right and that much of your criticism of C. C. Young appears to be justified, but I cannot reconcile what you say about either with the state of mind of a large number of people I talk to.

In the first place, I know Richardson personally, and I admire his public service, but for a man who has really accomplished things he is about the hardest proposition to get along with, about the most tactless and strong-minded of any man in public life today.

Look at his commonsense attitude toward the schools. His administration provides more than $110,000,000 for public education in less than four years and Richardson himself has maintained a commendable spirit toward the welfare of our boys and girls. Yet his tactlessness has made enemies for him among the teachers and hundreds of them, directed by that arch-politician, Will Wood, are out campaigning against him. It is exasperating. I'll be willing to bet that if 500,000 Republican votes are cast in the primary election Richardson will have the fight of his life to get the majority—and he'll be lucky to get that many. If I had to choose between tactless Richardson, however, and his only real opponent, C. C. Young, I'd swallow him, tactlessness and all. It is better to be tactless than spineless. Keep up your good work. And don't let up on the bosses. You are more right than you realize when you say bossism is for Young.

JUDGE CRAIL WAS MIRROR FOR BROTHER

Recounts Joke of Twins Involving Joe Crail Instead of Making Speeches

Instead of making political speeches Judge Crail is entertaining his audiences with "twin stories" about himself and his brother.

"The day we were born our mother had a blue ribbon tied on the arm of the twin she named Joe in order to tell us apart. The nurse took us into the bathroom to give us a bath. When she brought us back to our mother, the ribbon was gone. Our mother wept bitter tears, because she was unable to tell us apart, and never unto this day do we know which is really Joe and which is Charles. I know that Joe Crail is running for Congress in the Tenth District, but I do not really know whether it is my brother or myself.

"Once eight years ago my twin brother, who was a friend of the then Governor of California, happened to be in Sacramento. One day the Governor said to him, 'Joe, there is a vacancy on the Superior Court bench of Los Angeles county, arising out of the fact that I have promoted one of the Judges there to the Supreme bench. You are just the kind of man that I want to appoint to the Superior Court, and I have decided to appoint you to that vacancy.' My twin brother said, 'Governor, I feel very much honored that you have such a high regard for my character and ability; there is one man, and only one man in the world, whom I would rather have you appoint than myself, and that is my brother Charles.' So the Governor and Joe arranged it between themselves without consulting me, and that is how I became a Superior Judge.

"When we were serving as soldiers in the Spanish-American War in Cuba, we discovered one time that there was not a single looking glass in the regiment. None of the boys could shave, but my twin brother Joe had the best of all of them. He needed no mirror, for all he had to do was to stand his twin brother up in front of him and start to shave."

STATE TEST SUCCESSFUL FOR BANKER

J. B. Chaffey Qualifies for License in Examination of Real Estate Department

J. B. Chaffey, well-known local banker, and two women, Miss Bessie Bush and Mrs. Maude W. Mindenhall, are among those who head the list of applicants who successfully passed the written examination conducted by the State Real Estate Department on the 14th inst., it was announced yesterday by Commissioner Gabbert.

As an indication of the better preparation of applicants for real estate licenses, the commissioner pointed out that 69 per cent passed the last examination. From 40 per cent to 45 per cent have failed in all previous tests, he said.

HOTTEST DAY IN FOUR DECADES

Imperial, 109.
Van Nuys, 109.
Redlands, 108.
Pomona, 106.
Pasadena, 105.
San Bernardino, 104

NO PROSTRATIONS

In Beverly Hills a freak windstorm was experienced which blew down a tree on Santa Monica Boulevard.

No prostrations were reported at any place in the Southern California area.

Precautions were taken by county and Federal forestry officers to guard against the outbreak of forest fires in this district. To date, the southern part of the State has been singularly free from conflagrations, the most serious being that back of the Mt. Wilson toll house which was brought under control Tuesday night.

SLIGHT SHOWERS IN BAKERSFIELD AREA

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—From the cloud-decked sky above Bakersfield there fell this morning the first shy, unpretentious raindrops of the 1926-27 rainy season. In scattered confusion the raindrops filtered down through the warm air and landed quietly on sidewalks, auto tops and straw hats, with only a faint splash, as if apologetic for not having arrived at an earlier date. It rained on August 10 last year.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY GROWERS FEAR RAINS

HANFORD, Aug. 25.—Yesterday was the hottest day and last night the hottest night in the San Joaquin Valley for several weeks. Today is cooler and cloudy, with light northwest winds. Rain indications do not look good to the fruit men, as shipment of fresh muscat grapes east in lugs for juice purposes has just commenced, with eight cars going out per day from the district, three-fourths east and one-fourth to Portland and Seattle. A week from now grape shipments will be at the peak. Cool weather without rain will be welcome, and rain does not seem likely at present. Peaches are still going into the canneries and onto drying trays in large quantities.

YOUTHFUL SPEEDERS GO TO JAIL

Juvenile speed demons who have no respect for the traffic laws will find little toleration when Judge Doran is sitting in Juvenile Court, it was indicate yesterday, when, for the first time in several years, two youthful offenders were given jail sentences—John Hoffman, 17 years of age, for thirty days, and Norman Clarke, 17, for a week.

Hoffman, according to the complaint against him, was traveling thirty-four miles an hour in a fifteen-mile zone on Whittier Boulevard, while Clarke was said to have been stepping along at the rate of thirty miles an hour in a fifteen-mile zone at San Pedro and Pico streets.

Hoffman, it developed, had previously been before the court on a speeding charge, but had been released with a reprimand, while Clarke had been cited five times previously, but had not been made the subject of a court order.

DREARY AND STUPID

An early California Christmas, for instance, was a wonderful little drama. Ours consists of a wild riot of shopping; some broken toys, and a week of exhaustion and bills.

SPINACH AND STOMACHS

There never was a generation—or an epoch—in American life where the business of living was as dreary as the years from which we are just emerging. Nothing much to it except real-estate options and reading articles about diet.

But I think we are gradually emerging. It is gradually beginning to dawn upon us that this world was made for something besides raising spinach whereby we are supposed to reduce the size of our bellies.

ANAEMIA

I have had a remarkable recovery from a four year illness, which my physicians diagnosed as Anaemia and a very bad case of Indigestion.

About three months ago I became very much worse, and my physician suggested an X-ray of the intestinal tract, and gave me iron injections. I was so weak that I could hardly walk, and could not digest my food. My digestion did not improve under his treatment, and then I began your I-ON-A-CO treatment about a week ago.

My digestion became so very much better that I can now eat anything, and it is astonishing how my strength has returned. Before using the I-ON-A-CO I could hardly drag myself along, and now I feel as strong as ever. It seems really as if the I-ON-A-CO lifted me from the grave.

School • Bullock's

Shepard's plaid piped with red is chosen by a number of clever school dresses for girls 6 to 14 years.

Most of Bullock's new school coats have fur collars.

Two tones of the same fabric are smart in a number of Bullock's new 6 to 14-year coats.

Flannels! Jerseys! Velvet top Dresses! Big plaids! Leather belts! Boleros. This season is a fashion season for girls 6 to 14 years—at Bullock's.

Sweaters and plus-4's for boys. And the new school suits in smart tan and brown tones—at Bullock's Store for Boys.

Now boys are asking for Bullock's $1.00 sweat shirts for fall athletics. Sizes run from 6 to 16.

"Oh, Mother, can't I have the soft fuzzy coat instead of the tweed?" "Billy, don't you like the blue sweater best?" "What a cute crown that hat has!"

Such excitement! Such momentous decisions! They're selecting their school clothes now at Bullock's. And they've only eight shopping days to do it before the great day---September 7. Just come to Bullock's fifth floor, the Boys' and Girls' Store, and hear their delicious chatter.

Watch them try on their new hats for school. A future social leader is attempting to make up her mind whether she'll take the little red velvet with the plaid leather piping or a "Patsy Jean" poke of velours.

A tiny first-grader is fascinated by Bullock's "Tommy" hat in black velvet with its bright feather and wide chin strap. In the Collegienne Millinery Shop, hear the high school and college girls exclaim over the new "African" hats that have been modified so that they are becoming as well as smart.

And many smartly dressed children are getting Deauville tams for school. When did you ever see so many clever school hats? They show what great strides Bullock's has been making in Junior millinery, featuring style, style, style---with the same high standard of quality, with the same watchful effort to maintain reasonable prices. The range is wide---felt hats, flannel hats, velours hats, velvet hats---fashionable new shapes designed to fit children from 3 to 12---at $3.95 to $15.00. (Girls over 12, of course, come to the Collegienne Millinery Shop which specializes in small head sizes.)

School hats! School dresses! School shoes! School sweaters! School suits! Plus-4s, middies, underwear, hosiery. Everything needed for the school outfit is here, on one floor, the fifth---Bullock's Boys' and Girls' Store. "School---Bullock's"---the slogan for outfitting them all ---from the kindergartner to the collegienne.

By the way, these "fuzzy" coats are $19.75 at Bullock's Junior Section---in tan camel's hair weave, fine for winter as well as fall. Other smart coats, too, in this section that is so busy now outfitting girls for school.

Boys are harmonizing their new plus-4's with sweater and hose sets from Bullock's Store for Boys. The sets are $8.50 and corduroy plus-4's are $4.00 which means just $12.50 for a good-looking new school outfit for boys 8 to 16.

They are here now! Those satin "basque" dresses that high school and college girls have been waiting for. In black, Chanel red, jungle green. At Bullock's Collegienne Shops today in sizes 13, 15 and 17 years. At $27.00.

News from Bullock's Collegienne Millinery Shop! The African hat so smart in women's millinery fashions has been modified for the high school and college girl. In velvet at $12.50. (Small head sizes).

Another interesting Collegienne hat has a "spoke" crown—creases all running to the center—and a ripple brim. $10.00.

THE KITCHEN MIRROR

A male critic says that women should give less time to the mirror and more to the kitchen. A good compromise is to have the best mirror in the kitchen and then the lady can combine business with pleasure.

SERIOUS GOTHAM

An eminent English publisher who is touring this country complains that he could see nobody laughing in New York. He was inclined to blame it upon the straw hats, which custom compels them to wear. But maybe they were politely awaiting an English joke.

AN OLD-TIMER

A Kentucky man says he has a linen shirt that he has worn for seventy years. By this he doesn't mean that he has had it on all the time. He always took it off wash-day. But, anyhow, the garment has evidently worn better than those picked up at the bargain counter today.

ROMANCE AND FINANCE

The French women are invited to toss their wedding rings into the melting pot and thus create a new gold reserve to stabilize the franc. Thus far the wives have indicated no great enthusiasm over the plan. If the franc must rely for its revival upon the wedding rings of the nation its climb will be slow.

THE COAL TRADE

The Germans are getting a great deal of the coal business of Europe. The strike in England cut off most of the shipments of that country and the German mines are reaping most of the advantage. The German mines produced nearly 10,000,000 tons during June—which is back to prewar figures. The Germans are sending a lot of coal to France and Italy as well as to the northern ports and expect to hold the trade after the English mines get back to full production.

AMONG THE BUILDERS

Building operations are very great. The government estimates that they will reach $6,000,000,000 this year and it is also mentioned that virtually half of this great annual total will have to be replaced every twenty-five years. That is about the average life of buildings in this country, although there are Old World homes that stand for centuries. The American likes change and, therefore, he is not very particular about the staying qualities of the house he is creating.

SAFETY BONUS

The City Railway Company in Brooklyn is using another tack in the effort to avoid accidents. The company will pay a bonus of $5 a month to conductors and motormen if there is no accident of any kind to their cars in that time. In the course of the year this will call for the payment of a lot of money, but it will be the best kind of insurance against casualties. The motormen will be right careful in dodging collisions and the conductors will be jealous of the safety of passengers. The company may thereby escape a lot of damage suits and be money ahead.

COMING ANYHOW

The operations of the new immigration act do not seem to be so very harsh. Under this law the quota of Italians admissible during the last fiscal year was 3845 immigrants. As a matter of fact, 9375 Italians were admitted and absorbed. Counting travelers, diplomats, students, merchants and visitors of all kinds a total of 31,739 Italian aliens came into this country during the year. Of course, there are a lot of Italians who are eager to come to America and make their home, but so far no unpardonable wrong has been committed by rearing the barrier we have.

MULES OR DOGS

Some officials of the War Department are credited with a purpose to use dogs instead of mules in the transportation of supplies to some remote stations in the North or in mountainous regions. The dogs can take trails where even a mule would fall and at the same time the dog is more intelligent and companionable. Of course, there is no present intent to push the army mule completely into the discard, but he will be concentrated where his talents and qualifications may be best applied. He is not likely to be very far from the front when the battle is on.

THANKS FOR THE BUGGY RIDE

Students at the University of Illinois are not permitted to use motor cars around the campus or in their daily diversions and some of them have caused merriment by turning out for an evening drive with the old-fashioned horse and buggy. It is difficult to get enough of these outfits to satisfy the demand and a return of the ancient livery stable and blacksmith shop is thought possible. Come to think of it, the lovers of long ago found a great deal of joy and romance in the evening jaunt with Dobbin and the sturdy phaeton—the loved one being at one's side and the horse having a reputation for docility and sloth. In those days the one-armed driver took few risks.

SANTA BARBARA'S REBIRTH

By a spectacular three-day fiesta Santa Barbara is celebrating her rebirth. She has invited all the world to come and see what she has done to restore order and reconstruct the city on new and splendid lines. The fiesta, which is of the old Spanish type, was conceived by that group of citizens who have been active in making the city a distinct community of California, housed in structures of great architectural beauty.

The deeds of the great explorers and navigators who placed California on the map of the world are being celebrated in an impressive fashion. Cabrillo steps ashore on the Santa Barbara beach and is hailed by the people with loud acclaim. The padres, soldiers and sailors of Spain and Mexico and the men who raised the California bear flag over the Sonoma castillo are represented in costumes of the olden time. Brilliant lights, floating banners, street dancing and exercises befitting the occasion give to Santa Barbara such a gala air as she never has worn before.

All California is proud of Santa Barbara and the valiant spirit she has exhibited since the dire event of June 29, 1925, that day of sad devastation. Unlike Pompeii and Herculaneum, Santa Barbara accepted the challenge of disaster. Instead of hanging crape and sitting about bemoaning and bewailing their losses, her citizens rose nobly to the occasion. They showed the true California spirit by beginning at once to plan the building of the city in a new and more artistic and substantial manner.

Of course, the disaster which visited Santa Barbara was not of the sweeping nature of those that destroyed the ancient cities just named, but, even had it been as great, who doubts that Santa Barbara would have evinced the same indomitable spirit, the same enterprise and the same persistence she has exhibited in the reconstruction of the walls and towers that toppled to the dust after that fateful day in June?

The art spirit had been fully demonstrated in Santa Barbara years before the disaster, thanks to the Community Arts Association, which had done so much to improve the architecture of the old town. It was worthy of note that the beautiful new buildings erected under the guidance of the association, nearly all in the California-Spanish style, designed by excellent architects and built with honest materials by honest contractors, remained undamaged by the temblor. This always has been true in California, and always will be true. The buildings that have suffered have been the cheap and shoddy, such as the graft-built City Hall of San Francisco and the thrown-together walls of Stanford University.

Santa Barbara, having learned the lesson of good architecture and solidly constructed buildings, need have little fear of a repetition of the destruction wrought last year. She has built "more stately mansions" and more solid marts of trade—buildings to survive the centuries. The Times congratulates the people of Santa Barbara upon the rebirth of their city and commends their splendid spirit to all America.

"THE COMING RACE"

Achievements of modern science are likely to have more effect on the coming race than political revolutions and readjustments. So long as people live in communities they will have some kind of government; and good administrators can make the life of the people tolerable under bad governmental forms, while stupid, fanatical or corrupt public officials can cause turbulence and misery under the best laws.

Governmental systems flourish and fade, but the discoveries of science are permanent. In the last 1000 years of the world's history there has been no "lost art." The printing press consolidates the victories of science.

It is possible that two new discoveries, a camera with the properties of the X-ray and an arc light that will throw a beam more than 100 miles, will have more effect on the life of the next generation than the Treaty of Versailles.

The X-ray camera, taking pictures through a brick or cement wall, threatens the privacy of the race. We shall all be as exposed as the goldfish in its bowl; and the new arc light may lift the cover of darkness. Strict legislation will be necessary to prevent the misuse of these discoveries by the unscrupulous. The intimacy of the home can be ruthlessly invaded. If mama wants to know how Betty is entertaining her beau in the next room it will be necessary only to resort to the camera.

But it is possible that science may come to the rescue, for science is resourceful; with one invention it oppresses and with the next it relieves. Another scientist may appear who will invent a new kind of plaster that the X-ray camera cannot penetrate. Meanwhile the advantage of the discovery in disclosing what is behind screens of smoke and fog will remain.

With the advent of the new arc light, said to be strong enough to enable one in San Diego to read a newspaper at night in the ray of a light located in Los Angeles, this invention may revolutionize the lighting of villages and cities. Instead of locating hundreds of small lights along a thoroughfare a single light at a suitable elevation my illuminate a whole district.

It is possible that the coming generation will have practically annihilated darkness, that, when the king of day passes below the horizon, mammoth electric-lighting plants will dispel the darkness that rises from the earth; for, despite popular illusion, darkness rises; it does not descend, as the poets imagine, from the heavens. To establish this one has but to observe how the bottom of a canyon or ravine grows dark sooner than the top, to mark the assent.

One of the follies of the past has been to rely too much upon governments and to expect too much of them. If all the peoples of the earth could follow the example of our country in adopting a good constitution and making its acceptance universal and then devote their energy and their industry to science and economy there would be more smiles in the world and fewer tears. The increasing knowledge that benefits the race is that which enables peoples to make a more intelligent application to the natural forces about them.

How insignificant is physical man power compared to the forces of nature! Yet for thousands of years the race has been wearing that man power to exhaustion, while the natural forces are permitted to go to waste.

LEARNING TO PLAY

While at Washington Mrs. Coolidge was not in agreement with her husband's theory that morning and evening walks were sufficient to keep him in good physical condition. She is said to be the one who has given him the greatest encouragement in the matter of taking up fishing and other sport. All he did for exercise in Washington was to walk and take an occasional ride on his electric horse. While this sort of equestrianship is said to stimulate the liver, it hardly commends itself as a substitute for outdoor recreation of which the President once remarked: "Before coming to Washington I was too poor to play and now I haven't the time."

It would seem, however, that if Roosevelt found time for so much horseback riding and Wilson for interminable golf that President Coolidge might permit himself a little more relaxation in the way of sport. Cleveland, who took little or no real exercise while President, became rather too stout and is said to have suffered other ill effects from his sedentary life. Presidents, like the rest of us, need to play. They must have frequent periods of relaxation or the ordeals of office will sap their vitality. Most people will be glad to hear that President Coolidge, according to reports from Lake Osgood, is at last learning to play.

RARE TOLERANCE

Such a rare example of tolerance as must greatly please President Coolidge, who has stressed the importance of that human quality in so many of his speeches, is shown in the action of the city fathers of Charleston, S. C., in placing a bust of James Lewis Petigru, with engraved words of high praise, in its art gallery among portraits and statues of Washington, Lafayette, Lee, Jackson and others who shaped the history of America.

Petigru was a bitter foe of secession. Amid a storm of sectional passion that disrupted the nation for years his voice always was for the preservation of the Union. He presented the figure of a man who had been of tremendous influence in southern affairs bereft suddenly of a following of any sort among his home people. And yet, unawed by opinion and unseduced by flattery or cajolery, he withstood his people for his country. That those people should have recognized, even at a late day, the value of his unique individualism and paid tribute to it in the way they have done is one of the best proofs of what our President calls "the liquidation of hatred" on the part of the South as well as of its growing spirit of toleration.

On the tablet extolling the virtues of Petigru and telling how his people have delighted in doing homage to "the man who held his conscience higher than their praise" it is told how his country "heaped her honors on the grave of the patriot to whom, living, his own righteous self-respect sufficed alike for motive and reward."

If these sentiments do not thrill the heart of the whole nation, then is it, indeed, callous. It is easy to do honor to one who readily falls in line with the general trend of public opinion in a community, but human nature usually finds it difficult to bestow any sort of praise upon one who holds out against that opinion, even though he has acted in obedience to the dictates of his conscience.

Conformity without conviction is too often the experience of men in public life, where principle often is sacrificed to partisanship and loud clamor sweeps a man off his feet. The belated tribute rendered to James Lewis Petigru, "jurist, orator, heroic man," as the tablet reads, should give encouragement to those high-minded men who sometimes are tempted to join the procession in order to reap a temporary gain, though their private convictions are all opposed to those of the multitude, who, they honestly feel, are in the wrong.

By not saying "Amen" to utterances they believe to be false valiant men like Petigru have kept their souls alive. They may not receive praise while they are live, nor even after their death, but what, in the Addisonian philosophy, is better, they will deserve it.

STABILIZED RAILROADS

As shown by the recently published semiannual reports of the great railroad systems of the country to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the stabilization of the carriers undertaken by the commission has worked well in many cases and the majority of them are making fair profits on their investments. But all railroads are not yet profitable. According to the reports, no less than twenty-two first-class railroads were operated at a loss for the first half of this year, thirteen in the western district, eight in the eastern region and one in the South.

It would seem that the carriers have gained considerably in economic performance, due to measures of efficiency forced upon them by the rates established by the interstate board. For the half-year the net operating income represents on the average 5.6 per cent on tentative valuation, or 4.94 on property investment.

Though constantly clamoring for increased rates, the railroads are unable to obtain them from the commission. The companies calculate that they have failed by $641,000,000 to earn what the commission in 1922 said they were entitled to earn. It is evident, however, that the interstate board shares with many impartial economists the suspicion that it is easy to make a beggarly showing in the reports of profits on watered stock and that the interest earned on such "capital" may be low while actual profits are high, or at least fair.

THE FATHER OF FICTION

By James J. Montague

—[Rudyard Kipling.

Though Adam, we are certain,
Had never felt the lure
Of pulling up the curtain
On current literature;
Though no more than a rabbit
Could he have written "Kim"
Or "Ivanhoe" or "Babbit."
All fiction dates from him.
Its basic word he uttered
When, half consumed with shame—
He hung his head and muttered,
"The woman was to blame."

Since then a world of novels
All throbbing fiction tales,
Have sprung from halls and hovels,
From palaces and jails.
Some proper, others shady,
Some sad and others gay,
But all have blamed some lady
Who led some man astray.
And, therefore, gentle madam,
You owe to Father Adam
The yarns that you devour.

Although sometimes are varied
The action and the plot—
(Time past the pair got married,
They nowadays do not)
The motive of the story
Is always much the same,
The man gets all the glory,
The hero gets the blame.
No writer has relented
Since, countless years gone by
The novel was invented
When Adam told that lie!

PEN POINTS

Only Americans have mastered the art of being prosperous though broke.

"There are no new ideas in the movies." Rats! The wife gets new ideas about frocks at each one.

Funny language! A man deliberately gets drunk and deliberately speeds and people call the climax an accident.

A village is a place where the cop doesn't bawl you out because he may want to borrow the rake.

Baldness usually indicates long life. It doesn't to a fly.

Still, singing in the bathtub may indicate only that the lock won't work.

Movie theaters are about as comfortable as possible now, except for tables to place your feet on.

Alas! the people who say what they think very seldom think anything worth saying.

Only a few Americans have the grand manner and they are driving cars for somebody else.

Making smaller cars won't benefit traffic much. The drivers will feel just as big.

Among the things any man can manufacture as fast as he needs them are statistics.

You seldom find a man who is more righteous than he must be to keep the respect of his neighbors.

The hard part of the channel swim comes when the tide turns. In the case of the social swim it comes when tradesmen demand cash.

Correct this sentence: "I enjoy our old car just as much," said she, "even though all the neighbors have new ones."

When the people have a friend at the helm like Richardson they are not likely to throw him over for an irresponsible spendthrift.

Ignorance of the law is no excuse, but it at least indicates that you're a gentleman.

Speaking of happiness, you won't find it in a larger house or a more expensive automobile.

HERRICK ON AMERICA'S PURPOSE

The following speech was delivered by Ambassador Herrick at St. Nazaire, France, upon the unveiling of the statue to commemorate the landing of the American Expeditionary Forces:

"I have been asked by the committee and instructed by my government to present this monument to France in behalf of the people of the United States. As the inscription on it relates, it has been erected by contributions coming from every State in the American Union; it commemorates a great cause and it honors the imperishable ideals of liberty that unite the two republics. It was executed by Gertrude V. Whitney, an American woman whose personality, as well as her talent and broad philanthropy, has made her admired throughout three nations. With a great artist's insight she has here depicted the American soldier borne on the powerful wings of a nation's changeless purpose, landing, sword in hand, upon these shores of France. There is religion in his attitude as well as warlike prowess. He looks—as later on he proved himself—fearless, confident and kind. What his coming meant to friend and foe history has amply related. No flaw has ever been discovered by the most malignant in the purpose which brought him or his conduct on arrival. He was matched against a mighty foe and proved himself his equal; he served beside the most gallant and elicited their constant admiration. Nine years ago today the first of these young Americans began to disembark in yonder harbor, and the monument before us is intended to commemorate that event.

"The division which landed at St. Nazaire was soon followed by others, and a year later the American army in France amounted to 2,000,000 men, while 2,000,000 more were in training at home. The children of these men are now, many of them, at the age when they ask innumerable and pointed questions, and when widowed mothers are telling them how their fathers fought in the Argonne or along the Marne you can almost hear them ask with a child's directness 'Mother, why did my father go to France?'

"To me the answer to this simple question ever remains a matter of the gravest import, not only for us Americans, but for the civilized world. Our common victory on the battlefield was obtained by physical forces operating against a material strength almost as great; but the decision of battle in our favor of itself would lose its full moral significance had our intentions not been honest and our cause supremely just; and it is of the utmost moment that we continually take steps to see that the facts are comprehended by all people, including our own and our former enemies. Nobody else can perform this duty for us; it is ours and ours alone.

"We were a few years ago hailed throughout Europe as leaders in the realm of idealism, pioneers in its application to world affairs; we have lately been proclaimed as materialists whose influence in the family of nations rests upon the assumption that we are the greatest present repository of the world's material power. The thoughtless accept both assertions; the discriminating reserve their judgment. But I often ask myself, and I ask you now, can it be true that if we have acquired the one, we have thereby forfeited all claims to the other?

"I think not. The essential characteristics of a vigorous nation untouched by any catastrophe do not so quickly change. If we were rash idealists in 1917, have we lost that attribute today? If rank materialists now, is it possible that a few years of praise from without and prosperity within have been able to effect this harsh reversal of our character? I find these exaggerations repulsive intellectually and harmful practically.

"As a nation we have always been introspective, constantly critical of our own faults, eager to know the judgments of others. We are keenly sensitive to praise or blame, but we are far less penetrated with an invincible self-satisfaction than might appear from reading the flamboyant pronouncements of syndicated writers earning a profitable popularity with those who don't reflect.

"There are people who have taken advantage of these peculiarities of our psychology to sow doubt in our own as well as in others' minds regarding our intentions when we entered the war. Reversing all history and starting with the assumption that we are forever solely animated by a careful regard for our pocketbooks, they would make it appear that not only now but ten years ago material considerations were the determining factor in the decisions which we took at that time. Every American should take pains to scotch this lie. The American's capacity for willing self-sacrifice in any cause he holds dear was not suddenly born in 1917; it has been his dominant characteristic for at least 200 years. It is as much alive in our people today as it was when we declared war, and we all know full well that during the three horrible years which preceded that date it was neither dead nor sleeping.

"Very soon after the great European struggle started our people began to comprehend what was happening on this side of the water. Through the blaze of passion and the clouds of deception the every-day American soon perceived what was at stake upon the battlefields of France; he saw that human liberty and elementary justice were hanging in the balance, and from the very start he had but one fixed idea and that was to take off his coat in his good own homely fashion and enjoy the satisfaction of striking a blow in defense of common decency. That he would also be coming to the rescue of an old and valued friend added the force of gratitude to indignation. Whether it was to his personal interest or not he little cared; whether his country would be weakened or fortified by it he bothered not to consider; a fight

COMMERCE CLUB TAKEN INTO COURT

Member Asks Mandate to Let Him See Books After Seeing Coffers Empty

Internal dissension in the ranks of the membership of the Commercial Club of Southern California was taken into Superior Court yesterday when Robert I. Hill, a member, filed a petition in Presiding Judge Crail's court for a writ of mandate commanding the officers and directors of the club to permit him to make an examination of the club's books.

The application involved the building and financing of the club's proposed thirteen-story home, which was alleged to have been built at a cost of $1,500,000. According to the petition, a bond issue for the building was floated for a mortgage of $500,000 and a lien on other property of the club.

It is stated the club, through its directors and officers, now is contemplating assuming an additional obligation of $250,000 to furnish and equip the building and it is charged the club treasury is empty. The petition recited also that the directors have failed to give an examination of the club's business affairs to its members, and also that no accounting has been made of funds involved and spent. Directors and officers of the club who were named parties to the action are J. Ross Cohen, Eddie Saunders, James Wood, Dave C. Jacobs, A. L. Mitchell, F. K. Cressmer and Eric Swinnerton. Attorneys Goldman and Goldman filed the action.

FINDS LOS ANGELES STYLE HUB

Lady Tallis and Miss Biddy Tallis

Los Angeles styles and quality in women's wear surpass those of Paris, New York or any other metropolis, in the opinion of Lady Tallis of Melbourne, wherefore her ladyship comes here to buy her clothing. She arrived at the Biltmore yesterday accompanied by her daughter, Miss Biddy Tallis, and J. Gray, Jr., the son of the present Australian cattle king.

Lady Tallis's husband, Sir George Tallis, is managing director of J. C. Williamson, Inc., the largest theatrical producing company in Australia and the owner of more than 150 theaters, including picture houses on that continent. Sir George was knighted in 1922 in recognition of his being the largest individual contributor to the Australian war loan, his contributions aggregating more than $20,000,000.

"I always come to Los Angeles to shop now after I have discovered what excellent stores you have here," said Lady Tallis. "I formerly bought my clothing in Paris or London, but not any more."

VICTIM IDENTIFIES BURGLARY SUSPECT

Robert Hayes, alias Zeze Hayes, said to be an ex-convict, was arrested yesterday by Officers Dillon and Huling on suspicion of robbery. Hayes was identified, according to the police, by G. H. Holmes, watchman for the Hammel-Oerke Company, as the man who broke through a skylight of the company's plant at 1972 South Los Angeles street and held him up on the night of the 18th inst. The burglar is accused of stealing two tires, three carburetors and an automobile belonging to Fred Armstrong of 1987 South Los Angeles street.

AIR SERVICE TO BAY CITY PROGRESSES

Commercial Line Will be In Operation by Spring, President Announces

Establishments of air service between Los Angeles and San Francisco is the first act on the program of the Burdett Air Lines, Inc., according to Burdett D. Fuller, president of the board of directors. Incorporation papers were filed yesterday with the Secretary of State. The capital stock is listed at $50,000.

Mr. Fuller last night announced that orders for enough hangars to house half a dozen planes soon will be placed and that he expects to have not less than eight Laird Super Swallows in operation by the spring of 1927. Each will have a passenger capacity of four and will be capable of carrying 1000 pounds.

A school of instruction is also contemplated.

Other members of the board of directors are Nixon B. Galloway, Christopher Hurtt and Robert Galloway, all of Los Angeles.

Plane Speeds to Save Swimmer but All in Vain

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 25.—The utility of an airplane as a life saver was demonstrated today, involuntarily and unnecessarily, by Kenneth and Ralph Montee of Clover Field. They received word at their hangars that a swimmer was in difficulty half a mile off the Ocean Park beach, at the same time that the life guard siren was blown at Ocean Park. The siren brought out some thirty life guards from Santa Monica, Ocean Park and Venice, and they were launching their boats when the Montees flew over.

Flying low over the swimmer, the aviators threw him a couple of life preservers, one falling within four feet. He grabbed it, then thrust it from him, waved his hand as a signal that everything was all right, and headed for the Venice beach, to which he swam. Who gave the alarm and blew the siren was not learned.

Red Cross Chief of Disaster Aid Will be Visitor

Henry M. Baker, national director of disaster relief for the American Red Cross, will arrive in Los Angeles today and will speak before the preparedness committee of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon in his honor tomorrow. During the past five years he has supervised personally Red Cross relief operations in 130 disaster-stricken communities.

HENRY M. BAKER

Baker's speech here will explain the latest methods used in disaster-relief work, while he also will describe the work of the Red Cross in such emergencies as the recent Lake Denmark (N. J.) arsenal explosion and the Bingham (Utah) snowslide.

CADDIES TO LOSE GOOD CUSTOMER

Saul H. Brown, an architect, was sentenced yesterday to carry his own golf clubs till his business gets better. Brown had been summoned before Judge Gates to explain a $325 alimony deficiency and said he is broke.

"You play golf a good deal?" queried an attorney for Mrs. Ethel Brown, who is suing for a divorce. Brown admitted he does. "And you hire a caddy?" went on the lawyer. Brown admitted this also.

"That's one charge you can eliminate," put in Judge Gates. "You must pay $100 now, $100 September 8 and the rest September 22; and don't get behind again."

MISCONDUCT IN MAHONEY TRIAL CITED

Brief Offered in Appeal Court in Case of Stand Collapse Conviction

Asserting misconduct on the part of the trial judge and charging that errors were made in the introduction of certain testimony offered by the prosecution, a brief in the case of Paul P. Mahoney, contractor convicted of manslaughter in connection with the collapse of a grand stand in Pasadena last New Year's Day, was filed in the District Court of Appeal yesterday by Attorneys Le-Compte Davis and William B. Beirne.

Mahoney was tried in Superior Judge Burnell's court several months ago and sentenced to from one to ten years in San Quentin. Mahoney was defended in the lower court by Dana Ong, but since his conviction retained Attorneys Davis and Beirne and filed notice of appeal.

Twenty-two asserted instances of misconduct on the part of Judge Burnell in commenting upon the evidence and reflecting upon the credibility of the witnesses before the jury are cited in the brief filed yesterday. Twenty-nine asserted instances where the court examined witnesses in a manner asserted to have been prejudicial to the rights of the defendant also were contained in the brief.

Considerable spirited dialogue that the defense attorneys assert was taken from the transcript of testimony of the trial is contained in the brief in support of the assertions of misconduct on the part of the judge. One instance recorded quotes Judge Burnell as telling a defense witness to "close your face after you have answered the question." Defense Attorney Ong, slow at interposing an objection to testimony presented by the prosecution, was admonished by the court, according to the brief, as follows: "I think Mr. Ong is laboring with an objection—Now, you have passed through the preliminary pain, give birth to it."

Mrs. Josephine Culbertson of New York, generally recognized among authorities as the greatest woman auction bridge player in the United States, is at the Biltmore, with her husband, Ely Culbertson, one of the first five male players of bridge in America. They are on their first visit to Southern California. Culbertson is a member of the Whist and Knickerbocker Whist Clubs of New York, in which much of the finesse of the game has been developed.

In the past few years Mrs. Culbertson has been an active aid to her husband, who is credited with discovering and establishing the modern distributional system of bidding and play, now widely favored by experts in the game. The late developments in the game expounded by the Culbertsons include the four-card suite bids, the principles of distributional values, the new ideas of "approaching bids," a term originated by Mrs. Culbertson, and the law of symmetry.

Culbertson credits Mrs. Culbertson with great assistance in developing his new system of valuation, which is said to permit even a beginner to evaluate his hand with the exactness of that approaching an expert.

Culbertson, who is an elder brother of Sacha Culbertson, the well-known violinist, is now engaged in writing the final chapters of a volume on auction bridge in which he propounds principles of play discovered through research and competition, and which have been popularized by many players of the day.

We have 457 feet of beach sand, two to ten times the sand of other Clubs, and finished plans for a half million dollar building, which will be one of the most unique Clubs ever constructed. It is over the water.

The first quota of memberships are selling for only $100. The membership is to be highly restricted and can be sold very readily to the eligible man who wishes to insure his future beach privileges. Diet and Health

WATER DRINKING WITH MEALS

It used to be believed that the taking of water with meals would hinder digestion. There were thousands of people, however, who were heavy water drinkers at meals, who can testify that it didn't apparently hurt them.

Evidence has accumulated now that water drinking with meals, instead of being harmful, is healthful, even in large amounts, to the normal stomach. Copious draughts of ice water naturally are harmful even to the healthy stomach.

There are some people who should not drink large amounts of water at any one time; those who have a dropping of the intestinal organs, those who have dilated or weakened stomach walls, and certain heart cases. In those who have the falling of the stomach the weight of the water would cause more dropping, and in those who have dilated and weak stomach muscles, there wouldn't be enough tone to the muscles to push the water forward into the intestines.

Water and the fluid part of other drinks leave the stomach very soon after they are taken.

There was an experiment that you will be interested in, which was performed by a physician on sixteen medical students. Eight were instructed to take no water with meals and to take as little as possible between meals. The remaining eight drank one quart of water with each meal and as much as they wanted between meals. Those who drank very little water suffered with headaches and constipation and some lost weight. (This doesn't mean that water is fattening; these students, remember, were not getting enough for proper functioning; they didn't digest their food normally and were upset and it was this that caused the loss in weight.) In the other eight who were taking the water, all were benefited. Not one suffered from indigestion or constipation.

No doubt there are so many who suffer from constipation, poor nutrition and intestinal toxemias, who can attribute one of the causative factors of their disorders to the fact that they drink altogether too little water. Many do not drink sufficient water from habit. Get in water-drinking habit, if you are not already. But don't begin to take large amounts at once. Gradually accustom yourself to more.

SOME ICE CREAM, PLEASE

The Federal standard of ice cream is that they shall contain not less than 14 per cent of milk fat [illegible]. Fruit ice cream is similar to plain ice cream, except that there is [illegible] per cent milk fat and with the addition of sound, clean, [illegible] fruit. Nut ice cream, similar to plain cream, except that sound, [illegible] nuts are added, instead of fruit. (Sherman.)

Not all of the States have adopted these standards and probably [illegible] per cent milk fat] suggested and recommended by the commerce [illegible] standards is more commonly used than the Federal.

Whatever the amount of cream, if it is made of pure milk and cream additions, ice cream is a good food, for we have the very valuable milk with its high content of [illegible] complete protein, as [illegible] all, but especially for children, some cream with its vitamins [illegible] are lessened very little by the [illegible] ing.)

It may be necessary to cut down the fats in the summer on account of inadvisable to cut down the milk and cream, especially in reducing diets, unless too much is taken.

So, here's your ice cream. Go to it, dear! You are overweight, [illegible] you but one-half portion. You can have it as long as you have the calories coming to you.

ROASTED SQUAB BREASTS

Clean squab, cut off wings close to breast, remove skin, cut through the ribe to the shoulder bone, and separate breast bone with breast from the back of bird. Wipe with a damp cheesecloth and insert three small lardoons in each breast. Wash the body bones well and put on to cook in cold water with a bit of bay leaf, a few slices of carrot, one onion sliced, a sprig of parsley, a celery stalk, and salt and pepper. Make a brown sauce of this stock to serve with the birds.

Sprinkle birds with salt and pepper, dredge lightly with flour, pour over a little of the brown stock, and bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven. Place them in a platter around a mound of hot ripe olives which have been heated in their liquor, and drained at the last moment.

CHEESE SALAD MOLD

Parboil a green pepper with a pinch of soda. Cut into small pieces. Cut pimiento into pieces of same size. Soften one-half tablespoonful of gelatin in one-half tablespoonful of cold water, dissolve it in one tablespoonful of boiling water, and add one-half cupful of cottage cheese moistened with two or three tablespoonfuls of milk. Then fold in a cupful of heavy cream which has been beaten stiff and two tablespoonfuls each of red and green pepper. Season to taste with salt and cayenne. Chill in small molds which have been brushed over with salad oil. Turn out on slices of tomato which have been dressed with French dressing; garnish with one or two heart leaves of lettuce.

FROZEN SIBERIAN PUNCH

Boil for five minutes one and one-half cupfuls of sugar and one cupful of water. Cool and add one cupful of lemon juice, one cupful of orange and pineapple juice. Strain, add a delicate pink with color paste, one-half a cupful of grape juice, a small, using equal parts of cherry, green plums, sprinkle of pineapple. Freeze and serve in glasses.

OYSTER BOURAN

Chop one pint of oysters, add their liquor, and cook slowly five minutes. Add three cupfuls of hot cream, two small blade of mace and one teaspoonful of celery salt. Thicken with the boiling point and cook for five minutes in a double thickness of cheesecloth. Remove from the fire, beat and serve in cups with a generous spoonful of whipped cream. Garnish with a sprinkle of paprika. It is not necessary to season with salt, as the oysters when fresh will come to it sufficiently salt in themselves.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Pick over the sprouts carefully, let stand in salted water for an hour. Then cook in boiling water to which has been added one-quarter teaspoonful of soda. Cook until tender, drain, heat, plait, plait, box, knife, gather or flounce the frock or coat. Let one look, we snug any of these closely to the form and [illegible] to the straight-line silhouette, [illegible] in woman, [illegible] not lightly to be forgotten.

Then fold in half a cupful of heavy cream which has been beaten stiff and two tablespoonfuls each of red and green pepper. Season to taste with salt and cayenne. Chill in small molds which have been brushed over with salad oil. Turn out on slices of tomato which have been dressed with French dressing; garnish with one or two heart leaves of lettuce.

FROZEN SIBERIAN PUNCH

Boil for five minutes one and one-half cupfuls of sugar and water. Cool and add one cupful of lemon, orange and pineapple juice. Color a delicate pink with color paste. Add half a cupful of glace fruits cut in small, using equal parts of cherries, green plums, apricots or pineapple. Freeze and serve in glasses.

OYSTER BOUILLON

BRUSSELS SPROUTS

Pick over the sprouts carefully and let stand in salted water for an hour. Then cook in boiling water to which has been added one-eighth teaspoonful of soda. Cook until tender, drain and toss up in butter in an open pan, salting to taste.

The Woman and Her Job

BY VALERIE WATROUS

MAKING IT SNAPPY

The conviction that women are becoming more efficient has been growing upon me for a long time.

Short skirts and cropped hair mean more than following fashion's whims. They are an expression of a desire for greater freedom from the bondage of . . . just things.

This thought came home to me most forcibly in the women's dressing-room of the sleeper recently. It was the first railroad journey I had made in nearly sivz ...ars, having preference for water travel.

Any woman of 30 or over can remember how her sisters used to crowd the Pullman dressing-room. And how they'd prink, unfold their curlers and painstakingly adjust the imitation marcel. There was the matter of clothing, too. Quantities of it, each piece that must be perfectly in place.

The woman who could make her entrance and exit in less than thirty minutes was looked upon with suspicion. She must be a slovenly body!

But on that recent journey: what a change! The women snapped into the room; whipped off negligee and slippers, jumped into the few pieces of clothing they now wear, gave their cropped heads a side-swipe with comb or brush, applied powder and rouge, gave themselves a final survey in the mirror and were gone. Seven minutes by the little wrist watch.

Not only were they expeditious but there was a fine free-masonry among them; a willingness to step aside for the others; an absence of any desire to crowd, to monopolize the mirrors.

And how scrupulous they were in the matter of wiping out the wash bowl when they had ceased their ablutions! Their eyes were friendly, smiling. No disposition to look upon the others as persons against whom one must be guarded, careful.

Service in the pullmans, too, has improved. No longer is it necessary to bribe the reluctant porter to bring a paper bag for one's hat, if he has one; a pillowslip, if he hasn't. The paper bags are distributed in the berths after they are made up. Roaring through tunnels at midnight one breathes thankfully that hat and gown are shrouded from the grime that is rolling in through the windows.

As the train is pulling out from the depot, a colored maid with a tiny lace oblong set slightly askew over one ear, her badge of office, approaches each woman passenger.

"You will find maid service in the club car, madame," she announces. "There is a ladies' bath, or you may have a manicure, marcel, shampoo. I keep a supply of needles and thread; if you are ill, call the porter and he will send for me. I am here to help women travelers."

Yes, it was a transcontinental train coming up from New Orleans. Such service would hardly be necessary on a short journey.

I wondered if the railroad executives had come to reckon with women in a new way. Why this new consideration of their needs? There were no greater proportion of women in the car on this particular train than on the last trip I made up from Southern Texas.

They were a different type of women. Not that they were so young—even the bray-haired ones were bobbed—but they were so vibrantly alive. One could not look over those women passengers and expect to find one who had lost her ticket.

SALE HOLDS APPEAL FOR HARD-TO-FIT

Schuman's Event Caters to Woman of Ample Mold With Slenderizing Designs

BY OLIVE GREY

When, after four years of business, it becomes necessary to lease double the space ordinarily required in order to accommodate the patrons, there is a reason for such unprecedented success.

Slenderizing garments for larger women, in this case, is the reason for such success; and the occasion upon which the selling space is doubled is the special sale at lowered prices in Schuman's shop at 609 West Seventh street.

Here, it has been proven, larger women may appear as elegant and at as little cost as do their smaller sisters. The special sale goes even further, since prices for garments particularly designed for women of larger mold have been lowered to that of the most ordinary ready-to-wear.

For the occasion, fitting rooms additional to those usually in use have been installed, the entire second story above the well-known shop has been taken over, elevator service giving access thereto; a host of extra salespeople has been engaged and, in short, every facility is afforded those taking advantage of this opportunity.

The sale, which starts today, will be in effect for several days and will include the season's latest modes, fabrics and colors in dresses, gowns and wraps, all designed to lend to the larger woman the appearance of slenderness so desired by fashion. "The Sale Phenomenal," a term by which this event is characterified, is hint of its character.

In speaking of the event, Mr. Schuman, president, declares himself well pleased with the reception accorded his shop during the years since its establishment and makes a point of his wish to provide for his patrons during this sale every facility for choice and service, obviating the discomforts sometimes incidental to such occasions. It is with this in view that he has extended the quarters and conveniences enumerated.

LIONS CLUB PAYS HONOR TO BIRDMEN

Members of the Inglewood Lions' Club yesterday were hosts to the Four Hundred and Seventy-eighth Pursuit Squadron, Organized Air Service Reserve, at an outdoor luncheon served on the Inglewood Flying Field. The birdmen winged to the field from their home station at Clover Field, and after alighting, taxied their six planes into a line but a few feet distant from the luncheon table. More than seventy members of the club and friends attended the affair.

Lieut. P. P. Donnelly, U. S. N., who conducted the parachute landing tests on the same field Tuesday, was the feature speaker of the day, taking as his subject the future of aviation in California.

Other guests of honor, besides the squadron of flyers, included R. Carl Oelze, former naval flyer, who had charge of the plane used in the parachute test, and Harry D. Doucett, chief assistant machinist's made, U. S. N., inventor of the parachute. Ben Arid, desert poet, and Strong-heart, a chief of the Yakima Indian tribe, were also visitors.

A musical program was given, featuring the singing of a number of patriotic songs and Lions' Club songs led by Dr. E. E. Winey. Hack Miller, president of the club, served as master of ceremonies.

The army airmen who made the flight to Inglewood and back to Clover Field were Capt. William A. Frye, in charge of the squadron; Capts. Edwin C. Moore and Kenneth Decker; Lieuts. Robert E. Kennedy, J. A. Moore, C. E. Berger, Robert Lloyd, T. B. Coulter, Ray Harding, Lawrence McGrane, C. W. English and Second Lieutenant Cyril Steele.

New Wilshire Extension and Bridge Backed

The extension of Wilshire Boulevard as a 100-foot traffic artery from Westlake Park through the downtown retail business district to the proposed Sixth-street viaduct across the Los Angeles River was started under way by the City Council yesterday.

The Council's action was to adopt the report of its Street Opening and Widening Committee recommending that City Engineer Shaw be instructed to make surveys of the proposed route of the Wilshire Boulevard extension and make cost estimates of the bridge across the lake in Westlake Park which will link the present Wilshire Boulevard and the proposed extension.

Councilmen Hughes and Sparks spoke in favor of the project which was recommended by the Major Highways Committee of the Traffic Commission. When the roll was called on adopting the committee's report, Councilmen Randall, Jacobson, Zahn and Colden voted "No."

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Planning the Menu

One Mother Says:

I had considerable trouble because my two daughters could never agree as to who should do the dishes. To solve the difficulty, I let each one of them plan the menu for a week, and the one who had charge of the menu also had charge of doing the dishes. Now they have a feeling of responsibility and a personal interest in this part of the hon work, they are learning valuable lessons about choosing food, and there is no further trouble about the dishwashing.

OLD-TIMERS RUSH TO AID OF CHAMBER

Offer Services for Rail Celebration Near Saugus on September 5

In response to the story in The Times last Wednesday, stating that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Southern Pacific Railroad are desirous of communicating with old-timers, more than a score of letters, in addition to personal calls, have been received by Charles A. Cooke, manager of the chamber's convention department, who will handle the celebration attending the fiftieth anniversary of the linking of Los Angeles and San Francisco by rail.

Virtually every phase of the early life of Los Angeles and near-by cities will be represented when the celebration is held at Lang Station, above Saugus, on September 5, according to Mr. Cooke, who stated he has received replies from trainmen, storekeepers, clerks and numerous other early Angelenos, all of whom expressed their desire to participate in the festivities.

Lazy Husband and Energetic One Both Lose

A middle-of-the-road policy in regard to working was upheld by successive decisions yesterday in Judge Oates's divorce court, Mrs. Callie Gans being awarded a decree because her husband works too much and Mrs. Etta Kerr winning one because her husband doesn't work at all.

Mrs. Oans said when she first married Sol Gans, he rose at 7 a.m. to open up his restaurant. The next year he began rising at 6, the third year at 5 and now he has worked back to 3 a.m. "My health just simply can't stand the strain," she complained.

"My husband is just the opposite," said Mrs. Kerr when her turn came. "He'd lie abed and sleep all day."

S. S. Hahn was attorney for both women.

SUBSEA SCENES IN PRODUCTION

Army of Divers Working in Bahamas for "Mysterious Island;" Georgie Harris Returning to Fox; Virginia Valli Going East; Ted McNamara Signs

BY HERBERT MOULTON

Hazardous as it may be, there are undoubtedly a large number of studio workers in Hollywood who wouldn't mind changing places with the group of men engaged in building the submarine sets for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Mysterious Island." It may be dangerous, but at least it's cool.

Word that production for the Jules Verne thriller has been started at the Bahamas was contained in a dispatch received yesterday from Charlie Stallings, production manager in charge of the underwater sequences of the picture.

Instead of carpenters and mechanics on this unique "set," Stallings's workmen are divers, laboring many feet beneath the cool, clear waters around the Bahama Islands. Despite the difficulties attendant upon such work, Stallings reports that the company, in charge of Ernest Williamson, expects to return to Hollywood within four months, with many thousand feet of film recording the wonders of the submarine world.

The company very nearly lost all of its equipment in the hurricane which swept over Nassau, Stallings reports.

"The hurricane laid the town flat, and wrecked about 100 boats and caused general havoc throughout the islands here, but fortunately we suffered very little damage to our laboratory and fleet due to the heroism of our crew," he said.

Filming of the underwater scenes of "The Mysterious Island" is by far the largest undertaking of its kind ever to be attempted, according to Stallings. Mr. Williamson, who is said to have done virtually all of the subsea photography ever to have been shown on theater screens, is giving general supervision to the new venture in conjunction with the Submarine Film Corporation, which is furnishing the submarine tube, diving equipment and laboratory.

Stallings was Fred Niblo's first assistant director and production manager during the filming of "Ben Hur," and was identified in similar capacities with such specials as "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," "The Merry Widow" and "The Scarlet Letter."

From the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, where Benjamin Christianson is shooting some of the land sequences of "The Mysterious Island," comes the announcement that Robert McKim, one of our most villainous of screen villains, has joined the cast of principals.

Fox Signs Character Comedian

William Fox isn't neglecting opportunities to inject humor into his pictures. Yesterday his West Coast studio announced that Ted McNamara, the character comedian, has been signed to a long-term contract.

The contract came as a result of his work in the role of Kyper in "What Price Glory," it is said. His first part as a Fox contract player will be in "Mother Machree," which John Ford began filming yesterday. His role in this is as the harpist of Wexford—which is considerable of a jump from a private in the A.E.F.

Two other names were added to the cast of "Mother Macree" yesterday with the signing of Eulalie Jensen and Phillippe De Lacy. They will play the roles of Rachel Van Studdiford and Brian McHugh, respectively, in the Ford production.

Georgie Harris Returning

Another bit of gossip from the Fox lot yesterday relates the homecoming, so to speak, of the diminutive comedian, Georgie Harris, who left Hollywood two months ago on a business trip.

Harris will arrive in Los Angeles today and will at once commence work in a new series of "East Side, West Side" comedies, in which he will be co-starred with Barbara Luddy. It was in a similar series that Harris and Miss Luddy appeared before the comedian left the studio.

Carmelita Geraghty in Mix Film

Tom Mix evidently believes in surrounding himself with pulchritude, for yesterday Carmelita Geraghty was chosen to appear in his current picture, "The Canyon of Light." Miss Geraghty will play the second lead, Dorothy Dwan appearing as the girl who ultimately gets the hero.

CARMELITA GERAGHTY

Virginia Valli Looks Eastward

The lure of making pictures in New York while the fall play season is on evidently has had its effect on Virginia Valli, for she is reported to be negotiating with both First National and the Paramount organizations for roles that will take her to the East Coast studios.

VIRGINIA VALLI

At present Miss Valli is working in "Gaby," the Harry Carr story that Howard Hawks is making at the Fox studio. Although under contract to the Fox company, Miss Valli has an option to make pictures with other firms, it is understood, and this accounts for her negotiations with Paramount and First National.

MacLean Returns

BONELLI BACK TO SING AT HOLLYWOOD

First World Opera Star Arrives For October Season Has Yankee Patience

Returning to this city where he lived fifteen years ago and where he sang at the Temple Baptist Church, Richard Bonelli, successful new baritone of the Chicago Opera Company and star of the Los Angeles Opera this season, will be soloist at Hollywood Bowl tonight.

He will sing "Is It Thou?" from Verdi's "Masked Ball," and the beloved Prologue from "Pagliacci."

Bonelli is probably the only American singer now existent who has refused an offer from the great Gatti-Casazza of the Metropolitan Opera in New York.

A student of mechanical engineering at Syracuse University, nea. where he was born, Bonelli had a difficult time deciding upon a career. He had discovered his voice in the music department of the university and it seemed promising enough to his teacher to undertake the long preparation necessary for success. As his parents were of the Yankee up-State stock which stands squarely on its own feet it was up to young Bonelli to make his own decisions.

He took the chance, knowing that nine-tenths of the Americans who elect music as a vocation never make any money. His stock consisted in unlimited Yankee patience and a good voice, probably inherited. His father could play any one of a dozen band instruments and led the village choir.

His first move when he got out of college was to trek to California ar't find out-of-door work, for he was a slight and wiry boy with artistic sensibilities and little physique. Some wise vocal teacher told him he would need the constitution of a prize-fighter if he was to become an opera star and he came to California to get it. He got it.

Arthur Alexander taught him here at that time and later urged him to try Paris. Two years over there gave him a proper start and he came back to this country to sing in the Aborn and the San Carlo companies.

While in Boston with the latter, H. T. Parker and several other well-known Boston critics wrote glowingly of his performances and someone had the grace to mail the notices to William Guard of the Metropolitan. The outcome was a summons from Signor Gatti and an offer. Bonelli had the temerity and the good sense to refuse a beginning at the Metropolitan at that time. He was not ready for first roles and he did not want second ones.

Audience Finds Lots of Laughs in 'Applesauce'

According to movie dialect, the spectators register laughter throughout the whole performance of "Applesauce" at the Moroco. It is said that no person could help but laugh at the humorous lines spoken by Gavin Gordon, who plays the chief role of the "applesauce" dispenser, "Bill McAllister."

Miss Charlotte Treadway is cast in the role of the heroine who breaks the engagement with her old sweetheart to marry the "soft-soap" merchant. J. Morris Foster acts the part of the tight sweety.

The parents, "Maw" and "Paw" Robinson, are played by Elizabeth Ross and Harry Garrity. Jane Morgan and Richard Cramer make up the balance of the cast.

Following the current success, "Applesauce," "Dancing Mothers" will open September 5 with the four new Moroso stars who are Miss Alma Tell, leading lady; John Litel, leading man; Elizabeth Allen, ingenue, and Mitchell Harris, heavy lead.

WHITE COLLAR MEN PORTRAYED AT EGAN'S

"White Collars" now entering its 125th week at the Egan Theater, concerns a young millionaire, who weds his secretary and goes to their little flat in New York to live. Only when, after a month of scheming, he proposes to adopt their viewpoint, rid himself of his wealth and join the white collar brigade, do they come to realize that in their hearts they had always hoped to reach the last of their of endless scrimping. Even Cousin Henry concedes he is willing to accept a job in Pernambuco, where "there ain't no middle class."

J. Anthony Smythe and Gladys Heaney head a cast which includes Ross Forrester, Maryon Aye, Zellah Covington, Blanch Douglas, Paul Krueger, Frances Sheehan and Gordon White.

KOHLER COMPLETES "ROUGH RIDERS" CAST

HAS THRILLED FOR DECADES

Power and Beauty Affects Audience

May McAvoy and Ramon Novarro

Appearing in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picturization of "Ben Hur" at the Biltmore Theater.

"Ben Hur," the cinema version of Gen. Lew Wallace's novel, is now in the fourth week of its engagement at Erlanger's Biltmore Theater. The picture has fulfilled the expectations aroused by comments of the eastern press, and its splendor in completed form, has delighted those residents of Los Angeles who witnessed the making of some of its scenes. The business at the Biltmore is reported to have been capacity at almost every performanve since the run began.

The spectacular episodes of the chariot race and the battles at sea are the high points in the cinema's pictorial effectiveness, yet the power, beauty and integrity of the drama itself most deeply affect the beholder. The story of Ben Hur's courage and forititude and his love for Esther is the element that thrills all who see the picture, even as it has thrilled readers and theatergoers, as book and play for several decades.

"Ben Hur" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production directed by Fred Niblo, and its chief roles were played by Ramon Novarro, Francis X. Bushman, May McAvoy, Claire McDowell, Kathleen Key, Carmel Myers, Nigel De Brulier, Mitchell Lewis, Leo White, Frank Currier, Charles Belcher, Betty Bronson, Dale Fuller and Winter Hall.

Fans Offered Something New in Appearances

Fred Miller is elated over the fact that he has induced Rex, Hal Roach's famous horse star to make a series of personal appearances at the Figueroa Theater starting tomorrow afternoon in connection with the showing of "The Devil Horse" the newest Rex release.

Of course, Mr. Miller didn't actually take the matter up with Rex, as his trainer acted as interpreter, but Rex after neighing about it a bit and complaining that his time between pictures was too short, finally agreed to appear. He stipulated, however, that he was to receive an extra quart of oats after each performance.

Rex was said to be a real wild horse when he first was enlisted under the Hal Roach banner as a star, and at first his trainer had great difficulty in inducing him to act before the camera. However, he has been tamed by kindness.

CATALINA TO DOUBLE FOR HONOLULU SCENES

Spencer G. Bennet, director of serials for Pathe, after a location trip to Hawaii, San Diego, Lower California and other spots on the California coast picked out Catalina to film the outdoor scenes of the Earl Der Biggers' story, "The House Without a Key," which is mostly laid aboard ship and on land near Honolulu.

The water at the Isthmus at Catalina is the most perfect in the world," says Bennet. "The shore line is more like the South Seas than even Hawaii in a picture. Besides while the island has all the photographic advantages of Hawaii it has none of the disadvantages."

The Pathe company chartered the yacht Wilberta to make the trip back and forth during the filming of the serial. Besides this four fishing boats an army of small boats and other craft were impressed into service.

Clubmen Will Attend Musical Revue Tonight

Olsen and Johnson are going to find themselves in an extremely difficult position tonight if plans prepared by members of the Hollywood Athletic Club are carried out effectively when more than 200 clubmen attend the musical revue "Monkey Business" at the Majestic.

BERT LYTELL

Members of the club have appointed Bert Lytell, screen star, to act as master of ceremonies at tonight's "Monkey Business" performance, and Ben Bard was elected to place Olsen and Johnson in an embarrassing situation.

In other words, Ben Bard is going to attempt to break up Olsen's and Johnson's act and stage a show all his own, featuring some of the clubmen. The unsuspecting players in "Monkey Business" will appear on the stage only to have the club members interrupt their performance.

According to members of the club, monkey business will be used to break up "Monkey Business," and it is the intention of everyone to have a grand and glorious time.

Boatman Nears Close of Long Run at Carthay

Fred Miller announces that Sunday, September 12, will mark the close of the engagement of Cecil B. De Mille's romance, "The Volga Boatman," following a run of seventeen weeks at the Carthay Circle Theater.

Thousands of theatergoers and tourists have visited this new playhouse since its opening last May and all have viewed the paintings and historical objects of pioneer days displayed.

The theater will close after the Sunday performances to allow for rehearsals preparatory to opening on the following Tuesday evening with the world premiere of John Gilbert in King Vidor's Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production of Rafael Sabatini's story "Bardelys the Magnificent."

The Carthay Circle last night celebrated its 200th performance, which marked the same record for showings of "The Volga Boatman" and Jack Laughlin's prologue "Volga." In honor of the occasion Miss Julia Faye and Mr. Theodore Kosloff of the cast of the picture, made personal appearances and were introduced by Alan Hale, who acted as master of ceremonies.

GLENDALE VISITED BY MARGARET ANGLIN

Brotherhoods Give Musical Play at Shrine

Final dress rehearsal will be held tonight at the Shrine Civic Auditorium for the presentation tomorrow evening by the Federated Church Brotherhods of California of their first annual musical play, "Down in Alabam'," a Dixieland operetta.

Several well-known stage players will appear in the cast, and a feature of the production will be a chorus of 1000 voices, recruited from church choirs and choral societies of the Southland and drilled by Ray Howard Crittenden, Los Angeles musical instructor.

Incidental to the play, a number of artists will present specialty offerings, including practically the entire cast of the "Don Juan" prologue from Grauman's Hollywood Egyptian Theater. Bernard De Pace, European mandolin player; Cherry Louise Marshall, coloratura soprano from the Metropolitan Opera Company, and the Novell Brothers, vaudeville comedy headliners, as well as the entire "Don Juan" male chorus, will appear through the courtesy of Sid Grauman, who is advisory director of the churchmen's production.

Other artists who will present specialties include the Al Malaikah chanters, the Orpheus Club male quartet, Frieda Peycke, noted Southland composer, and Joe Denman, xylophonist.

The production, one of the most pretentious affairs ever staged by a religious organization on the Pacific Coast, will be made doubly impressive by being presented on the huge Shrine auditorium stage, the largest in America.

ONLY BEAUTY HOLDS HUSBANDS NOWADAYS

After marrying the man of her choice the Princess of Flausenthurn found that even a princess must possess the charms that are attractive to men or she is in a fair way of losing the love of her husband. Reared by a stern father she had grown up straitlaced in dress and deportment, therefore was it little wonder that her husband refused to reciprocate her love.

The metamorphosis of this dowdy princess into a lovely butterfly serves as the plot for "The Waltz Dream," the UFA picturization of Oscar Strauss' operetta that is now showing at the Forum Theater.

"KNOW YOUR ONIONS" OPENS WEDNESDAY

Orange Grove Will Present New Play Wednesday

Arthur Freed announces that the opening date of "Know Your Onions" at the Orange Grove will be Wednesday night.

This will be the first time this play has ever been given on any stage, except the time it has been tried out near Los Angeles. The play is by Norman Foussler.

Henry Hall will play the leading role, with Jessie Arnold playing the feminine lead. Rehearsals will begin Tuesday at the Orange Grove. Norman Feussler will personally direct this production.

This is the final week of Alexander Carr in "Partners Again" with Eddie Lambert as the play must open in San Francisco Monday.

THEATER MAN HAS THREE BIRTHDAYS

Alexander Pantages

Three anniversaries are being observed this week at the Pantages Theater. Twenty-six years ago Alexander Pantages started in the show business in a little Alaska town named Dawson. It was here where he secured his first theater. The deal was the outcome of hard work and saving the earnings which he derived therefrom.

More than $8,000,000 now being thrown into the completion of new houses is in Portland and Minneapolis. The new San Francisco house, which has just been opened, is another late accomplishment. A complete overhauling and renovating is taking place in many of the other Pantages-owned houses on the circuit.

Plans are now under way to construct many new houses in Southern California. Where they will be built has not yet been made public.

Today Pantages personally owns thirty theaters and Pantages vaudeville is playing in more than sixty-eight theaters.

This week at the local Pantages Theater a gala celebration is being observed. Headlining the vaudeville bill is Tom Brown with his original Six Brown Brothers, together with an augmented orchestra of fourteen pieces.

On the screen appears the first release of the William Fox 1926-27 new season, "Fig Leaves." This reveals the ancient styles as well as the up-to-date mode.

THRILLS IN "SIBERIA"

SPANISH DAYS FIESTA MOTIF

Santa Barbara in Holiday Attire

Colorful Parade Feature of Opening

Old-Time Residents Are Guests of Committee

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 25.—Descendants of the dons of old Spain who once ruled Santa Barbara tomorrow will hold the reins of government and make merry for thousands of visitors to the city.

The old Spanish days pageant will open at 10 o'clock with the landing of Cabrillo and will be followed by a historical parade depicting every phase in the conquest and history of California, especially of Santa Barbara. The best horsemen of two counties will ride in the parade, as well as William Gibbs McAdoo, Congressman Arthur M. Free of San Jose and city and county officials of Ventura and Santa Barbara counties.

The replica of Cabrillo's galleon, "San Salvador," will be piloted into the harbor by members of the navy reserve, while Kiwanis Club members, appearing as Cabrillo and his soldiers, will be brought ashore to discover the new-found land of California. The landing pageant will be preceded by the initial appearance of the "stunt" committee under George D. Morrison, who has arranged a series of side-splitting antics to keep the crowds busy until time for the pageant.

The committee also is planning a comic parade Saturday morning from Victoria to Haley streets on Estado. H. M. Hazard will have a bicycle entry of more than fifty iron steeds, Joe Andrews of the Granada Theater will have a boys' band and engineers of the city will form a surveying crew to survey all the new buildings.

Immediately following the Cabrillo pageant, the old Spanish Days equestrian parade will start from Estado and Sola street marching down to Cabrillo Boulevard, turning west and passing the reviewing stand. There will be no idle moments, for, after luncheon, there will be a dancing pageant held in La Guerra Plaza by the Botello and Ruiz dancers, at which many old-time residents of Santa Barbara will be honored guests. A special structure is being built in the Plaza in preparation for the entertainment.

At 4 o'clock the American Legion will throw open the doors of its far-famed '49 camp in the 700 block on Estado. It is being decked out with all the fittings reminiscent of the days when "men were men," and gold dust and six-shooters formed an important part in a community's daily life. "Roaring Gulch Dance Hall," as it will be known, will have replicas of the old bars, gambling devices and the like, while an orchestra of fiddlers will hold sway from the musicians' platform. Stage money, provided within the dance hall, is all that will be accepted in return for drinks and other articles which will be on sale, according to those in charge.

Rotarians Have All-Day Frolic at Beach City

LONG BEACH, Aug. 25. (Exclusive) Rotarians from forty clubs in Southern California to the number of several hundred enjoyed a beach outing and dance at the Belmont Beach Club this afternoon and evening in an entertainment arranged by the Long Beach club.

An inter-city business meeting was held at 7 o'clock after visiting club members and their women friends had spent the afternoon bathing and playing beach games. James Reid, chairman of the Long Beach Club entertainment committee, was in charge of the program. A box lunch was served to about 1000 visiting and Long Beach Rotarians.

The regular meeting of the Long Beach club, scheduled for this noon was canceled to permit members to entertain the visitors.

NEW CANYON DRIVE

Scenic Roadway Opened In Orange County

SANTA ANA, Aug. 25.—The Santa Ana Canyon Boulevard, which has been closed to traffic since the first of June while paving operations were under way between Jefferson street and Peralta, will be thrown open to travel next Saturday, it was announced today. Tourists along the way will then find a five-and-one-half-mile stretch of new concrete paving from Olive to Peralta, including the four-mile strip just completed by the United Concrete Pipe and Construction Company. The portion between Olive and Jefferson street was built not long ago. This new boulevard is twenty feet wide and averages about five inches in depth at the center with nine inches at the edges. With banked turns and many of the curves eliminated entirely, it is said to form one of the finest stretches of boulevards in Southern California.

SCHOOLS TO HAVE EXHIBIT AT FAIR

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 25.—One whole tent of the five destined to house the 1926 Kern county fair next month, will be devoted to the educational exhibit. In times past, aure of spectacular feats of prize winning at the State fair at Sacramento, the Kern county schools during the year ending last spring produced much which will be of interest, particularly to parents.

The educational department exhibit will have several logical divisions, one for high schools, another for junior high schools, a third for elementary accredited schools which includes Bakersfield, Colony, Delano, McFarland, Midway, Palento, Richland, Stanrard and Wasco and another open to all elementary schools of the county except the accredited schools.

NOISELESS DOG SHOW PLANNED

Lankershim Exhibit To Be One In Which Canines Won't Yelp and Bark

LANKERSHIM, Aug. 25.—Along with quackless ducks and jumpless frogs, which have proved a success, Lankershim is going to put over a noiseless dog show. That is, they hope to get away with it.

The big show, one of the very biggest ever given in the Southland, is to take place next month. One thousands pups of various breeds will be on hand. Thomas Brierly, Lankershim fancier, is in charge of details. "The punkest thing about a dog show is the noise the dogs make," he says. "This year we are going to use patent bench kennels, placed in such a way the dogs can't see each other and bark their heads off. A noiseless dog show will be a novelty, and we expect twice the crowds that usually attend an exhibit where dogs bark and yelp most of the time."

BUDGET AT RIVERSIDE INCREASED

Firemen Get Salary Rise But Streets and Park Are Sufferers by Slash

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 25.—The City Council adopted the 1926-27 budget today. The street department and Fairmount Park were the sufferers when the solons ended their slashing with a final flourish. Proposed wage increases and personal increase for the fire department went into the final schedule with only slight dissent voiced by Councilman Winship, known as a stickler for economy.

Total expenditures for the year will be $266,553.80, more than $30,000 over the $235,782.25 raised by taxation for municipal governmental and departmental purposes last year. The aggregate for the year is divided as follows for departments, general improvement, parks and streets, insurance and compensation, $210,437.06; for library without collections, $23,381.90; for bonds and interest, $32,734.84.

The action of today assures a tax rate of $1.71 for the year, divided as follows: General, etc., $1.35; library, 15 cents; bonds and interest, 21 cents.

The Council will adopt this rate at its first September meeting, complying with provisions of the city charter. The assessed valuation on which the schedule is based is $15,587,930.06.

VAN NUYS TO PAVE TOWNSITE STREET

VAN NUYS, Aug. 25.—Final ordinance for the paving of Hazeltine avenue, east boundary street of the Van Nuys townsite, is being drafted later to be approved by the City Council. The improvement calls for a twenty-foot concrete strip between Chandler Boulevard and Vanowen street, a distance of nearly two miles. This will be the first unit in the project, as the next step will be to pave the thoroughfare farther northwar dthrough the valley. The improvement of the street has been sought for some time. It has been delayed for various reasons.

CATTLE BUYERS BUSY IN KERN

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 25.—Reaching into the mountain cattle reserves, buyers for the southern cattle market are scouting for good steers with the result that this week will end with at least thirty-nine cars of cattle having moved from Kern county. Up to and including today fifteen cars have been shipped by members of the Kern County Cattle Men's Association and to-morrow the biggest shipment of the week will be released at Olig by Chris J. Twisselmann, who is sending eighteen cars south. The consignment will be mostly steers with a few cows and heifers mixed.

VENTURA, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Minnie Tucker, wife of E. O. Tucker, prominent Saticoy walnut grower, died at her home this morning after a long illness. Mrs. Tucker contracted heart and kidney trouble during an eastern trip last winter, and since that time has been under doctor's care. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker had lived at Saticoy for twenty-five years, rearing a family of four daughters and one son. The one son, Herbert Tucker, is an Ojai rancher. A daughter, is Mrs. J. M. Argabrite of Ventura. Three other daughters, the Misses Elizabeth, Mildred and Helen Tucker, live at home. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon.

DRAGGED BY AUTO

REDLANDS, Aug. 25.—Harvey Everett, 247 Fourth street, is in the hospital with all the skin burned off his face and hands as a result of being struck by an automobile driven by D. A. Chilson at a Cajon and Olive this morning. Everett was hurrying to a fire and crossing Cajon street, Chilson signalled with his horn and Everett, thinking the machine was behind him, jumped directly in front of the Chilson car. He managed to grab hold of the fenders and was dragged over the pavement several feet burning the skin from his face and one arm.

It is expected that advertising boards will be erected and maintained at Victorville, Yuma, on the Ridge Route and on the Coast Highway.

POSTPONE HARBOR HEARING

Orange County Supervisors Act to Lessen Work of Election Officials

SANTA ANA, Aug. 25.—Necessity of avoiding a jam in the election machinery of the county already congested by the primary election of this month and the November general election, besides a desire to carefully guard the interests of the harbor itself, prompted the county supervisors to continue the hearing on the Harbor Commission's report for two weeks. This announcement was made by Chairman T. B. Talbot to the gathering of harbor boosters present at the hearing when the board unanimously voted to continue the proceedings to September 2.

The statement was received by the boosters without comment and appeared to be satisfactory to them. The postponement of a decision according to a calling of a new harbor-bond election at a time when a part of the election rush is out of the way, would be for the best interests of the project itself as well as clearing the way for a more intelligent consideration of the problem, was stated by Talbot. The supervisors, he indicated, wish to feel their way more carefully in the matter of deciding when a new harbor-bond proposal should be submitted to the voters.

The harbor project is gaining momentum steadily, Talbot declared, and the two-weeks' delay will benefit rather than harm it, he said. The County Clerk's office, he explained, is facing a tremendous task in handling preparations for the two county and State elections this fall and another election crowded in at this time might result in overburdening the official machinery. The prime consideration, however, said the chairman, was to be certain that the time is ripe before an election is called. When the question of how long the hearing should be continued arose District Atty. A. P. Nelson advised the board that the hearing could not be postponed longer than four weeks. Action on the commission's report must be definitely taken within that period under the statutes, Nelson said.

Before the continuance was voted Clerk J. M. Backs read the commission's report containing an estimate of $650,000 for the work, engineering expenses and other costs connected with the project to improve the harbor entrance.

Chairman Talbot called upon Gen. Lansing H. Beach, consulting engineer for the Harbor Commission to explain the contemplated method of unloading rock on the harbor jetty. In view of a question that had been asked the board, it appeared that there was an impression that a railroad must be built at great expense around the harbor for the purpose of hauling rock to a point where it could be unloaded on the jetty. Gen. Beach said there was no need or thought of a railroad. The economical way, he said, would be to build a wharf along the jetty and carry the rock out on the wharf to unload it. Unloading from a barge would not be feasible since a barge could not be moved near enough to the jetty for unloading, he said.

ANGELENOS GUESTS AT MAYA HOTEL

Notable Group Studies Monrovia Building Designed in Style of Ancients

MONROVIA, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—Grasping an opportunity to study first-hand the only modern building in the world modeled entirely by the architecture of the ancient Maya civilization in Mexico and Central America, a group of writers, composers and Los Angeles architects attended a dinner at the Aztec Hotel here tonight as guests of Robert B. Stacy Judd, Hollywood architect and designer of the unique structure.

Among the guests was Lloyd Hampton, who is now preparing a series of eight articles for national magazines dealing with Maya architecture and its modern adaptation as exemplified in the Monrovia hostelry; Charles Wakefield Cadman, composer, who makes a special study of Indian lore; Ralph Waldo Trine, author, and Arthur Farwell, composer.

Other guests were Charles Kyson, Roland Holbrook, A. F. Mantz, Charles S. Cobb and Horatio Bishop, Los Angeles architects; Arthur Kelly of Los Angeles, and C. A. Gummere of the University of Southern California.

Many noted guests have been entertained at the Aztec since its opening in October, last, created nationwide interest in revival of the old Maya architecture. This new style will be embodied in a new beach club and two hotels to be erected at San Diego and Vancouver, B. C.

NEW STAGE ROUTE ON COAST HIGHWAY

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 25.—Direct motor coach service between Santa Monica and Santa Barbara, linking up the all-coast service between this city and San Francisco on the north, also with San Diego on the south, is expected to result from the petition of the Pickwick Stages System before the State Railroad Commission, according to business men here. Completion of the new shore highway through the Malibu will make this great coast line possible.

The new transportation route from Oxnard to San Pedro is of great importance to Los Angeles and the harbor district as well as Santa Monica, transportation men declare. The new link will weld a great transportation chain connecting El Paso, Tex., and Portland, Dr., with the Los Angeles district. Two daily schedules between Oxnard, Santa Monica and San Pedro are contemplated by the Pickwick line, according to reports here, if the company's plea before the commission is granted.

ASK COMMISSION TO IMPROVE ROAD

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 25.—Pressure roon will be brought to bear on the California Highway Commission to bring about the widening and resurfacing of the State highway in Kern county between Lerdo and Delano, according to Harrison Elliott, secretary of the Bakersfield Civic Commercial Association, who said that at the next meeting of the organization, September 3, the directors probably will pass a resolution urging the commission to take favorable action.

The highway job, if the commission allows it, will cost approximately $250,000, basing the figure on the cost of similar work on the highway between Lerdo and Beardsley, which recently was completed at an expenditure of $170,000 for an eight-mile stretch. The new project would call for thirteen miles of construction.

FIFTY CARS OF HONEY

OXNARD, Aug. 25.—Approximately fifty cars of Ventura county sage honey have been shipped this season which has just ended. This is considered good as last year's sage honey crop was only two cars.

The difference between last year and this year is due to the rain. Last year, with no rain, the sage did not bloom. Due to the bountiful rains during last winter, there has been good sage bloom and consequently good production of sage honey. Demand is also better with fair prices predominating. The lima bean honey season will open soon.

COYOTES ANSWER FIRE SIREN

Jealous Tujunga Beasts Show Anger Over Racket Made

TUJUNGA, Aug. 25.—It has just been discovered here that there is something about the sound of the local fire siren that finds an answering screech in the hearts of the coyotes that amble over the hills just south of Tujunga.

Yesterday when the fire siren let out a wail several coyotes came to the top of the hills, fired back their call of the wild and then turned and ran back into the brush.

Old timers say the coyotes appear to be jealous over the brand of racket a siren can make when it gets down to business.

MEETING TO BOOST EXHIBITION

Fair Board Entertains Editors at New Grounds Near Santa Ana

SANTA ANA, Aug. 25. An Orange county civic center at the new permanent location of the fair grounds on the State highway between Anaheim and Santa Ana was visited by newspaper editors and members of the fair board. At a complimentary dinner given by the board to the newspaper men speakers pointed out that the location was practically in the center of the county both from geographical and population angles and that the site is on one of the most heavily traveled highways in Southern California.

If the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana wants to erect a coliseum no better site could be selected than the fair grounds in the opinion of S. W. Stanley of Tustin, a member of the fair board. Ralph McFadden of Placentia listed several of the reasons for the location of the fair grounds on the State highway midway bwteen two principal cities of the county, but within the boundaries of neither.

A. M. Stanley, former secretary-manager of the fair, told how he came to rewrite the historical pageant, "The Birth of an Empire," and predicted that the offering would be among the most pleasing of all the fair features. J. R. Hunt, secretary-manager of the fair this year, expressed his appreciation for the manner in which the editors of the county had printed the news concerning the fair.

MASTER OF TROOP FINED FOR BLAZE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Aug. 25.—Reprimanded severely by Justice Gibbs, E. M. Goff, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop No. 19, who was responsible for the disastrous brush fire that swept the foothills below Mt. Wilson yesterday, was fined $50 here today for violating the county fire ordinances. The complaint was signed by Assistant County Fire Warden Thurston, who accused Goff of lighting a fire without a permit and of permitting the blaze to grow beyond control.

Goff pleaded guilty and admitted that in burning refuse at the Boy Scouts' camp he had poured oil over the blaze. Justice Gibbs in imposing the fine declared Goff had shown gross negligence.

Goff, who is about 30 years of age, lives at 1219 West Ninety-fifth street, Los Angeles.

BEACH NEWSBOYS HELD BY POLICE

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 25.—S. C. Marcon and Fred Arnold, Santa Monica newsboys, were formally charged by Santa Monica police with violation of the State Penal Cole in connection with the sale of a San Diego newspaper containing an asserted obscene story about Aimee Semple McPherson, on their release last night by Sawtelle police, who stated the two were not the newsboys they had been seeking for a similar offense in Sawtelle. They had been arrested here yesterday on request of Sawtelle police, and their charge here arises out of their alleged sale of the newspaper on Santa Monica Boulevard and Third street, in this city. They are at liberty on their own recognizance, and will be given an early hearing in Santa Monica Police Court, according to Police Chief C. E. Webb.

Flyers Answer Hurry Call of Naval Airmen

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 25. (AP)—An SOS signal, unique in the annals of the air because it involved no immediate cause of distress, but which was of urgent appeal, was responsible for two Marine Corps aviators flying from San Diego to Marfa, Tex., yesterday.

The call for assistance came from Maj. Ross Rowell, Marine Corps aviator, who, with Capt. Harold Campbell, is ferrying two small NB-type training planes from Pensacola, Fla., to San Diego.

Carrying only sufficient gas supply for flights of two hours' duration and capable of ascending only to a comparatively low altitude when burdened with pilot, mechanic and baggage, Maj. Rowell discovered that the plane could not top the high mountainous region between here and Texas unless the mechanics and baggage were shifted to other planes.

Accordingly, the major flashed an SOS signal to North Island requesting that additional planes be sent to Marfa. Capt. S. T. Mulcahy and Marine Gunner M. Wodarczyk were chosen to do the rescuing act. They will bring back the mechanics, spare parts and baggage while Maj. Rowell and Capt. Campbell endeavor to push their small planes over the mountains.

SPEEDER APPEALS TO HIGHER COURT

SANTA ANA, Aug. 25.—C. C. Kellogg, 4128 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles, charged with speeding fifty-two miles an hour over an Orange county road, has pleaded guilty to the charge and given oral notice that he will appeal the case to the Superior Court in Orange county.

This is the first time since Kenneth Morrison has been justice of the peace that an asserted speeder has appealed his case, Morrison said today. Kellogg was arrested by Vernon Barnhill, State traffic officer, on July 28, last, and first was scheduled to appear here on the 24th inst. He gave notice of his appeal through the Automobile Club of Southern California, which is handling his case.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE

LONG BEACH Aug. 25.—Falling headlong eighty-six feet from the working platform of an oil derrick in the Signal Hill field, Dell Thompson, 21, sustained only minor bruises because he broke his fall by clutching a stack of pipe in the derrick. He was working on the O'Donnell No 40 well at Linden avenue and Crest street when he lost his balance and plunged into the derrick.

REVOKE CENSOR ORDER

Pasadena Officials Conclude Publicity of Public Affairs Is Best Policy

PASADENA, Aug. 25.—Public condemnation of the recent threats of the Board of City Directors to "censor" so-called unfavorable publicity for Pasadena, together with private investigations on the part of City Directors into the extent of damage to buildings here by white ants, brought about a complete reversal of the board's tactics when it met today, and peace now appears to reign at the City Hall.

Instead of condemning Chief Building Inspector Walter Putnam for making public statements concerning the inroads of a white ant army into wooden buildings here, as it did a week ago, the board today commended his action and urged him to give out all possible information that would lead to eliminating the danger from the insect pests.

Putnam appeared before the Directors today seeking their sanction before answering numerous communications that have been addressed to him and which requested information as to the best methodrs of combating the termite hordes which are attacking wood-work in various sections of the country. On account of the "muzzling" order of last week, he had been afraid to answer the queries before getting the board's approval.

The Directors, evidently having reconsidered their action of last week, agreed that the building chief should make known all phases of the situation and furnish any information desired concerning the status of the danger and means of meeting it.

"Anything that Pasadena has learned should be made known," Chairman Cole said. "The problem seems to be general along the Pacific Coast as well as in other sections of this country and in other countries. I have made a personal investigation of the situation and have found many cases where buildings have been so damaged as to endanger the lives of the occupants."

The "censorship" resolution which the Directors ordered the City Attorney to frame last week, has not been drawn up, although it was to have been presented at the board meeting this week, and it is expected never to be presented.

"The problem is not confined to Pasadena, but is common to all warm countries, and even to buildings in cold countries which are continuously heated," Putnam told the officials. He is now conducting a thorough survey of the situation here, and when its status has been learned, remedial action will be started at once.

HOSPITAL REVOKES PROPOSAL

Pasadena Institution Refuses to be Drawn Into Political Argument

PASADENA, Aug. 25.—The proposal of the Pasadena Hospital to take over the emergency-hospital work of the city at a flat rate, which has caused a heated controversy in City Hall circles for the last few weeks, was suddenly withdrawn today, just as the Board of City Directors was preparing to hold a public hearing on the question Friday.

Hospital association officials declared in their communication to the City Directors today that their offer has made the hospital the butt of abuse founded on misstatements and that politics has entered into the question.

"We withdraw our offer," the letter said, "not because of any wish to shirk a public service, but from the conviction that under present existing conditions the hospital can best serve by keeping aloof from any political or other entanglement."

The offer was originally made at the fequest of City Director William Easterbrook, who became convinced that the work could be handled better and more cheaply at the Pasadena Hospital than at the Emergency Hospital in the police station, which is operated by the city. Then numerous organizations objected, while others favored the plan.

City Directors expressed considerable surprise today at the action of the hospital officials. The net result of the controversy will probably be improved equipment for the emergency hospital.

Santa Barbara Has Its First Bank Robbery

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 25.—Forcing his way through fiesta crowds on Estado, a lone unmasked bandit held up Virgil Dardi, cashier of the Haley-street branch of the Bank of America, at 1:15 p.m. today and escaped with approximately $700.

It was the first bank robbery in the history of Santa Barbara city. Deputy sheriffs and police were immediately dispatched to guard the only two entrances to the city. The bandit told the cashier that he had a partner outside, but he made his escape after conducting the robbery so quietly that others in the bank were unaware of his presence.

SOON TO BUILD NEW RAILWAY STATION

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 25.—A franchise for the laying of tracks across Twenty-fourth street has been granted to the Southern Pacific Company by the State Railroad Commission, paving the way for development in the freight department, which will eventually amount to $300,000, according to C. E. Wykes, district freight agent here.

The new freight depot, plans for which have been completed by Chief Engineer G. W. Boeschke of San Francisco, will be presented to bidders immediately and work on the building is expected to be under way within sixty days.

Mr. Wykes announced that the ground will be broken for the two tracks across Twenty-fourth street in about a month.

BOY HUNTERS AWAIT DOVE SEASON OPENING

MISSION ACRES, Aug. 25. — The season for shooting doves will open next Wednesday, and it is expected that the small boy in this vicinity will be in his glory for the next several weeks, or until all the doves are chased out of the San Fernando Valley section. This year there have been seen a great many doves on the valley floor, and in the low brush of the valley hillsides. Last year very few of the birds were noted. Old-timers say ythat just every so often doves return in small droves to San Fernando Valley. This year is one of the periods. In years gone by thousands of doves dwelt and nested in the trees and low shrubs in all parts of the valley areas.

GAS MEN STAGE GOLF TOURNAMENT

PASADENA, Aug. 25.—Delegates to the thirty-third annual convention of the Pacific Coast Gas Association meeting here this week today laid fuel problems aside and devoted their attention to those of gutta percha by staging their annual golf tournament at the Annandale Golf Club. Those who did not wield clubs journeyed to Catalina Island for the day.

Business sessions will be resumed again tomorrow morning at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo. The convention will adjourn Friday night after the yearly banquet at which the newly-elected officers will be installed.

The indorsement of candidates was announced yesterday by the Citizens' Committee of Ten Thousand. Michael P. Shannon is president of the committee; Harold L. Arnold and E. P. Clark are vice-presidents, James R. Page is treasurer and Marvin L. Arnold is secretary. The directors and campaign committee are made up of many prominent men and women.

The principles and purposes of the committee are "to seek out and draft for public office men and women of ability and good moral character, whose views on public service are known to be in accordance with the principles of government as expressed in the Constitution of the United States and the State of California."

The indorsements were as follows: Governor, Friend W. Richardson; Lieutenant-Governor, Frank F. Merriam; United States Senator, Samuel M. Shortridge; Congress, Ninth District, W. E. Evans; Tenth District, Lin William Price; Supervisor, First District, Prescott Cogswell; Third District, Sidney T. Graves. For the Superior Court, full term, the following were indorsed: Charles Burnell, Charles Crail, Walter Gates, Harry Hollzer, P. E. Keeler, Sidney Reeve, Ruben Schmidt, Albert Lee Stephens, Frederick C. Valentine and Myron Westover; short term, Edward T. Bishop and William Hazlett. State Senate, Thirty-fourth District, Charles W. Lyon; Thirty-sixth District, Frank C. Weller; Thirty-eighth District, J. W. McKinley. Assembly: Sixty-first District, James G. Crawford; Sixty-second District, Walter J. Little; Sixty-third District, Voltaire Perkins; Sixty-fourth District, Harry Lyons; Sixty-fifth District, Thomas L. Dodge; Sixty-sixth District, Frank M. Smith; Sixty-eighth District, Harry F. Sewell; Sixty-ninth District, Jerome V. Scofield; Seventieth District, John G. Spielman; Seventy-first District, Henry E. Carter; Seventy-second District, Willard E. Badham; Seventy-third District, Howard W. Davis; Seventy-fourth District, Frederick M. Roberts; Seventy-fifth District, Mark A. Pierce.

A betrayal of the Republican party by opponents of W. E. Evans, Republican indorsee for nomination to Congress from the Ninth District, was pointed out yesterday by Col. William M. Griffith, who accused others in the race for the nomination of splitting the party's vote, thereby favoring Charles H. Randall, candidate for the same office on the tickets of all parties.

Indorsement of Evans has just been received from the Glendale Taxpayers' Association in a letter signed by Bert Woodward, president, and Claire W. Ainspach, secretary, stating that the lawyers' organization is backing him because of his stand in favor of a strong protective tariff, immediate development of the Colorado River, and rigid enforcement of all laws.

Organization of an Evans-for-Congress Club in Eagle Rock has just been completed to aid in the last few days of the campaign. C. W. Young, realtor, is president; Sheriff Osburne, vice-president, and C. A. Butler, secretary.

Called "to consider the Congressional situation in the Ninth and Tenth districts," the executive committee of the Los Angeles Republican County Central Committee will meet today at the Alexandria in special session.

Other than the statement that matters of interest in connection with the situations in the two Congressional districts are to be considered, there was no announcement of the purpose of the meeting, but it is expected that the committee will indorse a candidate for the Republican nomination in each of the districts.

Joe Crail is expected to land the indorsement for the Tenth District and W. E. Evans of Glendale in the Ninth. Both candidates are reported to have the friendship of a large majority of the committeemen.

The call for the meeting was signed by Mrs. Harriett W. Works, vice-chairman of the committee; W. R. Kilgore, C. A. Ballreich, W. H. Archdeacon and L. V. Shepherd. Shepherd and Archdeacon are Pasadena members of the committee and the other three are from Los Angeles.

Former Chief of Police Home, candidate for Sheriff, yesterday held an important conference at his headquarters in the Ferguson Building with more than thirty representatives of various committees throughout the county, who are supporting his campaign for election at the primaries next Tuesday.

Discussing his platform, Capt. Home said, in part:

"I believe in the segregation of prisoners and I believe that we should have a separate jail or workhouse for minors and first offenders. Especially should this be adopted for young men. Let our slogan be 'Safeguard the child.' The hope of the nation is the child.

"Whatever the offense the child should not be thrown into association with older and hardened criminals. To do this is criminal in itself. The child and the first offender, if guilty of a minor infraction of the law, shall not be allowed to become contaminated and cursed by the polluting touch and atmosphere of the hardened and unfeeling criminal."

Sidney T. Graves, candidate for Supervisor from the Third District, will make the closing speech of his campaign at a joint meeting tonight of the Beverly Hills and Hollywood Citizens' Committees, at the Graves headquarters in the Taft Building, Hollywood.

G. G. Greenwood, president of the Hollywood Citizens' Committee, announcing that organization's indorsement of Graves, wrote as follows: "I have followed Mr. Graves's political career closely since he first entered the State Legislature eight years ago. I know him to be a constructive, sane and progressive legislator, and feel that his election to the Board of Supervisors would be to the great benefit of the voters and taxpayers."

J. G. Warren, well-known Los Angeles Republican, former head of the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A. and the president of the Christian Missionary Society of Southern California, last night issued a statement indorsing Joe Crail for the Tenth District Republican Congressional nomination at the Tuesday primary.

"The Tenth Congressional District should send a Republican to Washington who, because of his Republicanism and because of his service to the party, will command the confidence and co-operation of the majority leaders in the House of Representatives and of the national administration," said Mr. Warren.

"I firmly believe Joe Crail to be such a man.

"There are many matters of vital importance to Los Angeles and the entire Southwest before Congress at the present time, particularly Boulder Dam, Federal reapportionment, forest conservation and harbor development legislation.

"Mr. Crail has full knowledge of the needs of this section of the nation with respect to those matters and will, through this knowledge, his long experience in public affairs and his standing as a tried and true Republican, be able to render invaluable aid in bringing about results beneficial to the Tenth District and the State of California."

The many friends of Mark A. Pierce have organized the Seventy-fifth Assembly District Republican Club of which G. D. Hutchison, is chairman; John G. Mott, vice-chairman; Mrs. H. V. Davis, secretary, and Gene Murphy, treasurer.

The committee is comprised of many of the prominent pioneers of Los Angeles and who through personal acquaintance with Mr. Pierce and his family feel that their district is indeed fortunate in being able to have a young man of his ability and standing willing to become a candidate for re-election to the Assembly.

Mr. Pierce's record speaks for itself. While in the Legislature during the last session he performed his duties thoroughly and conscientiously and his record proves that he was engaged on important committee work during the entire session.

Five more bar associations yesterday indorsed the candidacy of Judge Curtis, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court and candidate to succeed himself at the primaries. The locations of these bar associations are Imperial county, San Diego, Riverside, Orange county and San Bernardino county.

The enthusiasm shown in these indorsements and others that are continually coming into the Curtis headquarters indicate that the justice has the whole-hearted support not only of their organization but of many of the best-known civic, social and fraternal clubs in the Southland.

Attacking the commission form of government, which he characterized as being largely responsible for the expensive manner in which California is being administered, William D. Mitchell, candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, yesterday in an address before the City Club, charged that the Bank of Italy is backing the candidacy of one of his opponents, C. C. Young, and declared that "no one disputed that the bank controls Young and the present administration." These conditions, he explained, were possible because of the commission form of government. The candidate, who is former head of the Valley Bank of Fresno, recently filed suit for $1,000,000 damages against Gov. Richardson and State Superintendent of Banks Johnson, charging them with a conspiracy to libel him.

The work of Judge Sidney N. Reeve in the Juvenile courts won a number of friends for the local jurist and they are working ardently for his re-election to the Superior Court bench.

Judge Reeve has also presided over the psychopathic court, a criminal department, and is now handling matters in the probate department.

The candidacy of Judge P. E. Keeler of the Superior Court has been indorsed recently by the following civic bodies: Young Men's Republican Club of the Sixty-ninth Assembly District; Los Angeles Civic League; Los Angeles Municipal League; Sixty-fourth Assembly Republican Club and Twelfth District Civic League; also by the Harbor Civic League of San Pedro.

The campaign headquarters of Judge Langdon, who is a candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, yesterday received the indorsement of the Colored Non-partisan League of Los Angeles. The indorsement was signed by twenty-three ministers.

Francis D. Adams, attorney, has been made chairman of a flying squadron of speakers who are helping Superior Judge Burnell carry out the extensive campaign program planned for him this week, according to an announcement by A. J. Hill, chairman of Burnell's general campaign committee.

R. Lee Heath, W. P. Jeffries, Mrs. D. F. McGarry, Percy V. Hammon, Benjamin F. Bledsoe and Paul W. Schenck are the latest to send word to Judge Burnell that they are urging his re-election among their friends.

Attorney J. Wiseman Macdonald yesterday indorsed Superior Judge Crail's candidacy for election to the Superior Court.

Ruben S. Schmidt, candidate for Judge of the Superior Court, has been notified of the indorsement of his candidacy by the Civic Federation of Los Angeles county.

Mrs. Charles F. Gray, one of the leading club women and civic workers of the community, has officially indorsed the candidacy of Municipal Judge Edmonds for the Superior Court.

The Federation of American Patriotic Societies sent a notification to Representative Lineberger, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, to the effect that he had "received the unanimous indorsement of this organization."

The Better Government Association of Pasadena has indorsed Sam Browne's candidacy for Sheriff.

The Echo Park District Association yesterday announced their indorsement of John W. Luter for judge of the Superior Court and have offered their support.

Addition of the support of the First and Thirteenth District Republican clubs in the campaign to elect Dep. Dist.-Atty. H. S. G. McCartney to the Superior Court bench was announced at the candidate's headquarters yesterday.

Justus S. Wardell, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday for a tour of the Southland and plans to meet many prominent Democrats in and about Los Angeles between now and the close of the primary campaign. He will speak in Ontario and in Riverside.

An earnest indorsement of Wardell, signed by former Senator Phelan, has been sent out by Wardell workers.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS CHARMING

Masonic Feminine Order in KHJ Concert Delights Audience With Artistry of Program

What is lovelier than a group of young girls between the ages of, say, 12 and 18, charmingly gowned in snowy Greek robes, all filled with enthusiasm and with their cheeks glowing? Such was the coterie of Job's Daughters who gathered in the studio last night to entertain their friends. Perhaps all do not know that Job's Daughters is a Masonic order for young girls corresponding to that of De Molay for the boys.

The program last evening was given by gifted members of the different Southern California, "Bethels," as they are called, and was under the direct supervision of Mrs. Jennie Boswell Thomas, grand guardian of Job's Daughters for California.

DAUGHTERS OF MELODY

There were vocal, violin and whistling solos and readings given during the evening, and marked talent was evidenced. The violin numbers by Pauline Thompson, who was accompanied by Mrs. Simonette, were well done, indicating careful training, particularly in Samuel Gardner's "From the Canebrake."

Readings of both serious and humorous type were given by Dorothy Lyons, who gave much pleasure to the studio listeners, which is a good barometer, as it were, for the great unseen audience. Gertrude Tyson gave several whistling solos which included Massenet's "Elegie" and "By the Waters of Minnetonka," by Lieurrance, the beautiful bird-like quality being admirably suited to broadcast. Francis Kulp, vocalist, and Marion Astholn, pianist, completed the charming hour.

Mammy Lou of KHJ gave another of her dialect sermons, full of homely philosophy and good humor. Some fine numbers were played by the Piggly Wiggly Girls, who gave their customary enjoyable performance. Raff's "Rigadoon" and Gade's "Country Dance" were particularly good. The saxophone selections given by Kathryne Thompson were lovely. Miss Thompson draws a beautifully warm, mellow tone from her chosen instrument and is looked upon as one of the foremost artists in her field.

CHILDREN'S HOUR

In the children's hour Dick Winslow repeated in his own charming way the news of the week, also reviewing a Bowl concert. Robert J. Levyn, a pianist of 10 years, showed great promise in his work, giving Dennee's "Pastorelle" and an arrangement of the "Elegie" of Massenet in creditable fashion. A saxophone pupil of Kathryne Thompson is June Shelley, a credit to her instructor. Adorable little Patricia Eccleston, "Little Daffodil," charms every one with whom she comes in contact. The three Shelley children—William, June and Clara, 11, 13, and 8 years of age, respectively, played trios on their instruments, the mandolin, guitar and ukulele, in quite remarkable manner. They are an interesting little family, playing not only the instruments mentioned, but violin, saxophone and piano. Glenn Fitz and Lola Jane Campbell did their lovely bit to make the hour a delightful one.

The Scripture reading was given by P. V. Roberts, treasurer of the missionary-education movement, this being followed by the weekly lecture by our astronomer, Dr. Mars Baumgardt.

FOR GARDEN LOVERS

Fred C. McNabb, vice-president of the Aggeler & Musser Seed Company, in his afternoon talk to his vast audience said that now is the time for planting sweet peas for midwinter blooming, and emphasized strongly the fact that it is necessary that the row in which the seeds are planted should be shaded in some manner to keep the soil cool, otherwise the seed may mold, preventing germination.

A splendid noon program was offered by the Los Angeles Railway Orchestra with the assistance of George O'Hara, who rushed to the studio with his make-up on to sing a few songs before appearing at the Metropolitan Theater, where he is signed for a lengthy engagement.

The dance program at the close of the day was given by Jerry Grant and his live-wire bunch.

Two of the busiest men in connection with the fourth annual National Radio Exposition yesterday were shown to be Waldo T. Tupper, managing director, and J. A. Hartley, general chairman of the exposition committee appointed by the Radio Trades Association of Los Angeles.

Appointment of these individuals was declared by association members and other committeemen to insure success for the show, which will be held September 6 to 11 in the Ambassador Auditorium.

It is Mr. Hartley's duty to rule upon financial matters, to preside at meetings and to issue final decisions upon all questions pertaining to the show which may be referred to him.

Virtually all features with which the public comes in contact are settled by Mr. Tupper. Classed as a nationally known exposition expert, he has originated numerous novelties which are expected to set the Los Angeles radio show in advance of other expositions held in the United States this year.

Arrangements are being made for the largest attendance ever given a radio show west of Chicago. Tupper forecasts that arrivals may be expected from all of Southern California and from at least three near-by States.

TELEGRAM FIGURES IN COURT-ROW

Message Declared Sent to Wife by "Bunny" Shown During Divorce Trial

A telegram signed Bunny and asserted to have been sent Mrs. Leota Crider Lakenan by G. E. Munger of San Francisco last April, yesterday featured the trial in Judge Wood's court of the contested divorce suit between Robert F. Lakenan, motion-picture gag man and son of a Kansas City millionaire, and Mrs. Lakenan. Munger was named co-respondent by Lakenan.

The telegram, which was introduced into evidence by Attorney Newton Kendall of counsel for Lakenan, read:

"Mrs. Lakenan and gang: Your phone message doubly gratifying to me. Sincerely regret not with you all but rest assured my thoughts are. Will live in anticipation your visit here next month. The trap will be set for plenty of speed but not much style."

Lakenan charged his wife was unduly familiar with Munger and alleged she visited Munger in San Francisco on several occasions.

Another telegram, said to have been sent by Mrs. Lakenan while she was spending New Year's Eve in San Francisco, to her husband in Los Angeles, read:

"Just thinking of you, dearie. Trying to have a little fun, but wishing all the time it was you. If you do care just a little send me a wire and it will make me very happy. I love you dearest. always."

Lakenan was said to have sent the following reply:

"Sweet of you to remember me on New Year's Eve. Nancy's daddy, Bob."

In the reply Lakenan referred to his daughter, Nancy Lorraine Lakenan, 4 years of age, who has been the subject of a bitter contest between the couple on the matter of her custody.

Trial of the case will be resumed this morning.

INVENTOR FACES JAIL AS ALIMONY SLACKER

Virgil C. Crites, an inventor of 1014 Crescent Heights Boulevard, was ordered yesterday by Municipal Judge Rosenkrans to file $750 bond to guarantee he will pay his wife and child $25 a week or go to jail for thirty days. Mrs. Crites asserted he had given her only $90 in five months, and that she and her daughter, Caroline, 3 years of age, frequently did not have enough to eat. Judge Rosenkrans lectured Crites severely in imposing sentence.

"Be it ever so humble—"

there's no place like home." But in Southern California even the modest home reflects higher living standards. Architecture, climate, flora—all these combine to make home ownership in Los Angeles and vicinity supremely worth while. Notice the charming homes placed on the market from day to day—often at prices below actual value. The terms, too, are most accommodating. All the interesting home offerings appear (many of them exclusively) in the "Real Estate" columns of Times Want Ads.

CRYER'S AID FOR DUNN ATTACKED

Ranlall Scores "Spanking" for All Works Board

Shaw Demands Acceded to as Pre-election Gesture

Bid for Removal of "Drain" Commissioner Blocked

While the Board of Public Works "out of deference to the request of the Mayor" yesterday was taking action placing the inspector of public works under the authority of the City Engineer, Mayor Cryer was being attacked at the session of the City Council by Councilman Randall for "besmirching the entire Board of Public Works in an attempt to protect the one member of that board responsible for the West Adams storm-drain 'extras' and for favoritism and inefficiency." Councilman Randall concluded his speech with a demand that the Mayor remove that one commissioner. He was not named yesterday by Councilman Randall, but the Councilman has said several times that he would ask and then later did ask the Mayor to remove Public Works Commissioner Dunn.

The board's action yesterday in unanimously adopting the recommendation of City Engineer Shaw that the inspector of public works be placed under the authority of the City Engineer was the direct result of the Mayor's conference with the board members on Tuesday, at which time he said he favored this change. So it was Commissioner Dunn who moved at yesterday's board meeting that the engineer's report be adopted, "out of deference to the request of th Mayor."

McGUIRE VICTORY

Commissioners Dunn and Horn previously had opposed this change, but both voted for it yesterday. This indicated the Mayor has let these commissioners know the political fortunes of the "administration" are at stake and that the board should act at once as the Mayor dictated so as to make a gesture of being interested in the property-owner's welfare, at least on the eve of next Tuesday's election, at which the "administration" is seeking to obtain a victory for C. C. Young and for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

The board's action is a great victory for President McGuire, who refused to approve of the West Adams storm-drain "extras" and for City Engineer Shaw who, until the board's action yesterday, had no control over construction of public improvements including any changes of plans or "extras," these being under the supervision of the inspector of public works, who reported directly to the board.

Councilman Randall's speech was occasioned by the Mayor's statement made on Tuesday following the Mayor's conference with the five commissioners in which the Mayor said he told each and all of them that they must work together in harmony "or he would get a board that would work together."

Of this statement by the Mayor, Councilman Randall said to the Council yesterday:

"The Mayor, in his statement, attempted to besmirch the character of the entire board in order to protect the one member of the board responsible for the West Adams trouble. And in doing this, the Mayor included in his attack President McGuire, whom the Mayor recently reappointed to the board.

ACTION BLOCKED

"There is only one member of the board guilty in this matter, and the people demand that the guilty be punished. It is unjust and unfair that the Mayor should involve others in this matter. The Mayor should punish the man who is responsible. This Council should go on record now as approving the removal of the official who is accountable."

Councilman Randall then presented a resolution by which, if adopted, the Council would have gone on record recommending to the Mayor that he remove one public-works commissioner. Though not mentioned by name in the resolution, the Council knew that the resolution referred to Public Works Commissioner Dunn.

The introduction of the Randall resolution resulted in an expected storm of protests from the "administration" Councilmen who are taking the "administration" orders to smother all City Hall troubles until after next Tuesday's election. Councilman Hall, who always rises to the defense of the Parrot-Kinney-Cryer "administration," said his usual piece, and finally fired up the old steam roller and forced an adjournment of the Council before action could be taken on the Randall resolution.

FIVE MILLIONS ASKED BY PROPERTY OWNERS

Property owners in the section through which the grade of Seventh street is to be lowered from Figueroa to Bixel street so as to eliminate the Seventh street hill, yesterday filed claims for damages with the Board of Public Works totaling $5,000,000. The board listened to the reading of the claims and set September 22, for further hearing on the matter. The district adjacent to the improvement is to be assessed to pay the costs of the improvement.

AUTO KILLS WOMAN AT LONG BEACH

Man Pedestrian Also Struck Down in Street Seriously Injured

"Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Aug. 25.—One woman was killed and a man sustained injuries that may cause his death in two traffic accidents here tonight. In each instance the victim was a pedestrian struck by an automobile.

Mrs. Nancy Serven, 55 years of age, a real estate saleswoman living at the Metropole Hotel, 244 American avenue, is the dead woman. She was struck by a car operated by Mrs. C. G. Miller, wife of Lieut. C. G. Miller, at Third and American avenues. She died a few minutes after being admitted to the Seaside Hospital. He body was removed to the Comer & Co. mortuary.

Mrs. Miller, who was recovering from a recent nervous breakdown, according to police, fainted and became hysterical after being revived. She was taken to her home at the St. Regis Apartments, 1030 East Ocean Boulevard.

Her husband is with the fleet at San Francisco.

John A. Foster, 55, a tourist visiting friends at 1140 Orizaba avenue, was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital in a serious condition as a result of injuries sustained when struck by a car driven by R. A. Towell, 1065 Temple avenue, at Tenth and Stanley avenues. Hospital authorities said he had but little chance to recover. Towell was not held.

GIRL NAMED ASSISTANT PROSECUTOR

Youngest Woman Ever to Hold City Legal Office Given Position

Said to be the youngest woman who ever took public office in California, Miss Dena Jacobson of 870 Victoria avenue, yesterday was named a deputy City Prosecutor by City Prosecutor Friedlander. Miss Jacobson, who is 24 years of age, has been practicing three years, beginning her law career with the defense of Mike Miskich for murder. She got him off with a second-degree penalty.

Miss Jacobson takes the place of Mrs. Alice Magill in charge of the failure-to-provide department. Mrs. Magill, who resigned, will rest for six months and then enter private practice.

BERNICE DAY SAYS DARBY SHOULD AID

Declares Hubby Promised to Work for Her Release; Denies Reconciliation Aim

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25. (Exclusive)—"It's news to me," said Mrs. Bernice Day today in San Quentin prison, where she is serving a term for disfiguring the face of her husband, Darby Day, Jr., by throwing acid upon him in Los Angeles last year, when told that a dispatch from Chicago, where Day is living, stated that her husband was undergoing plastic surgery treatment to remove the disfiguring acid scar from his features, and that if successful he would come to California and seek her release through the State Prison Board.

"Of course, it's no more than he should do," she quickly added. "I had a talk with him a week before I was brought here and he told me he would do whatever he could to get me out of prison."

"In case you were released would a reconciliation with your husband follow or be sought by you?" she was asked.

"Absolutely no," she replied emphatically. "But I am still his wife and he should try to get me out of here. He wasn't the only one that was burned by the acid. See here," and she pointed to an acid burn scar two inches long near her left thumb and another not so large close to the index finger of the right hand. "I have another besides," she went on, pointing to the neck band of her dress. "Yes, I have suffered too."
